NATION WARNED OF FAMINE IN CANNED GOODS

New Deal Bungling on Food Blamed.

Move to Curb OPA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Members of the house agricultural committee said tonight they will carry directly to President Roosevelt tomorrow their fight to have Food Administrator Chester Davis given full powers over production, distribution, and price fixing of agricultural commodities. The farm bloc seeks to have the OPA stripped of all power over rationing and price fixing of food.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—Civilians will be forced to go without commercially canned fruits and vegetables next year unless the administration revises its policies, the Republican congressional committee investigating the food situation warned today.

Rep. G. W. Landis

The warning asserted that price ceilings and the Roosevelt wage freezing order have wrecked the labor supply of food processors and cautioned that unless the program is revised only enough fruits and vegetables will be canned this year to provide meager supplies for the fighting services.

The warning was made in a statement by Rep. Gerald W. Landis of Indiana, chairman of the subcommittee on fresh and processed fruits and vegetables of the Republican congressional food study committee.

[Canning plants closing thruout country as result of subsidy muddle, food institute reports. Details on page 22.]

Assails "Smart Boys."

"If the administration's smart boys would devote more time in attempting at least a partial solution of the grave food problem instead of trying to promote their own pet theories, such as grade labeling, there would be more food and less foolishness in America," Landis said.

"During the last few days representatives of the canning industry have had conferences in Washington for the purpose of stressing the seriousness of the situation confronting the industry and the public.

"Canners have been unable to obtain workers because of office of price administration price ceilings which will not permit the proper inducement in wages and because of the President's wage freezing order. To date they have received scant sympathy and consideration from the government agencies concerned.

Fears Crops Will Rot.

"The ultimate result will be that what vegetables and fruits they are able to can under present restrictions will hardly suffice for the armed services and lend-lease. The civilian population will be forced to do without, and much of the 1943 pack will rot in the fields for want of pickers.

"The hopes of the owners of approximately 21 million victory gardens, who would do their own canning, also fade before the great Washington burocracy."

New Deal "Humbug" Charged.

"Home grown vegetables and fruits, unless they are of the acid variety, cannot be canned safely without the use of pressure cookers. Recognizing this, the government authorized the manufacture of 270,000 of these cookers. So far this year, only 12,000 of that number have been manufactured. And so, many of the people have been humbugged again by the New Deal.

"To the Republicans in the house it is quite evident that unless congress immediately enacts the Jenkins bill, proposed by the Republican congressional food study groups after several months' extensive investigation into the food situation, the consumer is going to have to do much belt tightening next winter and the following summer."

The Jenkins bill, introduced by Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ohio, chairman of the food study committee, provides for transferring the food functions of the OPA to the department of agriculture.

U. S. to Extend Ban on Frills in Home Items

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—The American household came in for further regimentation today when the office of war information announced that during 1943 there will be fewer colors, sizes, styles, and ornamentations in 1,000 selected items, more than half of them home necessities.

The OWI called the elimination of frills and style variations a simplification and substitution process and said that products would be standardized whenever possible and substitutions made if substitute materials could replace so-called critical materials.

Variety to Be Limited.

"Plans are being made to maintain a supply of necessary equipment and no drastic eliminations are contemplated at this time," the OWI report said." But the simplification program laid down for 1943 covers a wider range of civilian goods than did last year's schedule.

"While it appears that the civilian will continue to have his basic needs fulfilled, there will be an increasing elimination of frills and style variations."

The report said that more than half of the articles picked for simplification will be household items, such as hot water heaters, bed sheets, brushes, facial tissue, silver plated flatware, towels, radio replacement parts, nails and screws, stationery, children's sportswear and rayon dresses, pie plates, auto jacks, wrapping paper, safety shoes, paper towels and napkins, screens, scissors, wheelbarrows, decorative pottery, and photographic equipment.

Quality Under Scrutiny.

The OWI said the quality of the simplified goods is being watched and that the office of price administration is setting ceiling prices on them that should protect buyers from paying more than the materials are worth. It said the American Standards association, the National Bureau of Standards, and the standards branch of the OPA are working to prevent reducing quality by substitutions.

TRIED AND TRUE METHOD FAILS IN NEW LOCALE

It being Saturday night and having two allied victories to drink to, John Trlak, 40 years old, 5625 South Hamilton avenue, didn't get home until 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

Cautiously we went up the back stairs. He sat down outside the door. He took off his shoes. Then his socks. And his shirt and trousers. And finally even his underwear.

The screen was hooked. Cautiously, he poked a hole in the mesh and unfastened the hook.

Congratulating himself on getting in unnoticed, he walked into the kitchen.

Bedlam broke loose. Mrs. Nicholas Dudiak, 5814 South Paulina street, screamed. Dudiak pounced on Trlak and threw him out the front door. To Policemen John Nash and James Ryan of the Chicago Lawn station, Trlak explained as he put on his clothes:

"I guess I got in the wrong house."

NEW DEAL RED TAPE BLAMED FOR SHORTAGE

Lay Black Markets to Bungling.

BY ARNOLD ERICKSON.

High bidding eastern cattle buyers, many of them suspected of black market connections, have siphoned off 123,000 head of beef cattle that should have been slaughtered in Chicago packing houses since Jan. 1, creating a beef shortage that is keeping Chicago packers from filling army and civilian demands for beef, it was disclosed yesterday.

The packers said that while cattle receipts here are down by 5,370 animals for the first five months of 1943, this reduction should cause no serious crisis in view of the volume. During the first five months of 1942 a total of 820,143 head of cattle were received in Chicago. During the corresponding period of 1943 receipts were 814,773 head.

But it is in shipments out of Chicago—most of them to New York and the east, altho the figures do include some stockers and feeders sent back to farms—that the beef shortage story is told.

Shipments Tell Story.

From January thru May, 1942, a total of 220,192 head of cattle were shipped east thru legitimate channels. During the same period this year, 343,151 head left the Chicago stock yards for the east, an increase of 122,959 animals, none of which went to army, navy, or lend-lease buyers.

Spokesmen for Chicago packers say that they are caught in the mesh of New Deal red tape, unable to prevent the illegitimate eastern purchase of animals because their products are held under price ceilings; bound by restrictions which Washington has set up to replace the natural economic law of supply and demand.

A spokesman for the American Meat institute declared yesterday that the army has not been getting the beef it needs "largely because supplies of cattle continue to be siphoned illegally from normal channels to illegal uses."

Blame New Deal Burocrats.

He said the institute approves the war food administration's latest order setting aside 45 per cent of steer and heifer beef production for the army and navy because it provides one means for helping the army to get the meat it needs.

It was pointed out by other sources that the WFA probably would not have to ask for 45 per cent of the nation's beef production for army uses if such a large proportion of Chicago supplies were not going to eastern black markets.

ONTARIO LEGISLATOR SAYS 40% IN CANADA FAVOR U. S. UNION

Detroit, Mich., June 13 [Special].—Maj. James H. Clark, speaker of the Ontario legislature, startled a radio audience tonight with an extemporaneous statement that 40 to 45 per cent of Canada's citizens would vote for union with the United States if an election were held at this time.

His remarks were made during a good will forum broadcast from a boat on which members of the Detroit Board of Commerce are making an annual cruise. The boat was at Mackinac Island and the program was broadcast from WJR here. Maj. Calrk and Sen. Millard E. Tydings [D., Md.], who also took part in the forum, are guests of the cruising business men.

The major's statement followed comment by other speakers on the good relations between Canada and the United States as exemplified by their undefended common border. "I'm not saying our people have any enmity toward England," Maj. Clark elaborated, "but many of them feel that the Canadian standard of living would go up 25 per cent overnight if we became politically united with the United States. A lot of people who express this opinion privately are afraid to do so publicly for business reasons."

Try Socrates on Poetry if He Drops In

If a small blue lovebird lands on your window ledge today and says, "This is a preposterous situation," ask him if he wants you to call Leslie Evan Schlytter, 5608 Ingleside avenue.

He will reply, "That is the proper procedure."

You might ask him his name. "Socrates," he will reply, adding for good measure, "Socrates is a philosopher." He may slip into his Norwegian dialect and also tell you that "Socrates is a pretty bird."

If he's feeling in the mood, he'll recite the Alice in Wonderland poem about "The time has come, the walrus said, to talk of many things, of shoes and ships and soo-soo and cabbages and kings."

He Has His Weakness.

Socrates will say soo-soo, instead of sealing wax because sealing wax is too much for him.

For the last two years Schlytter, bed-ridden novelist and philosopher, has been teaching Socrates to talk. He said Socrates' 150 word vocabulary is probably greater than that of any bird alive. Spurning phrases, the bird has learned entire sentences.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Schlytter went outdoors to plant some flowers. Socrates flew from the sleeping porch to the kitchen to meet her as she returned. Not knowing the bird was there, she opened the screen rapidly. The motion flustered the bird, and Socrates flew out and vanished.

Requires Special Diet.

Mrs. Schlytter said Socrates probably will land on some one's window sill. She hopes he will do that soon, because he can't live more than four days without his special diet.

So if Socrates comes in, asks you if your mama knows you smoke or requests you to turn on the radio, please, there's no use asking him why he chatters so much. He will just tell you:

"All this talking doesn't make sense."

If you see this bird please call Midway 2416.

ALLIES WINNING 'MOSQUITO WAR' IN SOUTH PACIFIC

ALLIED HDQ. IN AUSTRALIA, June 13 (AP).—The allied medical service is winning its war against the mosquito and malaria in the tropical war theater, a headquarters spokesman said today.

"The malarial sick rate among allied troops in tropical areas subject to mosquito infection, while originally high, is being rapidly reduced," he said in an interview.

BLOCKADE PREVENTED PANTELLERIA FROM GETTING ITS WATER

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The allies hastened the surrender of Pantelleria by shutting off the island's water supply.

In his note of surrender, the commander of the Italian garrison admitted that the allied sea and air blockade had left his forces, estimated at between 10,000 and 15,000 men, and the island's 8,000 inhabitants without water.

Water was shipped to the island in normal times. When the ships were sunk or chased back by allied air and naval forces, the Italians attempted to supply Pantelleria with emergency water rations by plane. This soon also failed.

How Cohen 'Captured' Lampedusa!

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, June 13 (AP).—That fellow named Cohen who "captured" Lampedusa Island from the Italians yesterday and has papers to prove it is Sergt. Sidney Cohen, 22 year old R. A. F. pilot, who still was a little bewildered by it all today.

Already named "King of Lampedusa" by his mates, Cohen told how the Italian garrison surrendered to him yesterday, hours before the formal capitulation to British landing forces.

With two mates, Sergt. Peter Cates, a Scotsman, and Sergt. Leslie Wright, he was flying a Swordfish plane on a sea rescue mission from Malta when the compass "had a fit of gremlins."

His gasoline was running low. Cohen began looking for land and spotted Lampedusa.

Italian Officers Approach.

He didn't know for sure that it was Lampedusa until he had sat his plane down on the torn airfield.

"Burned out aircraft were everywhere," he said. "There were big holes in the field, and in a moment I knew I was in a bit of a fix. We saw some people waving white sheets, and two Italian officers approaching.

"The leader of the deputation wore a Tyrolean hat with long plumed feathers, a leather jacket, khaki shorts, and high boots. He burst into Italian, and we discovered he wanted to surrender the island.

"In view of the accidental nature of my mission this was a bit of trouble. But I told him I would have to see the 'No. 1' man, and he took us to a high ranking naval officer.

All Dash from Room.

"Other officers and civilians entered the room and I was just about to receive the official surrender when 'swish' . . . everybody suddenly ran out of that room and left me alone.

"They must have thought another air raid was just beginning, but there was no sound of gunfire or bomb explosions at the moment, and I thought the nerves of my hosts must be getting a little ragged.

"But in a few moments I had a 'worm's eye view' of what was happening. About 12 Lightnings came over and hit the harbor. We fell flat.

"As soon as that was over my mates and I went out to our plane and began cranking her. Just then four fighter bombers zoomed over at zero feet and we dropped in our tracks again. But they saw the markings on our wing and swerved away.

"The next chapter was pattern bombing by the big boys. After that was over our Tyrolean friend reappeared and told us to get away at once.

Receives Official Surrender.

"We thought it a good idea, too, and the 'Eyeties' gave me a piece of paper signed by the commandant, guaranteeing the surrender and asking that we stop the bombardment.

"Those chaps were anxious that we deliver it to the proper authorities, and we promised that.

"Then we began cranking that Swordfish again, twisting the crank so hard we almost tore it off."

Cohen and his mates got their plane into the air and decided to try to reach Tunisia instead of returning to Malta. Their gas proved sufficient and they landed at an American base, where "the king of Lampedusa" triumphantly produced his now celebrated Italian certificate of surrender.

Yanks Fight 50 Zeros; Bag 25 in Solomons

Washington, D. C., June 13 (AP).—American flyers, battling 50 Japanese fighter planes in a rough and tumble dog fight over the Solomon Islands, sent at least 25, possibly 33, of the enemy hurtling into the sea Saturday.

Six United States planes were missing after the engagement over the Russell group in the Solomons, the navy reported today, but all but two of the American pilots were rescued.

At the same time the navy added two Mitsubishi bombers to the total of enemy planes shot down in the Solomons, boosting to 65 the number destroyed in the last week, and to more than 1,000 the total Japanese plane losses in the Solomons.

Mitsubishi Shot Down.

Army Liberator bombers accounted for the latest Mitsubishi to crash into the sea in flames. Two Liberators encountered a pair of the enemy bombers about 20 miles west of Buka Island. They struck swiftly, shooting down one enemy plane.

The other Mitsubishi was downed by fighters in an engagement over the north end of Malaita Island.

The other flyers, meanwhile, were hitting again from Flying Fortresses and Avenger torpedo bombers at Japanese positions on Bougainville Island. One flight during the night of June 10 struck the Buin area, starting fires in the Japanese buildings there.

Aerial action continued, too in the Aleutian Islands, where regular raids have been made on Kiska in an apparent softening up of that enemy base. Bombers struck five times there.

TIME CALLED JAPAN'S ALLY

Los Angeles, Cal., June 13 [Special].—Time is fighting on Japan's side in our Pacific war, Maj. Alexander P. De Seversky, airplane designer and vigorous proponent of air power, warned today during a radio forum discussion in which he appealed for the bombing of the heart of Japan.

As long as we fight a surface strategy, with weapons of land and sea, time will be Japan's ally, he asserted, but will shift to our side as soon as we decide to build bombers with sufficient range to carry

26 AMERICAN BOMBERS LOST; BIGGEST BATTLE

British Ruhr Raid Costs 24.

LONDON, June 13 (AP).—Two large formations of American heavy bombers smashed down many German fighters and blasted the Nazi U-boat bases at Bremen and Kiel today in the greatest air battle ever waged by the 8th United States air force.

Lt. William P. Wren, who shot down a Nazi plane.

The two sky fleets flew unescorted to the heavily defended north German bases for the double barreled daylight attack. The cost was 26 bombers, the most severe loss ever suffered by the 8th air force in a single day.

[German planes dropped hundreds of incendiaries early today on a northeast British coast town, setting fire to a school and some homes, but no casualties were reported. London underwent a brief alert shortly after midnight. Gunfire was heard, but there was no report of planes reaching the metropolitan area.]

"The attack occasioned the greatest air battle in which 8th air force heavy bombers have yet participated and against the largest concentration of enemy fighters," said the United States communique.

Ground Fire Is Heavy.

Bremen and Kiel, which account for a considerable percentage of Nazi U-boat production and servicing, "were bombed effectively and many enemy fighters were destroyed," the bulletin said.

The largest loss ever suffered before by American heavy bombers in a single day was the 16 downed the last previous attack on Bremen, April 17.

While deploring the heavy loss of men and equipment, Brig. Gen. Frederick L. Anderson, commander of a Flying Fortress wing, said the "price was not too high for the results achieved."

"Not only did we hit important submarine installations at Kiel, but we also drew off practically all enemy aircraft in the area so that the other formation was able to do a splendid job at Bremen with little opposition."

R. A. F. Raids Bochum.

The United States communique said "very strong enemy fighter opposition was concentrated largely against the formation attacking Kiel."

Pilots participating in the Bremen attack said enemy ground fire was "so thick you could almost walk on it," but the fighter opposition there was light.

The assault increased the momentum of the aerial offensive against Hitler's war plants, following by only a few hours a heavy night attack by R. A. F. heavyweights on Bochum and other key points in the Ruhr valley. The raid cost the R. A. F. 24 bombers, but the Germans conceded it caused heavy damage.

Low Countries Hit.

P-47 Thunderbolts of the 8th United States air force destroyed three enemy planes during a forenoon sweep over the European coast today and other American fighters downed two more during the afternoon.

An air ministry communique said the R. A. F. carried out "large scale offensive operations" over northern France and the low countries today. Mitchells bombed targets at Flushing in Holland and Bostons attacked objectives at Lille in France while Typhoon bombers battered the air field at Abbeville.

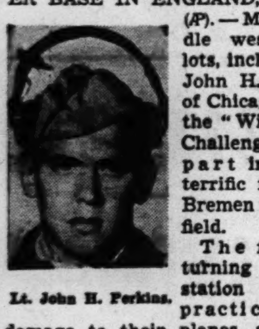
Col. Hubert Zempke of Tampa, Fla., a former amateur boxing champion, was officially credited with two of three Focke-Wulfs shot down by American fighters today. The third kill was scored by Lt. Robert F. Johnson of Lawton, Okla.

In an afternoon dog fight over Liege in Belgium, two more Nazi planes were downed by Lt. William P. Wren of Chicago and Lt. William T. Hegman of Holly Bluff, Miss. Two United States planes were lost.

CHICAGOAN LATE RETURNING FROM RAID—OUT OF GAS

But It Took Him to Bremen and Back.

AT A UNITED STATES BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, June 13 (AP). — Many middle western pilots, including Lt. John H. Perkins of Chicago, flying the "Windy City Challenger," took part in today's terrific raid on Bremen from this field.



Lt. John H. Perkins.

The flyers returning to the station reported practically no damage to their planes, altho Lt. Perkins gave the base a bad hour when he failed to come in with the rest of the group.

"I was just forced down up here a ways," said Perkins. "No gas."

Sergt. Karl Evans of Sterling, Ill., waist gunner of the "Goodtime Charlie," said: "We bombed the hell out of something at Kiel. It looked like the spot we wanted to hit. I saw at least six enemy fighters go down."

Flak Like Brick Wall.

"It was the loveliest day I ever saw," said 1st Lt. Lloyd F. Fields of Hahira, Ga. "I only saw one fighter, but the flak was like a brick wall."

All the Flying Fortresses from this base returned, altho the "Virgin," piloted by 1st Lt. David A. Tyler of Hartford, Conn., came in an hour late after a narrow escape with a broken oil line.

The line broke just as the Fortress was turning away from the target. Tyler dropped out of formation. A German fighter attempted to take advantage of the crippled plane, but Staff Sergt. Robert Van Rees of Oskaloosa, Ia., fired on the enemy plane and apparently damaged it. It dropped away.

For Staff Sergt. James L. Frazier of Tuscaloosa, Ala., tail gunner of "Flapper," it was the longest hour he ever spent over enemy territory. It was his 13th raid and it came on June 13.

"I saw about five German fighters and plenty of flak and both were functioning very well," he said.

First Lt. Dale L. Shaffer of Decatur, Ill., pilot of "Sunrise Serenader," came back with a wide smile.

Iowan Is Aboard.

"It's a happy day for me," he said. "I got three of my original boys thru their 25th mission. They rode their first and last ones with me and this one was tough. That flak was so thick you could have got out and walked around on the stuff—but it didn't do so much damage."

The three men were Staff Sergt. William F. Clendening of Fort Madison, Ia.; Technical Sergt. T. M. Lawler of Boston, and Staff Sergt. Charles Woodward.

Several other crewmen also completed their 25th missions, including Capt. Don F. Cunningham of Little Falls, Minn., pilot of "Wham Bam," who remarked:

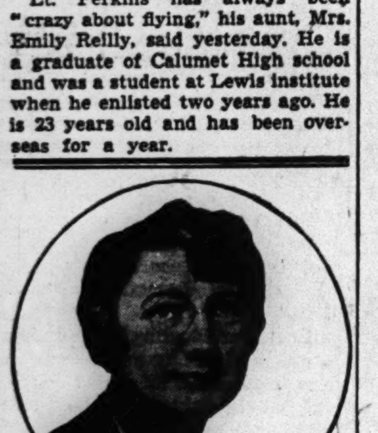
PERKINS IN MANY RAIDS.

Lt. John H. Perkins, only son of John H. Perkins Sr., 7644 South Sangamon street, has been a frequent participant in Flying Fortress raids on European targets. As a copilot and later as a pilot of the big bombers, he has participated in the major raids on German held railroad yards and submarine bases in northern France.

Lt. Perkins has always been "crazy about flying," his aunt, Mrs. Emily Reilly, said yesterday. He is a graduate of Calumet High school and was a student at Lewis institute when he enlisted two years ago. He is 23 years old and has been overseas for a year.



While he's giving his best . . . .

WAVES RECRUIT SHOW TICKETS OFFERED TO 500

Five hundred free tickets to the WAVES recruiting show to be given Wednesday night in the Civic Opera house will be available today at THE TRIBUNE's loop public service office at Madison and Dearborn streets. They will be given to the first 500 women applying for them.

The program is being sponsored by the WAVES citizen's committee to increase enlistments in the WAVES and the SPARS, women's auxiliary branches of the navy and the coast guard.

Invitations have been sent by the committee to the parents of the 4,000 young women who have entered the two branches from the Chicago area, and also to all other women who have applied at recruiting offices for information concerning the services. "Crash Dive," starring Tyrone Power, will be shown in preview, and the entertainment will also include two navy bands and many former professional stars now stationed at the Great Lakes training station.

CITY PROMISED ANOTHER WARM AND HUMID DAY

Another warm and humid day is in store for Chicago today, the weather bureau announced, with temperatures somewhat higher than yesterday's official maximum of 82 degrees. The bureau also predicted a thunderstorm this afternoon with fresh winds.

The mercury dropped yesterday from a week-end high of 92.2 degrees which made Saturday the hottest day of 1943.. A low lying fog yesterday covered the shore of Lake Michigan, shrouding bathing beaches, streets, and buildings over a strip one or two blocks back from the water line.

Weather forecasters said that the fog was caused by high humidity following a hot day such as Saturday and was a common early summer occurrence.

Temperatures near the lake were lower than in areas farther west.

Stay on Job, He Urges Workers of World.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Pope Pius XII. appealed yesterday for discipline and faith among the world's workmen, and at the same time denounced "propaganda of anti-religious inspiration" which claims "that the pope supports the war and supplies money for its continuance, that the pope does nothing for peace."

"Never, perhaps, was there launched a calumny more monstrous or absurd than this," the pope asserted. No one else, he said, so insistently opposed the outbreak, advance, and spread of the war, or pleaded more for peace. The truth, when revealed, will support this statement, he asserted.

20,000 Hear Address.

The pope spoke to approximately 20,000 Italian workers, one of the largest audiences in Vatican history. They went to the Vatican on a pilgrimage as an homage of labor, in one of the concluding manifestations of the pope's jubilee year.

Pope Pius exhorted the world's workers not to "aggravate the burden of extraordinary difficulties under which the peoples are groaning by representing their claims in this hour of universal and imperious needs in a noisy manner and thru inconsiderate action. . . . Working men and women conscious of their great responsibility for the common good continue their work and persevere in it with discipline, and calm, thus contributing invaluable support to the tranquility and support of all in the social family."

Turning to the war, Pope Pius said:

Church Helps Needy.

"The sums of money which the charity of the faithful put at our disposal are not set apart for, nor do they go to sustain the war, but to dry the tears of the widows and orphans, to console families anxious and sorrowing for their dear ones far away or missing, to succor the suffering of the poor and needy. . . . The church does not fear the light of truth. . . . When the circumstances . . . will permit or call for the publication of documents not yet published concerning the constant activity pursued during this terrible war in favor of peace by the Holy See . . . there will appear in more than mid-day light the stupidity of such accusations."

[On May 25 the Nazi controlled Paris radio broadcast a talk accusing the Catholic church of "a crushing responsibility in unleashing the present war." The speaker, a Dr. Friedrich, charged the Vatican with hostility to Adolf Hitler since 1933 and encouraging German Catholics in an open fight against the Nazis. "Thus the war was declared," he said. "A sly warfare on the part of Rome and an unshakable firmness of purpose on the part of Germany." A Vatican broadcast two days later denounced the Paris talk as "propaganda."]

The official English translation of the address, titled "The Church and Labor," was radioed to the United States from the Vatican.

Social Security Needed.

In speaking of labor, Pope Pius again proclaimed "as fundamental prerequisites of social concord" adequate salaries to care for workers and their families, and provide for worthy dwellings, education, and old age.

"These conditions of social security should be realized," he said, "if we want society not to be shaken at every season by turbulent ferments and dangerous uprisings, but to become tranquil and go forward in harmony, peace, and love."

He warned against "false prophets of social prosperity" who disagree with mutual agreements between capital and labor and who "call evil good and good evil."

Revolt Enslaves Workers.

"Such false prophets would have us believe that salvation must come from a revolution which shall overturn social order and assume a national character," he said.

"The social revolution claims to raise the working class to power: an empty word and a mere show incapable of realization. In fact, you see that the working class remains bound, yoked, and tied to the force of state capitalism, which transforms the workers into a gigantic labor machine.

"Salvation and justice are not to be found in revolution, but in an evolution thru concord. . . . We need a spirit of true concord and brotherhood animating all: superiors and subjects, employers and workers, great and small; in a word, in all classes of the people."

LONDON DISCREDITS REPORT OF NAVAL MUTINIES IN ITALY

LONDON, June 13 (AP).—One London newspaper published a report today that extensive mutinies had broken out in the Italian navy, but the dispatch was described in allied naval circles as "pure rubbish." The report said hundreds of officers and men had been massacred in outbreaks among Mussolini's seamen.

One foreign source with underground contacts with the axis said no hint of such outbreaks had reached him, altho there was a possibility that German insistence that the Italians engage the British fleet might cause defiance by the Italian naval staff.

He said the naval staff believed the Italian navy should be retained as a bargaining point in negotiations rather than sacrificed in a desperate attempt to delay an allied invasion.

Four Quakes in Sea Off Japan's Coast Recorded

St. Louis, Mo., June 13 (AP).—Four earthquakes off the coast of Japan, one of which Seismologist Florence Robertson declared would have caused "tremendous damage" on land, were recorded today on the St. Louis university seismograph.

Miss Robertson estimated the quakes occurred about 6,000 miles from St. Louis on a direct line with Sendai, north of Tokio.

THRONGS BOW IN TRIBUTE AT FLAG DAY RITES

Two large gatherings will be held today. Elks lodge, No. 4, will sponsor an observance in the Congress street plaza on Michigan boulevard at 3 p. m. at which Col. Paul Armstrong, state selective service director, will speak. A rally under civilian defense sponsorship will be held in Sheridan park at 2:15 p. m.

Flag day has been observed annually since 1777. Civilian defense workers have urged all householders display flags. A novel flag will be flown at the home of Dr. Charles T. Murphy. In his family since 1885, it has only 38 stars.

All parents of navy men have been invited to attend the Flag day ceremonies tomorrow in the Lake Shore field house, Lake Shore drive and Chicago avenue, sponsored by the Navy Fathers and Sons.

All American Legion posts of Du Page county have been invited to present their colors at the Hinsdale Flag day celebration ceremonies being held tonight at Hinsdale Memorial square. This year the ceremony will honor parents whose sons and daughters now are in service.

EDITORIAL DEMANDS LONDON GET RID OF VICE IN PICCADILLY

LONDON, June 13 (AP).—The Sunday Times demanded editorially today that police clear London's Piccadilly area of street walkers. The demand was made after a series of articles reporting an increased venereal disease rate among American troops in England was printed in the Stars and Stripes, United States army newspaper.

"We have received complaints of the flaunting of vice in that part of London," the Sunday Times said. "It is not to be tolerated. The least we demand is that the central streets be cleared of the offense of soliciting.

"The women concerned presumably are registered. They ought to be engaged in useful work. Why should theirs be treated as a reserved occupation? . . . While compulsory powers are used against women already usefully employed, these unfortunates of the street should not be left to spread a plague. If their life makes them unsuited for ordinary work, they ought to be provided with some form of employment suited to them."

THIRD ITALIAN ISLAND GIVES UP WITHOUT A SHOT

ALLIED HDQ. IN NORTH AFRICA, June 13 (AP).—Italy lost her third island outpost in the central Mediterranean in three days when a British destroyer accepted the bloodless surrender of Linosa today. Meanwhile fleets of American bombers and fighters began switching their knockout punch to Sicily.

Without a shell being fired or a bomb dropped, the garrison of 140 Italian soldiers and sailors raised white flags on the little speck of land that is Linosa, 105 miles south of Sicily, and from the bridge of the destroyer Nuban, Comdr. J. R. J. Tyrwhitt accepted the enemy capitulation.

The garrison, grateful for having been spared the ordeal of bombs and shells such as produced the surrender of Pantelleria on Friday and the lightning fall of Lampedusa 24 hours later, was immediately taken off and transported to allied prison camps. The island is 28 miles northeast of Lampedusa.

Island Lacks Harbors.

The tiny island, only about two miles across in either direction, has no harbors capable of sheltering anything larger than a motor torpedo boat and is believed to be without air fields or important military installations. Its normal population of about 500 is mostly engaged in raising cattle.

[A fourth island, Lampione, eight miles west of Lampedusa, was not mentioned. It is one of the Pelagie group, to which Linosa and Lampedusa belonged. It is even smaller than the other two, however, and may not even be inhabited now.]

Even while allied bombers were dropping explosives on Lampedusa's defenses and British destroyers and cruisers circled the island, American Flying Fortresses, Marauders, Lightnings, and Warhawks began their assault on Sicily yesterday.

Blast Air Fields.

As in the opening attacks on Pantelleria, they turned their attention first to the enemy's air fields. Allied headquarters said "large numbers" of the nearly 150 planes on the ground at Milo, Castelvetrano and Bocca di Falco were riddled by fragmentation bombs.

Malta's fighter bombers also raided Marzamimi, in southeastern Sicily, where they attacked a small vessel with cannon fire, and Comiso, Sicily, where they hit road transport.

Not an allied aircraft was lost yesterday, either in the Sicilian assaults or in the blows that brought the surrender of Lampedusa and its military, naval, and marine personnel numbering from 4,000 to 5,000.

Fights Off Dive Bombers.

Dispatches from Lampedusa told how 120 men from British landing craft took over Lampedusa and how 25 Nazi dive bombers attacked the destroyer Lookout as it rode off shore. The Lookout's officers had effected the surrender.

The Lookout fought off the attack alone, the other cruisers and destroyers having sailed away on other missions. Every gun on the ship was firing as the bombers drove in from all angles to drop their bombs and gun the decks. The only damage the attackers inflicted was to crockery and woodwork.

It took only two minutes for the Italian garrison on the island to agree to unconditional surrender after it had been bombed and shelled for a night and day.

Admit Loss of Lampedusa.

The Italian communique, received here in a broadcast, acknowledged that Lampedusa, "hammered by continuous bombardments, was forced to cease all resistance in the face of overwhelming odds." The broadcast did not mention Linosa, but the Berlin radio reported the allied announcement of its fall.

The Italians also declared that torpedo planes had raided allied convoys off the coast of Cirenaica and Philippeville, Algeria, hitting five ships. This claim was not confirmed by allied sources.

The allied communique disclosed that enemy naval craft put in their first appearance Friday night, attacking with torpedoes while light British coastal forces were patrolling the Sicilian straits to cover the transfer of captured Italians from Pantelleria to Africa. The enemy forces fled, however, when the British patrols moved in. The communique said that 2,800 of the more than 10,000 prisoners had been moved to Africa.

TEN MEN KILLED AS TWO PLANES CRASH IN MIDAIR

Howard, S. D., June 13 (AP).—Ten men were killed and eight injured when two airplanes collided near here this afternoon. One man is unaccounted for. The 10 who were killed were all passengers in one plane, while the ten who were in the other are all believed alive. One baled out, while the pilot was uninjured.

The story of the crash was told to Miss Ella Esser, Howard telephone operator, by the pilot who brought his plane to the ground safely. Eight of his passengers were taken to a hospital at Mitchell.

Five Die in Bomber Crash.

Salinas, Cal., June 13 (AP).—Four officers and one enlisted man were killed in the crash of a four engined bomber last night, the Salinas army air base, home field for the plane, announced today. Three other enlisted men were injured. The plane was making a forced landing, because of engine trouble, when the accident occurred. The injured, who were taken to a Fort Ord hospital and who are expected to recover, include: Sergt. Leroy L. Klug of Reeseville, Wis.

Two Pilots Killed.

New York, June 13 (AP).—Two pilots were killed when their fighter planes, on a routine mission, crashed into a swamp yesterday near West Point, Va., the base commander at Langley Field, Va., announced today. A board of officers has been appointed to determine the cause of the accident.

1,600 ILLINOIS PLANTS MAKING WAR MATERIAL

More than 1,600 Illinois industrial plants employing 1,250,000 men and women are manufacturing materials for war, Gov. Dwight H. Green told several thousand employés and guests of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company yesterday at the launching of the fourth submarine patrol craft completed by the company in the last six weeks.

Mrs. A. H. Dowd.

Conversion of inland factories for production of small vessels for the navy is proof of the native ingenuity of Americans and of the fact that the people of Illinois are natural born sailors, Gov. Green said.

The vessel was sponsored by Mrs. Aloha Hines Dowd, wife of Capt. Wallace R. Dowd, supervisor of shipbuilding in the Chicago area, and whose two sons also are in the navy. C. A. Liddle, Pullman-Standard president, and Comdr. Paul S. Goen of the navy, spoke. Lt. Comdr. Philip Nicholas, Navy pier chaplain, gave the invocation.

Canadian Communists to Establish Political Party

TORONTO, ONT., June 13 [(AP)].—A conference of Communist representatives from different parts of Canada today unanimously endorsed a proposal by Tim Buck, Dominion Communist leader, that a national constituent convention be held here Aug. 21-22 to establish a political party. It was announced that the dominion initiative committee had been set up to make preparations for the convention. Buck declared, "Dissolution of the Comintern has removed the last obstacle to the establishment of such a party."

CHINESE LEADER DEMANDS RUSSIA FIGHT JAPAN, TOO

Recover Burma at Once, He Insists.

CHUNGKING, China, June 13 (AP).—A demand that Russia declare war against Japan and open a second front in Asia was made today in a Chungking newspaper by Chow Lu, member of China's supreme ruling body, the standing committee of the central executive committee of Kuomintang.

Chow Lu, who also is state councillor, suggested three others measures against Japan:

Intensification of the American offensive in the North Pacific, large scale supplies to China, and launching of immediate operations for recovery of Burma.

The veteran statesman, a graduate of Waseda university in Japan, said a second front in Asia by Russia would "be the most effective way of defeating Japan."

Warns of Jap Betrayal.

"We are looking forward," he said, "to Russia's taking a more resolute step than the dissolution of the comintern—a declaration of war against Japan which would make the grand united front of the allies complete."

Japan, he emphasized, is ready to betray Russia as she betrayed the United States.

Chow Lu argued that Russia hardly would be justified in refusing to declare war against Japan if Britain and America were able to assure her of large naval, land, and air forces "so that Russian territory would stand absolutely no chance of being invaded."

Conference Disappointing.

He said, "We are not satisfied with the terse statement issued after the Anglo-American conference in Washington"—that complete agreement on future operations in all war theaters had been reached—"for it lacks the unequivocal declaration that importance will be attached simultaneously to the European and Asiatic front."

Assurance of the final triumph of the allies was the keynote of messages sent today by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill, and Premier Stalin on the eve of United Nations day, the United States Flag day that was adopted last year for world-wide observance.

EXPECT WLB'S RULING ON COAL PAY THIS WEEK

Washington, D. C., June 13 (AP).—The war labor board renews tomorrow its consideration of the portal-to-portal pay issue involving the nation's soft coal miners—crux of a prolonged wage controversy—with indications tonight pointing to a decision by midweek.

On the board's ruling—and the speed with which President Roosevelt acts upon the new anti-strike measure outlawing walkouts in the government-operated mines—may hinge the possibility of another shutdown in the coal fields after the expiration of a truce Saturday midnight.

Informed sources expect the board either to toss out the underground pay issue on the contention that it is a matter for the courts, or to modify sharply the $1.30 a day portal-to-portal pay agreement which John L. Lewis, chief of the United Mine Workers, has made with the central Pennsylvania coal producers. Public members of the board are represented as believing that $1.30 a day increase cannot be justified under the stabilization program.

British Plan Empire Parley on Civil Aviation

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 13.—A British empire conference on civil aviation is expected shortly as the result of preliminary consultations between Britain and the dominions. Recently when this question was discussed in the house of commons, an imperial policy was called an essential preliminary to discussions with other powers, including the United States.

CHINESE STORM THRU DEAD JAPS AND TAKE PORT

CHUNGKING, China, June 13 (AP).—Chinese troops stormed thru streets strewn with Japanese corpses Friday to capture the Yangtze port of Sungtze, down river from the advanced enemy base at Ichang, the Chinese high command said tonight. Sungtze lies between Ichang and Shasi. Before it fell other Japanese points were captured.

The Chinese also reported further successes in their drive against the Japanese northwest of Hankow and above the Yangtze river. The communique said they entered one town after killing a large number of Japanese troops and raided another, inflicting heavy casualties and destroying all communications. They broke into a third town and "all enemy troops were annihilated except six who were taken prisoners," the communique added.

A total of 14,290 Japanese troops were killed and the Chinese army lost one-third of an army corps in the battle for the Taiheng mountains, the Chinese national military council said today in a review of the war for May. Air support by American planes hastened the Japanese debacle, the council added.

2 Million Yanks Overseas, Winant Tells British Vets

LONDON, June 13.—Describing the American war effort today to the British Legion, an organization of veterans of the last war, Ambassador John G. Winant said that more than 2 million American fighting men had been sent to fighting zones overseas in 18 months.

60,000 WORKERS VOTE NO STRIKES WHILE WAR IS ON

Representatives of 60,000 workers in the Chicago area affiliated with the American-Polish Trades council unanimously adopted a no-strike policy for the duration yesterday at a conference in the Sons of Liberty club at 1042 North Damen avenue.

Stanley J. Nowak, Detroit, Mich., a state senator who once was a CIO organizer and a leader in several walkouts, told delegates from 35 CIO and AFL locals that walkouts in war time were "acts of unpatriotism" that would lead to "disunity."

The conference also adopted a resolution indorsing the CIO and AFL programs for a roll back of price ceilings to levels of September, 1942, to insure success of wage stabilization.

Two Bombers Also Shot Down in Solomons.

the war to the Nipponese homeland from our own shores. He blamed "backward and timid military thinking" for our present lack of such bombers.

"We have proved at Pantelleria and thruout Europe what air power can do," he said. "What we have done there we must continue to do to Japan."

Pantelleria a "Laboratory."

He described the conquest of Pantelleria as a laboratory test proving that air power can subdue a mighty fortress to a point where it can be occupied by ground forces in considerably reduced numbers without loss of life.

Destruction of axis air power is our first job in the attack on the fortress of Europe, he declared, asserting that any premature invasion of Europe while air defenses still exist will lead to unnecessary loss of life.

De Seversky pleaded for abandonment of plans to conquer Japan by inching our way toward the island fortress in a surface struggle.

"Japan's strategic position can be compared to a fortress surrounded by a moat," he said. "To breach this moat with ships, tanks, and men under the constant and devastating blows of Japanese land based aviation is far too costly in life, time, and substance."

Strike thru the Air."

Once we give up the idea of approaching Japan inch by inch, we can hold the enemy with comparatively small forces, he declared, adding that our present positions cannot be invaded if we provide undisputed control of the air over them.

"Any attempt on the part of the enemy to expand further will lead to his exhaustion, not ours," he said. "Thus by conserving our efforts on land and sea, we can throw the vast resources of America into long range air power and strike the decisive blow thru the air.

"For some time aeronautical science has been ready to give us aircraft that can strike directly from our own continental shores, right over the heads of the Japanese army and navy, and deliver the knockout blow to the heart of Japan, he said.

Timid Thinking Blamed.

"If this long range air power is not yet available, the fault lies not with aeronautics, but with backward and timid military thinking. It is not a question of whether it can be done, but of making up our minds to do it.

"Once we decide on an offensive thru the air, time is on our side side because we can build such air power and deliver the blow thru the air much quicker than on the surface with existing weapons. Air power will bring us victory in the shortest possible time, with a minimum investment of human lives."

Participants in the forum with De Seversky were Maj. Gen. Paul Malone, advocate of the use of all three arms of warfare, the army, navy, and air force, and "Singapore Joe" Fisher, far eastern lecturer and formerly chief divisional warden of Singapore's air raid defense.

Dr. Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California, and Dr. Rufus von Kleinsmid, president of the University of Southern California, joined in the program for the purpose of asking questions. Asked about the possibility of Japanese invasion of continental United States, Gen. Malone said: "We would pulverize her and the shore would be strewn with the dead and the débris."

Woman Among Dead Jap Crew of 4 on Bomber

CHUNGKING, China, June 14 [Monday]—(AP).—A Chinese dispatch reported today that a woman was among a crew of four killed when a Japanese bomber was destroyed Thursday near Hengyang, in Hunan province of central China. The Japanese woman wore earphones and was presumed to have been the radio operator, the dispatch said.

YANKEES BY DAY, BRITISH BY NIGHT BOMB MANDALAY

R.A.F. Uses Liberator, U. S. Planes.

NEW DELHI, India, June 13 (AP).—United States and British bomber squadrons, the latter using newly acquired Liberators, raided Mandalay by day and night yesterday to disrupt Japanese communications and installations, allied communiques said today.

The Americans struck at daylight, dumping more than 10 tons of bombs on railway facilities in Mandalay and the suburb of Sagaing, across the Irrawaddy river. Two boats plying the stream were sunk and a third was left sinking. Rolling stock and tracks also were destroyed.

British Follow Up.

The smoke of the destruction still was curling when the British, flying Liberators instead of their Blenheims, added their bomb weight during the night. The R. A. F. dropped several tons of bombs on railway yards, starting a series of explosions and a large fire. No attacking plane was lost.

Mandalay is in the part of Burma not plagued by the monsoon, and probably is used as a base for Japanese operations in the Chinese province of Yunnan along the Burma road.

Bridges Are Bombed.

Despite the drenching rains in the south, the R. A. F. continued attacks in Arakan, bombing a river jetty south of Buthedaung and starting a fire in an ammunition depot and other buildings. Four formations of Hurricanes strafed Japanese targets, including an enemy headquarters near Indin, 140 miles northwest of Mandalay.

The British destroyed a small bridge near Kalewa, in the Kale valley, and the Americans ploughed up the north approach of a railroad bridge at Myitnge in central Burma and also scored possible hits and near hits on the spans.

ALLIES DROP 30 TONS ON RABAUL IN 2 HOUR RAID

ALLIED HDQ. IN AUSTRALIA, June 14 [Monday]—(AP).—Allied bombers dropped thirty tons of explosives on Rabaul, New Britain, in a two hour night raid yesterday, the high command reported today. Explosives and incendiaries were dropped on the runway and dispersal areas among grounded planes.

"Numerous large fires were started and were visible for 50 miles," the communique said. "Searchlight and anti-aircraft defenses were active. "We had no losses."

Allied planes also bombed Gasmata airdrome, destroying an enemy bomber on the ground, and strafed and bombed enemy tracks and trails in the Komiatum area.

Clipper Opens New Route from U. S. to Canal Zone

ALBROOK FIELD, Canal Zone, June 13 (AP).—The four engined clipper Rainbow landed here at 3:15 p. m. today, inaugurating Pan American Airways new New Orleans-Balboa air line which connects the Mississippi valley with Latin America. The route is the fourth commercial air link between the continents.

CHICAGO RELIEF DOWN TO 26,900; 476,069 IN 1935

Chicago now has only about 26,900 persons on relief, as compared with 476,069 in March, 1935, and if the present employment boom continues the relief rolls may soon reach what is regarded as an irreducible minimum of 10,000 to 15,000.

George J. Klupar.

This situation was disclosed yesterday by George J. Klupar, commissioner of public welfare. He said that the relief administration's job placement service had found positions for 6,000 relief clients since its inauguration in August, 1942, and that a large number of persons had found jobs for themselves and left the relief rolls. Currently, the administration has been placing about 800 persons a month and there is reason to hope that the June figure may reach 900. Last week 281 were placed.

Klupar said the present relief rolls did not contain a single healthy, fully employable person in the group older than 18.

RAF FORMS NEW AIR FORCE TO AID INVASION ARMIES

Tactical Group Developed in War Games.

LONDON, June 14 [Monday]—(AP).—Looking to the invasion of Europe, the air ministry announced today the formation of a tactical air force to work with armies striking from Britain.

The new R. A. F. organization will conform closely with Air Vice Marshal Arthur Coningham's tactical air force which proved so successful in Tunisia. It displaces the army coöperation command and will be under Air Vice Marshal John Henry D'Albiac.

U. S. Has Similar Force.

Maj. Gen. Ira C. Eaker has disclosed that the 8th United States army air force also has a tactical division, but details of its organization and command have not been announced.

The new R. A. F. force will be made up primarily of fighters, fighter-bombers, medium bombers and specialized types of planes which proved their worth in North Africa, altho the organization will be flexible enough to take in other units as needed for specific jobs.

One of the most important features will be the high mobility of the operations and communications setup, enabling its squadrons to travel with invasion armies outside Britain.

War Games Bring Change.

The tactical air force is being placed within the fighting command to permit maximum flexibility as between current air operations from Britain and the necessary continuous and close training with the army.

As the result of lessons learned in the March army exercises in Britain and the experience in North Africa, the coöperation command was reshaped and expanded into a new force. All squadrons needed for special invasion tasks will be passed thru it and trained to the necessary standard.

Report Nazis Capture 'Chutists.

The Paris radio was quoted by London newspapers yesterday as saying that British and French parachutists had been captured near the Nazi coastal defenses in southern France, the fortifications the Germans call "the Mediterranean wall."

"Two of the parachutists were carrying radio sets," the broadcast was quoted as saying.

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel has established headquarters at Perpignan, France, and is reorganizing French coastal defenses, the Algiers radio reported.

The broadcast said the former commander of Hitler's defeated Africa corps had recently inspected the defenses of Corsica, Sardinia, and Sicily.

4 MARINE PILOTS JUMP 40 JAPS; SHOOT DOWN SIX

Chicagoan Lost in Air Battle in Solomons.

Washington, D. C., June 13 (AP).—A "four against 40" air battle in which four marine flyers shot down six Zeros and forced at least 18 other enemy fighter planes and 16 Japanese bombers to retreat was disclosed today by the navy. The battle was fought in the Solomons just north of Guadalcanal Island on April 25.

Lt. Leland L. Eckart.

Flying Corsair fighters, the marine pilots deliberately carried the fight to the Japanese who apparently were bound on a raiding mission over American positions in the Solomons.

One Marine Lost

Led by Maj. M. K. Peyton of Cannel City, Ky., they sighted the Japanese while returning from strafing the enemy on Kolombangara. They took advantage of cloud cover until the moment they dived on the Japanese flight. The bombers immediately fled, but the Zeros dropped their belly tanks and swarmed at the Corsairs.

Lt. Leland L. Eckart, 4875 North Kilpatrick avenue, Chicago, pulled out of formation to get a shot at one of the enemy. He missed, was jumped by Zeros, and was shot down. Lt. T. Milton Peck of Vicksburg, Miss., pulled up the nose of his plane, fired, and a Zero went down.

"His own plane stalled," the navy related. "He dived to regain speed, and pulled out with a Zero on his tail riding him down. Peck dived again, to 100 feet over the water, and finally outmaneuvered and lost his attacker."

Planes Meet Head-On.

Meantime, he had lost sight of the battle and, assuming it was over, returned to his base. But the fight was continuing.

"The other Zeros and the two remaining Corsairs met head-on. Peyton and 2d Lt. Milton Vedder of Los Angeles were scissoring on each other for mutual protection. On his first weave over Vedder, Peyton got a point blank shot at a Zero blasting it out of the air. He continued to weave, and quickly added two more Zeros.

Keep After Bombers.

"Vedder, on his second weave over Peyton, picked a Zero off Peyton's tail. It disintegrated. Then a Zero hopped his tail at close range. Vedder was wounded and his plane shot up."

But both kept after the bombers. Other Zeros intercepted. Vedder shot down another, but lost an aileron on his plane. He headed for the sea, bailed out at 300 feet and rode his rubber boat until rescued by a patrol bomber the next day.

Peyton, meantime, took a look at the retreating Japs and turned south. His plane had 78 machine gun and cannon shell holes in it. Both wing tanks had been shot thru. Peyton was wounded.

9 SWIM BLAZING SEA TO SAFETY AS 'FORT' FALLS

Yanks Describe Close Shave in Channel.

A U. S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, June 13 (AP).—After crash landing their burning, shell-riddled Flying Fortress in the English channel, nine United States airmen won a race with death by out-swimming spreading gasoline flames on the water, it was disclosed today.

The Fortress, which they called "Barrelhouse Bessie from Basin Street," quickly sank, but its fuel leaks fed the fire.

An hour and a half after the crash, as the survivors clinging to a damaged, partially inflated rubber dinghy despaired of help and were ready to give in to the bitter cold waters, a British boat rescued them.

The sole casualty of the crew of the bomber, which failed to return from the St. Nazaire raid of May 29, was Sergt. Ralph Erwin, 31, of Dallas, Ore., tail gunner.

Three Still in Hospital.

Still in a hospital suffering from burns and bruises are Sergts. Frederick T. Huther, 25, of Utica, N. Y., radio operator-gunner; Chester W. Hack, 22, of Detroit, left waist gunner, and Lt. Robert J. Curtis, 24, of Dunkirk, N. Y., navigator.

Just returned from a rest home leave are Lt. James G. Stevenson, 23, of Alamogordo, N. M., the pilot; Flight Officer Clinton A. Bush, 23, of Wilson, Kas., the co-pilot; Lt. Clarence F. Veach, 26, of Salina, Kas., navigator, and Sergts. Clinton L. Britton, 27, of Chilly, Idaho, top turret gunner; Alex R. Delgado, 21, of Los Banos, Cal., ball turret gunner, and John S. Chew, 24, of Minneapolis, right waist gunner.

Their Fortress was riddled just before the target was reached. The left wing was perforated and then set afire by an ignited gasoline tank. Stevenson maneuvered the ship until the target was reached, and Veach got his bombs away. As they headed homeward the ship dropped from 26,000 to 6,000 feet. The fire had gained headway.

Sinks in 30 Seconds.

The crew brought the bomber down 45 miles from the English coast. The impact threw Huther and Curtis into the blazing bomb bay, but they quickly clambered out. Thirty seconds after the others had climbed out the bomber sank, leaving flaming gasoline spread over a 100 foot area.

The crew had thrown out two dinghies. One burned, and the other, cut by shellfire, was only partially inflated.

"Some of us had to swim hard to outdistance the spreading fire," Stevenson said. "We made for the damaged dinghy, dragging Britton and Huther, who couldn't swim. When we reached the dinghy we discovered Erwin was not with us.

"We could see him floating amidst the flames with his arms extended like he was lifeless. The waves were running about eight feet high, and we started drifting away. We never saw Erwin again."

"Spitfires and Beaufighters circled all the time we were in the water," Chem said. "They radioed our position to air-sea rescue boats."

RED AIR FORCE RIPS KEY NAZI RAIL JUNCTIONS

Ammunition Dumps Also Razed in Orel Sector.

LONDON, June 14 [Monday]—(AP).—A large force of Russian long range bombers struck behind the German lines on the Russian central front Saturday night, blasting enemy train concentrations and ammunitions dumps at the key rail junctions of Gomel and Bryansk and at the railway station of Karachev, Moscow announced today in a special communique.

In this continuation of the recent heavy Red air force attacks against the Germans of eastern Europe, the Russians announced they caused more than 100 fires. Two Russian planes failed to return. Gomel is 200 miles southwest of Orel, while Bryansk lies 75 miles west. Karachev is midway between Bryansk and Orel.

Bag 498 Planes in Week.

The regular midnight communique heard by the soviet monitor said that from June 6 to 12 Russian air and ground forces destroyed 498 German planes. That brought the number to 1,250 German planes destroyed in June. Russian losses for the week were 153 planes, the communique said.

A large number of German planes was reported destroyed or damaged in raids by soviet planes on enemy airdromes June 8, 9, and 10.

On the western front Russian troops killed about 200 Germans and silenced four enemy artillery and mortar batteries.

Claim Three Ships Sunk.

The communique also said that a German transport and two patrol boats were sunk in the Barents sea by Russian planes, while in the Black sea an enemy transport was sunk.

[The German communique said the only land action in Russia consisted of local attacks in the Kuban bridgehead in the western Caucasus and in the Belev area, 60 miles north of Orel. The Germans said they bombed oil refineries at Saratov on the middle Volga and the rail junction of Jelez and damaged two medium-sized merchant ships off the Rybachi peninsula in the north.]

Guanaco Born; Lincoln Park Herd Now Largest

A 20 pound two day old guanaco was the center of attraction at Lincoln Park zoo yesterday. Director Floyd Young said the birth Friday brought the zoo's guanaco herd to eight, making it the largest in the country. Guanacos are a South American animal of the llama family.

Mothers of Three Heroes Awarded Purple Hearts

Mothers of three Aurora sailors killed in action were awarded purple heart citations yesterday at the annual convention of the Illinois department of the purple heart and its auxiliary in Aurora. Walter Waidley, presented the medals to Mrs. Richard Fitzsimmons, mother of Eugene Fitzsimmons, electrician, 2d class; Mrs. August F. Backman, mother of Walter Backman, radio man, 2d class, and Mrs. Logan Francis Drury, mother of Logan Jeffrey Drury, machinist's mate, 2d class.

BRANDS MISSION TO MOSCOW AS REDPROPAGANDA

Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett yesterday appealed to Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of public instruction, to advise school heads thruout Illinois of the "destructive propaganda purposes" in the motion picture, "Mission to Moscow."

Barrett charged the picture, in its effort to glorify communism, criticized the congress of the United States, and villified Great Britain and France in an effort to further the cause of communism in the eyes of the American people.

"'Mission to Moscow' deliberately tries to convince the American public of the glory of the communistic system of industrial state slavery," Barrett said. "This picture is typical of Hitler's propaganda methods. It is propaganda that falsifies history thru distortion and omission of facts.

"I suggest that you advise the heads of the schools of Illinois of the destructive purposes of this un-American motion picture in order that they may so advise their students and the effect of this attempt to degrade Americanism and glorify communism may be minimized, in our state."

SALARY LOANS
$25-$50-$100 OR MORE
Borrow on your earning ability—No endorsers needed—Pay charges only for the time you have the money

SHORT OF CASH? If you have a steady job, you should investigate Household's salary loan plan. This plan offers a quick, simple way for men and women who are working to borrow at reasonable cost. No endorsers are ever needed. You borrow on your earning ability and willingness to repay. We also make car and furniture loans. Even when making these loans we consider character and regular income more important than the borrower's security.

Choose your own plan
You may repay a loan in a few days or in a number of monthly instalments—whichever best suits your needs. Charges are made only for the actual time you have the money. At our rate of 3% per month, a $25 loan costs $1.55 when repaid in three monthly instalments, but only 18¢ when repaid at the end of a week. A $50 loan repaid in four monthly instalments of $13.46 each costs $3.84—or if repaid in one month costs $1.50.

Solve money problems here
Getting a loan at Household is a quick, private transaction—we require no endorsers or guarantors. The table below shows many sample monthly payment plans—we can fit our service to your needs. All payments include principal and interest.

You may get a Household loan to pay your doctor or dentist, insurance or taxes, old store bills, repairs, union fees—for almost any purpose. If you need money, phone, write or visit Household Finance.

BULGARIA, NAZIS' PROBLEM CHILD, FEARS INVASION

Germans Strive to Build Morale and Defenses.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ISTANBUL, Turkey, June 11 [Delayed].—Germany is making frantic efforts to strengthen Bulgaria as the fear of an allied invasion of the Balkans grows, according to reliable information received here today. Troops recently sent to Bulgaria include specialists in gas warfare, it was stated.

Bulgaria is Germany's problem child and the Germans are gradually being forced to take control almost as if the country were being invaded by the Nazis instead of facing an allied threat. Morale has been shaken by the German reverses, it was said. The Bulgars now foresee axis defeat and the loss of the new territories for which they entered the war.

Subversive Activities Grow.

The country is riddled by subversive activity and the Gestapo [German secret police] is busy hunting down anti-Nazi elements. On May 15 the Germans tried to check the subversive movements by establishing a special forbidden zone between Bulgaria and Bulgarian occupied Greek Thrace.

Late in May the Gestapo arrested and publicly hanged 15 Jews in Sofia. Among them was the 75 year old Rabbi Alonda Aaron. The 15 were accused of using false passports and of helping Germany's enemies.

Despite all of the Gestapo's efforts underground organizations continue to assassinate prominent Bulgars who are too active in coöperating with Germany. On May 31 the correspondent of DNB, German news agency, reported that the chief of police in the Plevna district of northern Bulgaria had been assassinated "by Communists." Plevna is a communications center and an industrial town. The day before, a member of parliament, Saprian Klevkoff, was slain in his home in the town of Kosteivo by "bandits." Klevkoff was a member of the farming and defense commissions and an ultra-nationalist.

May Take Over Control.

This constant sniping by the Nazi's enemies has rubbed the Germans' nerves raw and the amount of attention focused on the attacks indicates that the Nazis are planning to take over full control of Bulgaria, it was said. The Germans are said to fear that if the allies attack on the Aegean coast the Bulgarians would not hold them.

The fear of an allied attack at the Aegean coast has been driving Bulgars home from the newly annexed regions in Thrace. Several thousand of the 80,000 sent there to replace Greeks have already returned to Bulgaria, it was reported.

The Germans were worried, it was said, by the way this mass movement congested traffic and by its possible effect on Bulgarian morale. There was also the possibility that the returning settlers were carrying military secrets out of the defense zone and the frontier barrier zone was set up as a result.

More than 5,000 Bulgars were reported helping to build a new defense line in Thrace, but special black shirted German Schutzstaffel detachments guard them. More than 100 of the workmen were arrested for sabotage or espionage in May, reports said.

In the hills the comitadjis [a Balkan nationalist organization which developed in the early 1900's as an anti-Turkish terrorist movement] were reported extremely active and altho these men are not friendly to the allies, they are actively fighting the Germans.

Bulgars arrested on political charges are being sent to a special camp on the island of Thasos.

BRITISH PAPERS SCOLD DE GAULLE FOR TOUCHINESS

Urge French Leaders to Stop Quarrels.

London, June 14 [Monday]—(AP).—A demand that Generals Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud settle their differences and get on with winning the war was voiced today by three British newspapers, which directed sharp criticism at De Gaulle for his outbursts of temperament.

The influential Yorkshire Post, formerly a stout champion of De Gaulle, accused him of stubbornness. The Post said his apparent desire not to figure in the eyes of his compatriots as a puppet of the British "has led him to assert a rather touchy independence at our expense. There are signs he is adopting a similar attitude towards the Americans."

The Post said Vichy sympathizers should be considered individually and "not made subject to any such sweeping proscription as De Gaulle apparently desires."

"British Impatient."

The Daily Express said the generals should "stop fighting among themselves and help us get on with the winning of the war." "There is a great deal of impatience in Britain at the extraordinary delays and procrastinations which have happened since De Gaulle reached Africa," it said. "The glorious vision of united action which the setting up of the French committee created has deteriorated into a wordy impassé."

The Daily Sketch joined the Express in sharp criticism and said "it is essential at this critical stage of the war that Gen. Eisenhower shall not be hampered by jarring personal interests." The Sketch criticized the "over-dictatorial and noncoöperative attitude" of De Gaulle.

26 Deputies Protest.

ALGIERS, June 13 (AP).—Twenty-six Communist deputies complained in a public statement today that they had been ignored by the French committee for national liberations, and called upon this executive body of the French empire to "transform immediately its solemn promises into facts."

With Generals Charles de Gaulle and Henri Giraud at odds over the division of authority over French armed forces and the method of purging pro-Vichy officers, the Communist statement said "the French people have had enough of personal power—they want neither a Petain nor a Bonaparte, nor a Bazaine, nor a Boulanger."

[Napoleon Bonaparte changed the first republic into a monarchy, Bazaine was accused of wanting to do the same at the end of the Franco-Prussian war, and Boulanger was head of a widespread movement which toward the end of the last century came close to overthrowing the young third republic.]

Freed from Prison.

As French deputies who have been liberated from prison, the 26 Communists asserted: "We have the right to raise our voices and express the sentiments of the people. We have this right more than ever since we were not consulted on the formation, composition, or program of the French committee of liberation.

"We declare that for the good name of France in the world, for her grandeur and for her rejuvenation it is indispensable to transform immediately into facts the solemn promises contained in the first declaration of the committee," the statement concluded.

Oh, Yeah?

SEIZE DESERTER IN MICHIGAN ON CHECK CHARGE

Eugene V. Mironko, 26 years old, 2655 North Laramie avenue, who confessed to having deserted the army at Sioux Falls, S. D., was arrested yesterday by Michigan state police near Ypsilanti. Mironko, police said, admitted he had been supporting himself since his desertion by passing worthless checks and said he was wanted in Chicago for purchasing a musical instrument with a bogus check and pawning it only two doors away for $15. Records show he was arrested in Evanston in 1941 for giving a bad $850 check in partial payment for three old violins, one of which was worth $1,000, and which he promptly pawned for $35.

Italian Troops on Island Fire on Nazis, Say Russians

LONDON, June 14 [Monday]—(AP).—The Russian agency Tass said in a Moscow broadcast early today that an Italian garrison in the Dodecanese islands of the eastern Mediterranean had fired on German troops sent to reinforce them. The broadcast, recorded by the Soviet Monitor, quoted reports from Istanbul, Turkey, that the Italians had scored hits on a German troop transport off the island of Rhodes.

A True or False Quiz for Owners of ELECTRIC ROASTERS

STATEMENT—Meats should be kept in the refrigerator until ready to roast.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

The above statement is False. Meats should be taken out of the refrigerator 2 or 3 hours before roasting.

STATEMENT—Before roasting meat, the roaster should be pre-heated to maximum temperature.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

The above statement is True.

STATEMENT—Meat should be browned 30 to 45 minutes with vents open.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

The above statement is True. After browning, turn heat control to lower temperature (as indicated in directions for roasting various meats).

STATEMENT—You should not add water to meat unless braising or stewing.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

The above statement is True.

STATEMENT—Vegetables should be cooked with plenty of water.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

The above statement is False. Vegetables should be cooked with as little water as possible (¼ to ½ cup hot water).

STATEMENT—The electric roaster is not suited to summer cooking.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

The above statement is False. Your electric roaster is especially suited for summer cooking. Thick insulation keeps the heat in the roaster and out of the kitchen.

STATEMENT—A complete meal—meat, potatoes, vegetables and dessert—can be cooked in the electric roaster at one time.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

The above statement is True.

STATEMENT—When cooking meats and vegetables both should be placed in the roaster at the same time.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

The above statement is False. Vegetables require a shorter cooking time, and are normally placed in the roaster after the meat has been started.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

The above statement is True. The reason is that any type casserole can be made in quantity in the well of the roaster. Try it the next time.

STATEMENT—The large inset pan should always be left in the roaster, regardless of the cooking process.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

The above statement is True.

STATEMENT—The electric roaster is ideal for canning fruits or acid vegetables

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

The above statement is True.

STATEMENT—Hot foods can be taken to outings in the roaster.

☐ TRUE ☐ FALSE

The above statement is True. Foods can be prepared at home in the roaster and carried along to the outing. The thickly insulated roaster will keep the food pipping hot for hours.

CHICAGO RABBI IN GUINEA SERVES CHRISTIANS, TOO

Pinch Hits for Priests and Preachers.

BY ROBERT CROMIE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, June 4 [by Air Mail].—One of the only two rabbis attached to the American army in the South Pacific is Capt. Samuel W. Chomsky, a young Chicagoan.

Capt. Samuel W. Chomsky.

Capt. Chomsky, whose wife, Ida, lives at 7043 South Merrill avenue, held the pulpit at Temple Sholom, large north side synagogue, during the summer of 1938. When the war broke out, however, he was conducting services and doing refugee work in Havana, Cuba.

His first war job was as a United Service Organization staff member at Fort Leonard Wood and much to every one's surprise he turned up at the same camp one day in his chaplain's uniform with the tiny insignia bearing the Ten Commandments and the Star of David on the collar.

Only One Other Rabbi.

He left the United States last December [having an easy time on the way across since he was the only member of his faith aboard the ship] and since arriving in this area has shared with Chaplain A. E. Levy, who was working in Sydney, the task of covering both Australia and New Guinea.

This is quite a job, Capt. Chomsky will readily admit, and the three more rabbis expected from the United States soon will be welcomed with open arms.

Capt. Chomsky's duties include arranging for services in areas where he cannot go regularly—delegating a Catholic or Protestant chaplain or perhaps a Jewish enlisted man or officer to lead them. In return he sometimes holds Catholic or Protestant services, and in Australia during March held six Lenten services, complete with sermons, due to the shortage of Protestant chaplains.

He also distributes religious materials, including the prayer book, Kiddush cups [for the Friday night blessing of the wine], talesim or prayer shawls, Jewish scriptures, calendars listing all Jewish religious holidays, and holiday supplies. At the Feast of the Passover, for example, there was unleavened bread [made in Australia] and wine, especially prepared in Australia and passed on by a rabbinical board. There also were special prayer books [Haggadas] supplied by the Jewish Welfare board thru Australian rabbis.

Observes All Feasts.

All Jewish religious occasions are observed. This coming week, for example, will be celebrated the Feast of Weeks, as well as the Memorial Services for the Dead [usually for dead parents, but in this instance for those who have fallen in battle].

Capt. Chomsky finds most Jewish soldiers are very glad to see him or Chaplain Levy. Once in an Australian city one of the men of the 41st division stopped Capt. Chomsky on the street, and soon there were 20 to 25 Jewish men around him and he spent two hours with the group.

He writes mail for those wishing to reassure parents that they are well and in good spirits, or that there is a chaplain within reach, also writes letters of condolence to parents losing their sons, visits hospitals and, of course, conducts funeral services. At a service for the crew of a crashed bomber the Catholic and Protestant chaplains and Capt. Chomsky all presided, since all faiths were included among the dead.

Supplies Soldier Matzoth.

Capt. Chomsky says lots of amusing things have happened since he's been out here, but the only one he could remember was that of the Jewish soldier in Sydney who kept telephoning day after day to learn whether his order of matzoth or unleavened bread had arrived from San Francisco—this despite the fact that more than 600 pounds had been ordered locally. It turned out the San Francisco order got in several days late, but Capt. Chomsky took care of the worrier.

From his talks with the men he's decided that what they want most of all is mail—plenty of it [a universal desire]—and after that literature of all sorts, and some kind of contact with their B'nai B'rith lodge, local synagogues or Jewish community center.

Capt. Chomsky works with Maj. Ernest D. Elliott of Hammond, La., head chaplain here, and credits the latter with bringing the work of the Jewish welfare board to Jewish soldiers in this area. Capt. Chomsky also asked for another credit line: for the Hebrew Union college, Cincinnati, O., from which he was graduated.

Four to Get Degrees

Four of the 13 children of the Rev. and Mrs. William Fetler, 815 Monroe street, Evanston, will receive degrees Wednesday at commencement exercises at Northwestern university, the largest "family" ever to graduate together from the university. The four are Daniel, Timothy, Mary, and Paul, who is a private at Camp Grant. Another sister, Lydia, who was graduated from the University of Cincinnati recently, also will be present. The Rev. Mr. Fetler brought his family to the United States just before the outbreak of war. They had been touring Europe giving concert performances in connection with church work. The Rev. Mr. Fetler is a native of Latvia and lived there many years. The 13 children were born in five different countries.

CARE saves cars and trucks
NEGLECT costs you money

NEGLECT of your car or truck today is more serious than it would be if new ones were being manufactured to take its place. By delaying repairs to damaged parts, you shorten the life of your car. As a result there may be costly breakdowns and its use may be lost at a time when every car or truck that can be kept running is a direct contribution to the war effort. Even "Still Wear," caused by idleness or short infrequent periods of operation, can have serious results.

You can prolong the life of your car or truck if you have it cared for regularly by a dealer who understands it. You'll get maximum mileage from your tires and gasoline and at the same time save money.

There is a Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto or Chrysler dealer convenient to you. Use his parts and service facilities to help you keep your car in top condition.

Here's how you can keep your car in fighting trim

1 Keep It Clean—Inside and Out! A clean car lasts longer and is more pleasant to drive and ride in.

2 Keep It Lubricated—Engine and Chassis Too! Frequent lubrication is cheap insurance against wear, breakdowns and delays. Short trips and "Still Wear" caused by long periods of idleness are enemies of long car life.

3 Keep Vital Parts In Adjustment—All Of Them! Engine, brakes, steering, starting and lighting equipment are particularly important.

4 Keep The Little Things In Order! Squeaks, rattles, and strange noises are signals that something needs attention. Prompt attention may prevent serious difficulty later.

5 Keep In Touch With Your Dealer's Service Station! Minor deficiencies in your car's performance develop so slowly that you may not notice them until they become serious, but men who know how, can spot them in advance and save you time and money.

6 Keep Switching Your Tires! Optimistic reports on the rubber situation are encouraging, but it's smart and patriotic to play safe.

Men and women who are interested in full or part time employment in essential wartime work—see your nearby Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto or Chrysler dealer.

Timely Service Suggestions

MoPar OIL FILTER
To protect your car investment your OIL FILTER should be changed at least every 8,000 miles. Clean oil reduces engine wear—saves engine repairs—prolongs engine life.

MacARTHUR '44 BOOM LAUNCHED IN WISCONSIN

Wide Response Reported for Favorite Son.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., June 13.—A battle in 1944 over control of Wisconsin's delegates to the next Republican national convention is beginning to crack the surface.

Lansing Hoyt.

It is still too early for crystalization of opinion on candidates as there is little in the way of organized activities, but talk is plentiful and adherents of various potential candidates are busy in the subcellar.

A boom for Gen. Douglas MacArthur as a favorite son has been launched. Headquarters were recently opened by Lansing Hoyt, former Republican chairman of Milwaukee county. Its slogan is "Make MacArthur commander in chief and the first President from Wisconsin." The MacArthur club has been incorporated, and Hoyt reports there has been wide response.

Father Lived in Milwaukee.

Gen. MacArthur is third generation Wisconsin bred. He was born in Arkansas, but the family lived here, and the general was educated at West Division High school before going to West Point. His father, Lt. Gen. Arthur MacArthur, was a resident of Milwaukee and died here in 1912. The general's grandfather, Arthur MacArthur, was lieutenant governor of Wisconsin before the Civil war, in 1856.

Hoyt has been in touch with Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan who has been urging that the Republicans nominate Gen. MacArthur. The movement, Hoyt says, will proceed prudently in order to save Gen. MacArthur from possible embarrassment, and it is aimed to develop the movement as a popular mobilization of public opinion—a grass roots campaign—rather than by any ordinary political method.

"What is the use of our great Republican victory in congress in 1942," says Hoyt, "if at the next national convention we throw everything away by nominating some good American without a war record and without glamor? Gen. MacArthur has everything, and all he has to do is to continue the great work he is doing now. The grass roots of sentiment will then sprout more and more."

Bricker and Dewey in Picture.

Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, is regarded as having elements of strength, once the campaign opens. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York has active supporters. In commenting on Dewey's announcement that he will finish his term as governor, thus eliminating himself as a Presidential candidate, observers point out that no man ever refused a Presidential nomination.

In answer to inquiries from Milwaukee, Dewey has said "no" to three questions: [1] Whether he is a candidate for President; [2] Whether he plans to enter delegates in the primaries next year, and [3] Whether he has authorized any one to organize Dewey clubs. Sentiment for Dewey however is growing. In 1940 Dewey carried the Presidential preference primaries, a full slate of Dewey delegates was elected, and Wisconsin cast its 24 votes for Dewey on the first five ballots, right up to the sixth, and final one.

Gov. Bricker is to appear here June 25 to address the state bar association. Tho the governor has not announced his candidacy there is much conversational activity in his behalf. Recently D. J. Kenny of West Bend, Republican chairman of the 6th congressional district and past state commander of the American Legion, and Carl Taylor, who was head of the Loomis for Governor club in 1942, a Progressive, visited Bricker in Columbus, O.

Bradshaw Backs Bricker.

Lester J. Bradshaw, a Republican state leader, who headed the campaign for delegates for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in 1940, is one of the leading Bricker supporters. He says as yet no organization work is being done for the governor, and no one has been authorized to start it.

But there is plenty of spade work. Sen. Taft, who has many Wisconsin friends of political influence, has written some asking them to support Bricker, and in Bradshaw's opinion most of the old Taft supporters are talking Bricker. The Ohio governor is known in Wisconsin. He spoke at the national Legion convention here in 1941, and the year before he addressed the state convention.

Wendell Willkie's adherents are talking up their candidate, tho no organization work has been started. In fact, one hears more talk about Willkie than of the others, but a lot of it is anti-Willkie. As in the corn belt, one hears a stock expression: "He's too much like the New Deal and President Roosevelt."

G. O. P. MEETING HERE AIMED AT CEMENTING TIES

Candidacies Not to Be Major Topic.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Because a publicity department failed to function when it should have been on the job, all sorts of rumors sprang up concerning the meeting of Republican party officials in Chicago next Saturday and Sunday.

Reports have been current for a week that the meeting was intended to advance the chances of some candidate or other, that it was designed to start an early discussion of post-war problems, or that in some other manner the purpose was to launch into national politics.

Inquiry at Washington and elsewhere yesterday indicated that those inclined to be alarmed over the outlook need have no fears. There wouldn't have been any of that sort of thing if the customary publicity had accompanied the disclosure of the plan.

Busy in Washington.

Harrison E. Spangler of Iowa was elected national chairman at the St. Louis meeting. Since that time he has been busy in Washington. He hasn't had the opportunity to become thoroly acquainted with the many chairmen and vice-chairmen of the numerous state organizations, or to weld them together in party unity behind his leadership.

Under other than war time conditions he might have called a national meeting, but he decided such a program was out of the question because of the transportation problem. Therefore he planned a series of sectional meetings, the first one to be in Chicago. To this he invited state chairmen, vice chairmen, and national committeemen of 14 midwestern states for a get acquainted meeting and a conference concerning the state of the nation and the party as a whole.

Later there will be a series of other meetings for the rest of the states—the west coast, the south, and the east—altho the divisions and the order of calling them together has not been disclosed.

Not to Promote Candidacies.

It is not intended at these sessions to promote or discourage individual candidacies and there is no thought of these conferences interfering with the operations of the Spangler post-war committee which includes representatives of the senate, the house of representatives and the national committee and all 24 of the Republican governors now in office. That body will proceed with its task as if the other meetings were not being held. In fact, a meeting of the 24 governors has been called in Columbus, O., on June 23 and 24 on the heels of the Chicago conference.

The Spangler invitations to the chairmen, vice-chairmen, and national committeemen provide for an opening session at the Blackstone hotel at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, to be followed by the chairman's luncheon and a business session in the afternoon. The only other item on his official list of events is a late breakfast Sunday morning. There is, however, a possibility that Dr. R. C. Radabaugh, Minnesota chairman, will give a dinner Saturday night. He is known as a friend of Gov. Harold E. Stassen and thus could be thought a friend of Wendell L. Willkie, who might be ready to get in a good word for either or both of those gentlemen.

But Chairman Spangler is expected to check efforts either for or against any candidate at this time.

Chessie Writes a Letter to the Editor

To the Editor of the Chicago Tribune

Sir:

EVEN a railroad kitten gets around now and then. And I have lately heard some questions asked and comments made about our railroads that have inspired me to write you this letter.

I suppose it is perfectly natural that people who see the enormous load of traffic our railroads are moving in wartime—people who watch millions of tons of freight and thousands of men in arms go rolling by—should say: "I'll bet the roads are coining money these days."

It seems to me that the truth of this question is something every American ought to know.

Nearly everyone has read or heard that during the recent years of depression the railroads had extreme difficulty making ends meet. In the twelve years following 1929, thirty-seven Class I railroads sought relief from their troubles in bankruptcy. Others staggered along under heavy burdens of debt. And the average earnings of all Class I railroads, for that period, were only 2.2% on investment.

But what many people do not know is that, even in 1942, the American railroads earned only a moderate return on investment.

Railroad traffic increased enormously, of course. But so did operating costs, and so did taxes. And the average earnings, for all Class I railroads, in our first year of war, were only five and a half per cent.

It is almost the same percentage as the earnings that were fixed by the government for the railroads during the last war. It is within what Congress declared in 1920 to be a fair earning on railroad value. And the Interstate Commerce Commission has repeatedly recognized the principle that a fair return should be gauged by the average earnings over a period; that the roads should be allowed to make up in good years for the lean.

Mine is a small voice. But this is a free country. And it gets my fur up to hear people undervalue our railroads.

Those who do have only to look around them to see how tremendous a part in our national crisis is being taken by cars and coaches and engines—and by the men who run them. For transport is the lifeblood of our war effort.

We have reason to be thankful for the strength of our railroads. And equally good reason, with a view to the years ahead, to see that they continue to be strong and sound institutions.

ROOSEVELT BID FOR NEGRO VOTE STIRS RACE ISSUE

Activity Alienates South, Splits Own Party.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—The Negro race issue is figuring prominently in the preliminary maneuvering of the 1944 Presidential election and particularly in the Democratic division on a fourth term nomination for President Roosevelt.

The wooing of the Negro vote by the President and Mrs. Roosevelt is a universal subject of comment on both sides of the Mason and Dixon line. The general view among politicians is that the President, having lost the farm vote in 1940 and 1942, expects to rely for reëlection on the large cities in which the normally Democratic labor vote and the big Democratic machines, like that of Kelly-Nash in Chicago, Tammany in New York City, and Boss Frank Hague in Jersey City, predominate, and in many of which the Negroes hold the balance of power.

Negroes Won Over in 1932.

The Negroes who had been Republican since the Civil war went over to the New Deal pretty generally in 1932 and in 1936 plumped conspicuously for the reëlection of Mr. Roosevelt. In 1940, however, they were found heading back into the Republican camp and in the congressional election last fall it was only an inconsequential remnant of the Negro vote that was recorded for the New Deal. Conspicuously, Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.] carried the Negro wards of Chicago and Thomas E. Dewey, Republican candidate for governor, won New York's Harlem.

Republican leaders are confident that the current Democratic efforts to win back the Negro vote are proving futile. On the other hand the fourth term promoters eagerly grasped at a straw of encouragement in a recent poll showing that while only a minority of the electorate would vote for Mr. Roosevelt for another term if the war were over in 1944, an overwhelming majority of Negroes would support him, war or no war.

Liberal Republicans have been surprised frequently at the heat of indignation displayed by southern Democrats over various acts the latter classified as the President's and Mrs. Roosevelt's currying of favor among Negro voters. Republican leaders classified as an all time record the southern temper displayed recently when Edwin Barclay, president of the Negro republic of Liberia, was an official guest at the White House. On that occasion, the rage of the Democrats south of the Mason and Dixon line knew no bounds when they read in Mrs. Roosevelt's daily newspaper column:

"After I had taken the president of Liberia and the president-elect to their rooms, I retired, for the usual stag dinner was given in the evening and I was obliged to leave by night train to get to Arthurdale, W. Va."

W. V. S. Tubman, president-elect of Liberia, accompanied Barclay on his visit.

State Department Flabbergasted.

On his way home from Casablanca last January President Roosevelt dropped in on President Barclay in Liberia and invited him to return the visit some time. Democrats in the state department were flabbergasted when the Negro president sent word he was coming and for an official visit, with all the trimmings, at that, wich meant entertainment at the White House, an appearance in congress, and a tour of the country.

The Liberian was not disposed to spare the President political embarrassment with his southern adherents as had President Lescot of the Negro republic of Haiti when he visited Washington last year but "unofficially" and therefore not requiring social entertainment.

Southern Democratic senators and congressmen were conspicuous by their absence from the social affairs arranged for Barclay, including Sen. Tom Connally of Texas who, as chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, was slated to do the honors along with Rep. Sol Bloom of New York, chairman of the house committee, who was very much in evidence.

Angered by Poll Tax Fight.

In sponsoring bills prior to this congress to knock out southern poll tax laws designed to disfranchise Negro voters, the New Deal incurred the hostility of large numbers of southern Democrats. The legislation, blocked by southern opposition at that time, has now been passed again by the house and is threatened with a southern filibuster in the senate. This time, however, with the election coming on apace, the New Dealers are singing mighty low for the reform.

Mr. Roosevelt created the fair employment practices committee to wipe out discrimination against Negroes in employment. It has encountered hard sledding however, particularly because of refusal of many labor unions to admit Negroes to membership.

An illustration of the situation was afforded by the government order to the Washington street railway to employ Negroes as motormen and conductors. The company complied but union members refused to operate cars along with the colored men. Washington traffic was tied up from 20 to 30 minutes before the government capitulated and ordered the Negroes off the cars. The Roosevelt administration cracked down on the company but not on the union.

South Alienated.

The President has now reorganized the employment committee, replacing Republicans with New Dealers, and named Msgr. Francis H. Haas as chairman.

According to southern leaders, so many southern Democrats have been alienated from the New Deal on the race issue that the success of the drive for a fourth term for Mr. Roosevelt is seriously endangered and that even if he should be renominated several southern states will go Republican.

The New Dealers are supremely confident, however, that the south will fall in line for Mr. Roosevelt both for the nomination and for the election because there is no other Democrat who would have a reasonable chance of winning.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

THE QUESTION.

Have you had a recent shopping experience which convinced you that as a customer you're not always right?

WHERE ASKED.

Jackson and La Salle streets.

THE ANSWERS.

Nancy Moran, switchboard operator, 6237 South California avenue—A few months ago I tried to buy some lingerie with elastic in it. When the clerk told me they wouldn't be making those things with elastic, I doubted that story. With a little investigating, I found she was right.

Genevieve Berg, secretary, 1322 Albion avenue—Usually when I wanted to return merchandise to the store I was not questioned. Not long ago I went back to return a print blouse that had faded when washed. They told me I evidently had not followed instructions. These showed the fading was all my fault.

George Troseth, salesman, 5712 Race avenue—As I was walking past the florist shop I saw some flowers that looked like daffodils. They were my wife's favorites so I thought I'd surprise her. When I asked the clerk for a dozen daffodils, she said they had none. The flowers in the window were jonquils and narcissi.

Evelyn Stillman, clerk, 660 North Dearborn street—I was sitting under the hair dryer at the beauty parlor. It seemed to be getting so hot. I asked the operator to turn it down to medium. She said it already was on low, but I moved from under the dryer to see for myself. She was right.

Sylvia Simons, office worker, 425 Oakdale avenue—After I told the clerk what size shoes I wanted, he brought several pairs of that size. He insisted they were a whole size too small for me, even if I had been squeezing into that size for years. I bought a larger pair. Then I learned real foot comfort.

Mae Werner, stenographer, 6351 Oakley boulevard—When I went to the cleaners to pick up my dress, I told them the belt was missing. They went thru everything and then said I had never sent a belt. I argued with them about it and they said they would check further. I felt rather foolish when I found it at home.

APPROACHES 102D BIRTHDAY.

NO LOAVES AND FISHES.

The housewife probably never thought the day would come when she would be able to charge part of her cut of beef to Mr. Morgenthau of the treasury. The marvels of the New Deal cannot be foreseen, forecast, or foretasted. It's within a short memory when a farmer would not have believed that he would be paid money for keeping crops off some of his acres and would be penalized if he didn't. But then how many of us knew that the planned economy, having recruited many imaginative fellows who had nothing to lose but their sleep, was in mortal conflict with price economy and was determined to fight it out to the taxpayer's last dollar?

In the tortuous and long period of the New Deal the executors of its will have come and gone. Many began by thundering against the doubters and ended by thundering against the Deal but it has gone on. Men are dropped or shifted and new combinations are made but the formulas are unchanged and the consequences remain the same. Of recent occurrence Prentiss Brown succeeds Leon Henderson in price administration, the hope being that if a smooth and politically wise factotum took the place of a tough guy the fixed price system would begin to make sense in the markets. Mr. Brown has gone home with a headache and the Deal is subsidizing the consumers to make them like what they get. The pennies they count as saved will make a big showing in the treasury accounts and nowhere else.

With this subsidizing of the consumer the Deal also is considering taxing him. The sales tax, as differentiated from the excise tax, has some friends in congress. The executive departments have been opposed to it. It is supposed to be poor politics. At a certain point it becomes hazardous to impose taxes. The wider the spread the greater the danger to the taxing authority. The planned economy will solve this difficulty by giving a consumer something when he buys a pound of butter and by taking it away from him when he buys a yard of cloth.

Some of the consumers, being taxpayers, will subsidize themselves. Others, not being on the tax books, will look to the taxpayers to foot part of their bills. The treasury opens its till to pay a few cents a pound on the family steak and thus we deter the workers from asking for more wages, encourage the producers to raise more food animals with less feed on fewer acres, and defeat inflation by increasing the national debt and the credit in the banks.

Mr. Hoover, a sane voice in the wilderness, has pointed out that after the planned economy undertook its lend-lease obligations, including the supply of foodstuffs, it still paid the farmers to reduce their tilled acres. To control prices the planners witndrew 47 million acres from production and of this total Mr. Hoover says only 9 million acres had been returned in 1942 to the making of crops and raising of animals for food. To get a great army for which the need has not been disclosed farm workers were taken indiscriminately from agriculture and to equip that army and other armies farm machinery was denied the reduced farm population. Three million high school boys are supposed to fill the gap.

Mr. Roosevelt hails the international food conference as an epoch making event. Its prime accomplishment was to assert that food production for all the world must be under centralized governmental control. That same control in this country has given us fantasies which would not be believed if it were not for the condition of the food markets in various parts of the country and the prospects facing the farms and the people dependent on them.

The sorcerers' apprentices who have been pulling the controls in the planned economy have relied on the treasury to get them out of disasters and placate the people when they created a delirium and called it the scientific order. Their money won't provide food which has not been raised. Their miracles will fail at the loaves and fishes.

LAUNDRY TROUBLE.

Chicago laundries ought to be sitting on top of the world. Their business couldn't be better, the war man power commission has declared them an essential industry in this area, and the war production board has been reasonably cooperative in allowing them to get parts for the repair and maintenance of their machinery and supplies for their operations. Actually, the industry is in terrible straits.

Laundries are piled with thousands of bundles of soiled clothing and more bundles are pouring in on them, faster than their inadequate staffs can handle them. The industry has been trading customers to facilitate deliveries, is refusing certain kinds of nonessential business, and has discontinued ironing many types of clothing, leaving that to the housewives. It is talking of rationing the laundering of shirts to three a week to each customer. Its help situation is critical and is getting worse instead of better.

The industry was justly classified as an essential one to the conduct of the war. Accumulations of soiled clothing present a sanitary hazard. Many thousands of service men in this area depend on commercial laundries. Lack of laundry facilities has been shown to be an important cause of absenteeism in war plants. Women who can't get their laundry done take a day off from the factory to do it themselves. Many housewives, because of age, health, or the demands of small children, are physically unable to do their own laundry, and the employment of large numbers of domestic servants and day workers in war plants has thrust additional burdens on the commercial laundries.

All this was just as apparent last March as it is today. These arguments, all of them sound, were presented and reiterated frequently to the war man power commission and its local representatives by the spokesmen for the laundry industry, but it was not until May 26 that the industry was declared essential. During the whole intervening period Mr. McNutt had been ringing the changes on his "work or fight" order. By the time he got around to recognizing the true status of the laundry industry, he had frightened away a large proportion of its male employés, who are the hardest to train and to replace. The remedy was withheld until the patient was so wasted that recovery is doubtful.

If it weren't for daily proof to the contrary, it would be hard to convince the people that Mr. Roosevelt could have found assistants as stupid and incompetent as the men to whom he has entrusted the direction of major phases of the war.

AMENDING THE STATE CONSTITUTION.

The senate at Springfield last week voted down a proposal to permit a vote in the party circle to be counted in favor of a constitutional amendment if the party for which the vote is cast has indorsed the amendment in convention. That was a wise action and the reasoning that prompted it should guide the legislature in its handling of all the numerous proposals now before it for modifying the amendment section of the constitution.

The constitution of the state as it stands limits the number of amendments that may be submitted to the people at any time and requires that an amendment after being proposed by the legislature be approved by a majority of the votes cast at an election of members of the legislature. Those are not unreasonable restrictions. It ought not to be too easy to amend the fundamental law. Pressure groups with their private advantage to serve ought not to be placed in a position to gain an easy acceptance of their schemes.

Changes in the constitution that the people really desire will not fail of passage because of present restrictions. Any time, for example, that the people of Illinois want a state income tax in addition to the federal one, they will vote for it. The large majorities recorded for statewide bond issues to construct the waterway, build highways, pay the soldiers' bonus, etc., prove that it is by no means impossible to obtain approval of the majority of the voters casting ballots in a general election, if the people really favor the proposal.

The people of Illinois have often been told that unless they approved this or that amendmend of the constitution, dreadful consequences would ensue. Governments would be penniless, industry would flee the state; banks would go out of business, or some other catastrophe would occur. None of these things has happened.

The people can be counted upon to know when there is real need for a change in the fundamental law. In this connection it is well to bear in mind that the Bill of Rights is an integral part of the Constitution and if it becomes easy for pressure groups to work their will, the fundamental civil liberties will be jeopardized along with all the rest of the Constitution.

A NOT SO GAUDY SUNFLOWER.

The Truman senatorial committee has been investigating the Sunflower ordnance plant at De Soto, Kas. Sen. Truman and Sen. Brewster of the committee announced their conclusion, from the evidence taken, that the taxpayers' loss on the construction of the plant, estimated at between 25 and 30 millions, was due principally to inefficient labor.

As an example, the army's area engineer, Lt. Col. E. E. Taylor, testified that of 1,800 steamfitters on the pay roll at one time, 400 had had no previous experience at that supposedly skilled trade. Yet these unskilled workers were drawing from $120 to $135 a week.

The answer to that one is simple. They were steamfitters to the paymaster because they had a card in the AFL plumbers and steamfitters union, and they had the cards because they paid their initiation fees and dues. The losses on the Sunflower plant are a minor portion of the cost the country has paid for Mr. Roosevelt's no-strike policy, which is becoming a strike policy as the administration becomes hesitant about giving the unions whatever they demand. The AFL's price for its no strike pledge was a closed shop [and exclusion of the CIO] on all war construction. Every worker had to pay the union to work, but when he paid he got the wages of a skilled craftsman, regardless of whether he was trained to earn them.

THEY'LL NONE OF THEM BE MISSED.

A bill is before the house at Springfield to reduce the membership of the sanitary district board from nine to three. It is a good bill and it ought to be enacted. The community would lose nothing by the change and would save at the very least six salaries of $7,500 each together with the perquisites of six offices. With fewer trustees to howl for patronage perhaps the pay roll brigade could be reduced in size.

Years ago when important decisions having to do with the construction of the canal and the power plant at Lockport were still to be made, there was some sense in having a board of nine to determine policies. Latterly the affairs of the district have been confined largely to routine matters of administration. For such purposes three heads are better than nine and considerably cheaper.

THE NEED IS NOW.

[Providence Evening Bulletin.]

Word that the Roger Williams housing project in South Providence, with apartments for 744 families, "will be ready for occupancy in the near future" will arouse less enthusiasm than would be the case if similar promises regarding the same project had not been made several times before.

Originally scheduled for opening last fall, it was later announced that the first families probably would be admitted in December. But June is now here, and still nobody is living in the huge development, despite the assertion by representatives of the builders that "all the apartments are ready for occupancy and have been ready for at least seven or eight weeks."

Meanwhile, the housing office of the state council of defense reports a critical shortage of dwelling accommodations in the Providence area, with only 800 vacant tenements in a district containing 350,000 people. Certainly, if the Roger Williams development is ever going to be needed, the time is right now. It is devoutly to be hoped, therefore, that the latest promise that it will be ready "in the near future" will prove reliable.

ZOOT SUIT CHARIVARI.

The zoot suit rampage in Los Angeles seems to have explosive possibilities and, therefore, this column will sit on the fence until the civic and military authorities in that alleged paradise discover a logical explanation of the cussedness. We suspect, however, that dance halls and dames will be found in the background of this bizarre quarrel. Riots are not bred by differences in taste regarding matters of costume.

The trousers of the zoot suit recall the post-war "Oxford bags," which insidiously altered the silhouettes of the world's best dressers. These voluminous garments were even more ridiculous than the zoot pants, and their wearers looked as if they were costumed to act the hind legs of an elephant in an extravaganza. The fashion spread from the austere quadrangles of England's ancient university to young men's clubs in London, and had a strong influence upon British tailors.

The primitive and authentic Oxford bags were seldom worn in this country, but the floppy, draped trousers of London's men about town, with "reat pleats" that any zoot suiter might envy, were visible in abundance. We have seen expensively tailored dancing men in musical comedies whose legs, when waved in the air, recalled the skirt dances of Loie Fuller. The pleats stayed with us until abolished by war conservation.

Oxford's favorite practical joke in that era was de-bagging, i. e., public removal of the bags, by force. This was the customary aftermath of a wine dinner, and the victim was usually an innocent bystander, cold sober. Evelyn Waugh's satirical novel, "Decline and Fall," starts its story with a de-bagging. . . . Note that the de-trousering of zoot suiters has been characteristic of naval strategy in the streets of Los Angeles.

* * *

In their humble way the zoot suiters are following the tradition of the Incroyables [incredibles] of Paris after the revolution. These were young men of good family who went about the streets in fantastic and costly clothing. They, too, were clannish and had a habit of looking for trouble.

THE GALLANT BANNERS FLY.

(A sonnet for Flag day.)

Perhaps deserved; harsh words that once decried
The waste of steel, as in each block a pole
Beside a plaque told of the neighbor's pride
In those whose names shone on a Service Roll.
Perhaps, and yet as these bright banners blow,
So brave and gallant in the strong, free breeze,
Their rippled wonder in the streets we know
Brings courage while our sons are overseas;
And those who face the battle beg for steel
Not only in their guns but in each heart
That stays at home! God knows if their appeal
Be sooner answered, and we do our part
In fuller measure because banners fly,
Our masts of steel may proudly grace the sky!

History of the Gold Coast—XXXV.

The World's Columbian Exposition of 1893—the triumph of the city arisen from the ashes of 1871! All Chicagoans gloried in it. For the youngsters from the north side it meant an all day excursion with long rides on the trolley cars, the Illinois Central, or possibly a lake trip on the Christopher Columbus.

The year on the Gold Coast was one round of brilliant receptions, dinners, balls, and entertainment for the great, the near great, and many not great at all who had come to the fair as representatives of foreign governments, to visit friends or relatives, or just to see what a new people could do along this line. Those who came to scoff went away in admiration. Then after the ball the depression, which set in with the panic of the preceding June and which the fair had held off from the city, struck with terrific impact, bringing ruin and misery in its wake. The labor troubles of the following year created but little disturbance on the north side because of its remoteness from the scene of operations.

At this time it was divided into four parts from south to north, all having the lake on the east, and North State street as far as Division, and Dearborn avenue on to North avenue, on the west. The first part, ending at Ohio street, was given over to docks, freight houses, lumber yards, elevators, and factories interspersed with stores, dwellings and two or three story flats. At Ohio street were several large flat buildings and family hotels. The second part, the old Yankee settlement, ended at Chicago avenue. Here the old established families lived. This was a local option district, tho there was a discreet barroom in the basement of the Virginia hotel.

At Chicago avenue the neighborhood changed again. Here, extending to Oak street, was what was left of "New Buffalo" with its modest frame and brick houses and flats and an occasional relief shanty. At Bellevue place was another change and for the better. This was the new section built in the '80s. Its social life centered about the Palmer castle on the Drive. It was to this section that the newcomers were moving. It was also a local option district, tho there was an old German saloon on North State just north of Division which, having priority of occupation and numerous customers, resisted all attempts to oust it. It fell a victim to the early days of prohibition.

THE ETERNAL "IF."

If you can curb your tears and smile,
E'en tho your heart bleeds all the while,

If you can hold your head up high
And laugh, when you're inclined to cry,

If you can work with old time zest,
And think things happen for the best,

If you believe when war is o'er
That folks will with the angels soar,

If you can look at life this way,
You should survive the present day.

EPIDEMIC JAUNDICE—A VIRUS INFECTION.

We think of jaundice—the deposit of bile in the skin—as arising from an obstruction within the ducts which lead from the liver to the bowel. Normally, the output of the huge gland [liver] flows into the intestine freely, where it functions as an aid to digestion.

But there is a type of epidemic jaundice which may sweep thru a town, a neighborhood, or a school. In a recent outbreak, nearly two hundred persons were afflicted. Fortunately, recovery is the rule altho some of the victims may be ill for weeks.

The malady attacks two groups particularly—those between the ages of 6 and 10 and 20 and 30 years. The cause seems to be a filtrable virus. Examination of the blood fails to disclose any visible germ. In fact, the spirochete which is responsible for Weil's disease is absent.

Apparently the causative factor lingers in the system for three or four weeks before pronounced symptoms ensue. The sufferer may complain of fatigue and lack of appetite. More often, however, vomiting—the result of indigestion—will continue for several days. In the meantime, frequent stools may be exhibited.

The characteristic sign, yellow tinged eyeballs, is observed early and may become quite intense in a few hours. Within a day or two, the face, trunk, arms, and lower limbs will become deeply pigmented. The hue will vary from a canary yellow to a deep tan. Later, the stools, which were brownish, become claylike; and the urine takes on an orange shade. Fever will vary from 100 to 104, and pains in the head may be experienced.

The acute stage may linger for as long as two weeks. As convalescence advances, the cuticle will resume its normal tone.

Apparently we are dealing with a disorder which is about as contagious as influenza but which has a far longer starting and ending period. It is no three or four day affair. Because of the slow onset, an epidemic may persist for a year. Eight months elapsed in one region before well-being was restored generally. The "bug" attacks the bile-producing organ [the liver] which becomes inflamed and swollen. In consequence, the secretion enters the blood stream and endeavors to escape via the urine or find a lodging place in the epidermis.

Efforts to trace the cause to food, water, milk, etc., have resulted in failure, altho a digestive upset nearly always precedes the appearance of jaundice. Small communities are more likely to be disturbed in this fashion than large cities and rural areas especially seem to be favorite localities.

How does the virus gain entrance to the body? The respiratory tract offers an open doorway. Much like the common cold, the ailment can spread thru sneezing, coughing, etc. In one district, the closing of school merely scattered the infection.

On recovery, however, all the patients were as healthy as ever. Appetite returned with a rush. Many remained hungry all of the time despite generous meals. The damage to the skin appears to be minor altho, in a few instances, boils and pimples prolonged disability.

SHE'S PSYCHIC.

E. M. writes: One time I was thinking so strongly of a friend that I went to see her, and her daughter was dying. Some time later I could not get another friend out of my mind. I investigated—she was in the hospital. My husband and I were visiting one evening. Suddenly I felt that we had to get home at once. When we arrived, the youngster's crib was empty. He had eluded the housekeeper and was found wandering on the street. I could go on like this for hours. Is this a trick of the imagination or what?

REPLY.

Many of us are given to premonitions. They originate largely from apprehension. You fear that a thing will happen and, lo and behold, it does. Carried to an extreme degree, this becomes thought transference—telepathy. There are thousands of reported instances.

THE PANTELLERIA TECHNIQUE, OR BOXING VERSUS SLUGGING

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, The Tribune.

VISIT TO SPRINGFIELD.

Chicago, June 9.—I have just returned from a visit to the house of representatives of the state of Illinois.

While debates were being held on the floor, one legislator was peeling and eating an orange, another was indulging in salted peanuts, others were smoking and chewing tobacco, frequently expectorating in the cuspidors conveniently placed by their desks; a large number were reading the morning paper or their mail, several were walking up and down the aisles, stopping to chat jovially and many times quite loudly to their various "distinguished colleagues." There were at least three whom I could see from my seat in the gallery who were so decrepit they could scarcely walk under their own power.

We did, however, see three or four members who were paying strict attention to the discussions, even to the extent of keeping tallies when the roll was called.

In the gallery was a notorious racketeer and at least two of our representatives thought it worthwhile to leave the floor to converse with him. I heard an onlooker say, "Of course, he has quite a bit of influence." The speaker had to rap for order innumerable times during the three hour session and call for the members to "be in their seats," so that the individual speaking could be heard.

These are the men and women who make our state laws. Had they been a group of students, whether grade, high school, or college, such conduct would not be tolerated. VOTER.

REFRIGERATORS.

Chicago, June 11.—We wanted to purchase an electric icebox. This is what happened: Newspapers advertise electric iceboxes, so my husband decided to make inquiries. He was told only defense workers or persons living in government-owned buildings could purchase them.

My husband is a truck driver and is in and out of defense factories all day long. My two sons enlisted to defend this country, and if that isn't enough defense to warrant us the privilege of purchasing an electric icebox, won't some one please tell me what else I need? MRS. EDITH DULBERG.

THE BUROCRATIC WAY.

Chicago, June 8.—I visited my ration board to obtain a certain typed application. The young lady informed me that the party who takes care of this certain form was at home sick. When I asked her if there was any one else who could type the form for me she replied, "O, no, she's the only one who does that. You'll have to come back some day next week because I don't think she'll be back before then."

Could any one inform me if these forms will be discontinued if this young lady doesn't come back, or will they obtain some one who will carry on this work, or will they just close the board? L. S.

PAUL HOFFMAN.

Coloma, Mich., June 10.—Why not a successful business man as a Presidential candidate in 1944? I would suggest Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker corporation. This man is a doer, not a campaign orator, of which we have had plenty.

CHARLES THOMAS ROSS.

SUMMER COURT SESSIONS.

Chicago, June 7.—The Chicago Bar association, we are told today, has withdrawn its proposal submitted a month ago to the civil branches of our Circuit and Superior courts that our judges stay on the job this summer and enjoy the novelty of trying to catch up with their back work. According to the news item, the bar association's sudden return to circumspection is prompted by the following state of affairs:

Our judges have given every indication of being only too willing and eager to work during July, August, and September, but——

The sheriff's office has pointed out that the plan would interfere with vacation schedules for bailiffs and janitresses;

Jurors are too hard to get because of the demands of war industries;

The plan would call for added expense, and lawyers have been told that they must guarantee payment of court costs, should a case be dismissed for want of prosecution.

Where, except in Cook county, could you find such profound logic?

Are the bailiffs and janitresses going to be gone for 10 weeks, and at full pay?

Will jurors be more plentiful in October than in July?

What added expense could there possibly be—unless the judges are contemplating the hitherto unheard of idea of refusing to accept the $288.46 a week each that the people of Illinois are expected to pay them for administering right and justice under the law, "promptly and without delay," as the Constitution so quaintly puts it?

FRANK J. HART.

FLORENCE MAYBRICK ON THE TENT CIRCUIT.

Harvey, Ill., June 10.—From Mr. Avery's interesting story of Florence Maybrick in the graphic section of THE TRIBUNE of June 6 an important phase of her career was omitted. In August, 1908, I was one of several thousand persons who saw and heard Mrs. Maybrick on the Chautauqua platform at Owensboro, Ky. No doubt she made many appearances that season, as the Chautauqua as an institution was then in its heyday.

I remember nothing of the substance of her address but have the impression that she was of pleasing presence and delivery. She was beyond question the greatest drawing feature of that assembly, which lasted perhaps 10 days, and I think she had the sympathy and approval of her audience. She was said at the time to be devoting her life to helping those who were or had been in prison. W. FOSTER HAYES.

WANTS LEWIS AT PEACE TABLE.

Chicago, June 9.—When the war ends there will be a great amount of bargaining at the peace conferences. If I had my choice, I would lay the blue chips on John L. Lewis to protect the interests of this nation. I simply do not see any New Deal pussyfooters and buck passers as qualified to protect the interests of this nation. It will require a man with guts to deal with Uncle Joe, and Lewis is the man that can do the job. A. V. ANDERSON.

HE DOESN'T KNOW AMERICANS.

Chicago, June 4.—Leo M. Cherne predicts extremely slow demobilization after the war and that "a standing army of considerable magnitude will remain years beyond the armistice."

If he thinks that the "civilians in uniform" are going to be forced into becoming professional soldiers after this war, he is not as well acquainted with the temperament of the American people as an "expert" should be.

The people of the United States are willing to accept the present war time regimentation and repression as a necessary adjunct to the winning of the war but because they do so is by no means an indication that they will stand further pushing around after the all clear.

When normal constitutional rights are restored to the people any politician who expects to remain in public life had better not take part in any attempt to extend the time of the service of the conscripted portion of the army beyond that absolutely necessary to assure the end of the present conflict. W. J. TAYLOR.

SAILOR'S PURSE.

Navy Pier, Chicago, June 8.—Saturday night I lost my wallet, containing $13 and my identification card, in one of the local theaters. Monday it was sent to me thru the mail. Nothing was missing and the sender did not include his name, therefore I have no one to thank.

I'm leaving Chicago soon, and I feel that I can't leave without expressing my gratitude to some one. To me, this has been the climax of a wonderful six months in Chicago. I think Chicago is the friendliest, most hospitable city in the world and I shall always remember my happy days here. As long as we have this, we'll always know we have something worth fighting for. GEORGE RAY LAMB JR.

SPOILED CHILD.

Chicago, June 10.—This proposal of gas rationing for the midwest states can be likened to the actions of a spoiled child. Because the east must do without gas on account of transportation, they don't want the rest of the country to have any either. Might as well ask the farmer to go without meat because the city people can't have all they want. JULIAN SPENCER.

SURNAME CHANGED.

Chicago, June 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Some time after my two sons were born we shortened our name. Their birth certificates, accordingly, do not show the name they now use and a great deal of explanation is called for whenever proof of their age is needed. 1. How can we remedy the matter? 2. Would it be possible to re-register them under their present name? C. B.

1. An affidavit should be sufficient to explain the discrepancy between the two names.
2. No. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CHICAGO HEROES, 2 MIGHTY MITES, BACK FROM WAR

Turret Gunners Receive Joyous Welcome.

A pair of mighty little men, two five-foot four-inch turret gunners of the army air forces and veterans of smashing bombing missions against the axis all over the world, were welcomed back home yesterday by joyous relatives and friends.

On the south side, there was a wild reception for Staff Sergt.

Johnny [Got Seven Zeros] Foley, 25 years old, son of Mrs. Marguerite Foley Sheehy, 7345 Maplewood avenue. Johnny fought the Japs over Midway, Buna, and in the Coral and Bismarck seas.

Chinatown Turns Out.

All Chinatown turned out to catch a glimpse of her own "native son," Staff Sergt. Lee Wong Gem, 22, who was born in Omaha, but spent his boyhood around 22d street shooting at garbage cans and imagining each was one of his hereditary Japanese foes. Wong Gem, who has been in the European theater, said he'd like to trade places with Foley in the future to get a crack at the Japs. Johnny said it would be all right with him so long as he can keep on shooting at something.

Johnny's family had no advance notice of his arrival at Chicago airport, just seven days after he took off from Brisbane. In fact his mother was in church.

It was her first sight of Johnny in 19 months. He was drafted Nov. 4, 1941 and, after brief training, was sent to New Guinea as a gun cleaner. Without target shooting drill, he was pressed into service as a top turret gunner to replace a man with failing eyesight.

Gets Zero at First Try.

After his first flight in a plane on May 19, 1942, he went on his first raid two days later and hit Jap targets over Lae. His Martin Marauder was returning to base when the squadron ran into a flight of 20 Zeros. He pressed the trigger for the first time and blasted his first Zero from the sky. He got his next Zero a few minutes later and admitted that a "gunner's job was real thrilling."

"Our toughest fight was June 9, 1942," he said. "Twelve minutes before we got to our target our flight of eight bombers met about 15 Zeros. We fought them all the way to the target and for 38 minutes on the way back. I got a shot at the last Zero to keep up the fight and he went down."

Awarded Air Medal.

Johnny was awarded the air medal and was twice recommended for the distinguished flying cross for other feats that brought his bag of enemy planes to seven by last Jan. 10. He was slightly hurt in a takeoff crash in which all other members of the crew—seven men—were killed. The plane was on its way to Australia for repairs.

Sergt. Wong Gem participated in 50 missions over France, Holland, North Africa, and Italy and officially is credited with shooting down a Messerschmitt 109 and a Focke-Wulf 190.

Member of Fort Crew.

The Chinese hero was a member of a Flying Fortress crew commanded by Capt. Peter O'Carroll. Their plane, the Adele Angel, was riddled by bullets and anti-aircraft fire on virtually every flight, but always returned to its base despite amazing damage, Wong Gem said. He said his squadron has yet to suffer its first casualty in many months of action, and as far as he knows, the Adele Angel is still demonstrating its ability to weather any kind of storm on the war front.

Sergt. Wong Gem holds the air medal with three oak leaf clusters and also has been recommended for the distinguished flying cross. His uncle, Chan Kwan Leo, president of the Chinese Relief and Benevolent association, and Mayor Gerald H. Moye of Chinatown are arranging a dinner this week in honor of the hero.

LEGAL SPECIALISTS

This is the fourth article of a series describing appointments open in the provost marshal general's office [post-war military government division].

Men, 38 to 55, who have served at least five years as head of a legal department of the federal government or an important state or local agency, involving broad legal and administrative experience and important policy making functions, may be eligible for a commission. Men with private practice experience handling important legal matters, particularly in connection with public agencies, or men who are experts in international law or the laws of countries likely to be occupied, also may be eligible for a commission.

A knowledge of one or more modern foreign languages is almost mandatory but may be waived in exceptional instances. By far the largest number of appointments will be of men having experience as trial lawyers.

Applications should be made at the Chicago Officer Procurement District Office, 20 North Wacker Drive.

J. D. C. writes: "I saw one item in your column which said it was a part of a series on the navy supply corps. Will you be repeating the series or how can I get further information or copies?"

ANSWER: The navy supply corps series started on May 20 with an item on purchasing agents, followed by administrators, material control, stock control, shipping experts, general service officers, etc. These items have been mimeographed and are available if you will send us a self addressed stamped envelope.

R. H. asks: "Can farm managers, mill operators, foremen, etc., be deferred?"

ANSWER: "Farm managers, foremen, and superintendents who are actively engaged in supervising, directly or thru subordinates, the processes in specific agricultural [production or] service may be deferred and those individuals who exercise independent judgment and assume extensive responsibility for specific agricultural services may be considered, but persons who are concerned mainly or solely with the distribution, clerical, legal, tax, and other non-operating phases, or foremen of laboring gangs, etc.," may not be considered. Custom grist milling is listed among the essential activities. The activities noted as non-deferrable are not listed as "non-essential" and if the registrant is a father he could still be deferred, but possibly not otherwise.

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

MUMPS PATIENT FALLS 4 FLOORS AND BREAKS LEG

Among the hundreds of exhibits that will be shown in the army ordnance exhibition to be presented by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in coöperation with the United States army ordnance department will be one featuring display panels and dioramas that illustrate the great progress made in conversion engineering. The exhibition is scheduled to open the week-end of June 20. Many of the panels and dioramas already have been placed in Tribune Tower, which will be the site of a section of the show.

Shortly after Maj. Gen. L. H. Campbell Jr. took office as chief of ordnance more than a year ago, he directed the formation of the conversion engineering unit, the assignment of which was to obtain more ordnance production from less critical metal, with fewer workmen, on noncritical machines, but without any sacrifice of quality. The conversion engineering program, carried on for about a year, has produced remarkable results, which visitors to the exhibition will note from a study of the panels and dioramas. These disclose how time, money, and material have been saved by changes in ordnance manufacturing thru improved engineering.

The exhibition will continue, according to present plans, for about one month, and will be open each day from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m., with army men in attendance to explain the exhibits. These will be arranged not only in Tribune Tower, but also in a large tent between the Tower and the river, in the triangular space just south of the Tower, and in Nathan Hale court, between the Tower and the W-G-N studio. The largest single item to be on display is an 8-inch mobile rifle, weighing 48 tons.

NIGHT CLERK ROBBED.

Reid Wood, 60 years old, night clerk at the Lynch-Plaza hotel, 5530 Winthrop avenue, was bound with wire, and his mouth sealed with adhesive tape yesterday by a robber who fled with $19.50.

GREEN PRAISES MILITIA FOR ITS PART IN FLOOD

The state militia saved hundreds of lives and property worth thousands of dollars during the recent floods, Gov. Dwight H. Green told 300 officers who organized the Illinois Reserve Militia Officers association at the Morrison hotel yesterday.

"Your effective flood relief work assured the state the militia can be depended upon fully to cope with any emergency," Gov. Green said. He pointed to the militia's fast growth—its strength is now 7,000 two and a half years after organization—and recalled the men did "Trojan service guarding bridges, highways, railroads, plants and other installations for six months after the Pearl Harbor attack."

Brig. Gen. Leo M. Boyle, adjutant general, said the militia had overcome growing pains and had become one of the best, if not the best, state military organization in the United States. Brig. Gen. Louis M. Stacy, Peoria, was elected president. Other officers are Col. Elden L. Belt, Chicago; Col. Henry J. Schiermeyer, Edwardsville; and Col. Lawrence Davidson, Chicago, vice presidents, Lt. Col. Martin F. Hogan, Chicago, secretary; and Lt. Col. William E. Swanson, Chicago, treasurer.

ROB ROOM CLERK.

After binding the room clerk, Louis Owen, 52 years old, a robber stole $17 yesterday at the Ruth Manor hotel, 5518 Winthrop avenue. Owen reported to police.

INSTALMENT XXV.
CONTENTMENT.

Mr. Palton had scarcely left and Mrs. Richards was in the kitchen preparing their supper when Isabel came in. She came in quietly and stood in the door leading into the dining room.

Paul looked up and put out his hand. "I was listening for you," he said. She came to him slowly, almost reluctantly. He looked at her anxiously. He had not seen that woebegone look on her face for a long time now. She had been crying.

"I lost my job," she said. "O, Paul!"

"Never mind," he told her, "I need you anyhow. We're going to move. We've got to go house hunting. How would you like to move to University Town and keep house for me?"

"But how can we——"

"I've got it all figured out," he said. "I can borrow a little and we can use Polly's furniture and I can get some work——"

"O, Paul—then I won't have to tell them? I won't have to tell Granny—any one—they won't know I've—failed you?"

Paul pulled her down to him and kissed her.

"You haven't failed me," he said. "You've been a brick. Why, you've been a soldier. But tell me—what was it?"

It was her sales slips—mistakes in computation, in checking dresses in and out of the fitting room. She could sell but she could not attend to the details accompanying the selling.

"I'm just DUMB," she wept. "I'm just no good—first Dr. Conklin—and now——" She cried hard. Paul stroked her hair and kissed her. He gave her a little spank.

"Now, no more tears," he said, "or what will Granny think? You've had so much to bear, it's a wonder you could figure at all. Up and down all night with me—and worn out in the beginning. I'll not have you feeling badly about it. It was meant to be this way."

"But Paul, you can't walk——"

"Yes, I can. I've been practicing every day and with my crutch under my left arm and a cane in my right hand I can do fine——"

He got up and showed her, maneuvering the length of the room. After supper he sent her over to tell the Lockerbies that they were both going over with Johnny in the morning to look for a flat and to ask Mary Ellen to pack his trunk and get things ready to send over on a truck with the things Mrs. Richards had packed. Then he sent Isabel downtown to make arrangements with a truck driver. If they found a place, they would stay and Mrs. Richards would come over on the truck with their things and help them to get settled. Isabel grew wild with excitement and joy and the job was forgotten.

About 9:30 they were preparing for bed when they heard voices and laughter and a whole storm of people came up the front walk and piled into the house. It was a shower. And what a shower! Mary Ellen and Sue, and the Committee of Ten and their girls, and the poker crowd and their wives—the house was crowded to bursting. They had brought cake and coffee and Paul and Isabel unwrapped and displayed gifts—pots and pans, dishes and silver spoons, electric gadgets and table linens——.

Paul and Isabel were far too excited to sleep. Even after she had dozed off, he lay awake—thinking how blessed they were!

When they reached the University Town the next morning Patrick picked them up in his car and took them house hunting. It was really thru him that they found what they wanted and could pay for, in an old house just two blocks from the campus. The house had been divided into housekeeping apartments, unfurnished. There was one big room that had been a parlor. It had an outside entrance and it was on the ground floor. It was equipped with sink and running water and big enough so that one corner could be made into a kitchen, with the bed and dresser in the far end. It was clean, freshly papered and with plenty of windows.

"We'll take it," said Paul. He sent Isabel to telephone and he counted the coins out—paid the rent until the middle of June. Now they had a roof! In the afternoon the truck came with Mrs. Richards and by nightfall everything was in order. Patrick, who had helped all day, took Mrs. Richards home and Paul and Isabel were alone. Isabel was happy as a child, full of admiration.

"Perhaps I can get another job," she said.

"Maybe you can," he answered. "The rent's paid. Now all we have to do is eat!" He felt a fierce pride. This was the first home of his own that he had known since his mother died.

An extraordinary flame of happiness began to burn in Paul as the days passed and he found himself back in the rhythm of classes. Every one was kind and helpful. Patrick often gave Paul a lift, came to see them. Mrs. Richards' hundred dollars was melting like snow, in spite of Paul's efforts. Isabel could not cook and the messes she concocted were an affront to Paul's stomach. Paul gave her grocery money and she came home with a chromium bowl filled with colored pebbles and narcissus bulbs. When Paul watched her washing dishes he marveled that Dr. Conklin had kept her two months. He saw that Lem's helplessness and Polly's defeated struggle were reflected in Isabel's general inefficiency. Patiently he set out to teach her. His standards of housekeeping, of cleanliness and order were almost incomprehensible to her but she did want to please him and she tried. She was like a child playing house, he thought—a lovely child.

These defects were small, however. Nothing really dented the sense of well-being and happiness that filled him. He found his marriage good. His mind had never been keener. Honors began to loom again when he thought he had lost them. He was soon able to discard his crutch and his strength swarmed back. By midterm he had lost 10 pounds and on the last day of examinations they had nothing to eat all day. They were absolutely stony. But when Paul came out of his last class a wet soggy spring snow was falling and he picked up a job at once bossing a shoveling gang. He worked until 10 o'clock and went home carrying a huge steak and bread and butter. Isabel, drooping like an unwatered flower when he came in, revived at sight of food. They gorged themselves at 11 o'clock and their spirits rose in a wave of laughter and hope and love.

With midterm they had a little luck. Several seniors were dropped and Paul got two jobs. One was at the hospital from 6 until 9 every morning, where he made blood counts, gave metabolism tests, and did other chores. The other job was at the morgue where he cleaned up from 4 until 6 in the afternoon. He was gone, save for a hurried lunch, from 5:30 in the morning until 6:30 at night and had to do all his preparatory work for classes at night. Now they were "pouring it" to the seniors. There wasn't time to breathe.

Isabel got a job clerking in a candy store from 4 until 8 every evening. She made change from the till and got along all right. She was learning a little. Her cooking became simpler, and she gave up trying to make elaborate dishes. She rose early to make his breakfast. Her childishness, the sweetness of her nature made it possible to live in such extreme intimacy in the single room with her. She was neither bold nor modest, but always natural with him, as tho she had lived with him forever. The surprising thought came to him that she was not always so impractical as he thought her.

Being mistaken for a co-ed no longer interested Isabel. She was extremely, childishly proud of being a wife. She gave her name, "Mrs. Paul James," on the slightest provocation, wrote it on packages of cereal, on her paper napkin. She patronized the unmarried schoolteachers upstairs with whom she went to movies. Isabel had no resentment for the fact that Paul doled money out in small amounts. She had never had money. She spent her small earnings on clothes, gadgets, fingerwaves. She coaxed money from Paul, borrowed a quarter for the show. If he wouldn't give it to her she was philosophical.

Paul let her live her own life. He was often very tired. He worked prodigiously. There were intervals when he almost forgot her. He didn't pretend to listen to her chatter. He set his mind on his graduation as a goal toward which he took every step. His marriage, his wreck, nothing would interfere. He could take care of Isabel and go to school, and graduate and make honors as well! He could do anything!

They had visitors. Mrs. Richards came on the bus and brought Betty. Dr. Lockerbie stopped, when he had a patient at the hospital. He brought Mary Ellen and left her with Isabel. Paul saw that Mary Ellen had made up her mind to accept Isabel, to get on with her—and Isabel had no capacity for grudges whatever. So the two became good friends.

Paul longed to ask Mary Ellen about Sue. But he shut his teeth over the words. It was not natural for them to fail to mention Sue. But he would not ask. He thought of her. Not much, for he did not dwell on anything behind them, but sometimes when he came home in the clear spring twilight he would think of Sue involuntarily, of the way her face looked when he opened his eyes in Mrs. Richards' dining room and saw her there beside him, like an angel—like a dream of herself. But she was gone out of his life and he knew it. And he was content. He was far happier than he had expected to be. Perhaps he had gone into this marriage expecting so little that he was grateful for the joys it brought him and the absence of difficulties he had anticipated.

SENATOR FLAYS PLAN TO TIE U. S. IN WORLD STATE

Assails 'Union Now' Idea as Unworkable.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 13.—A permanent peace and settlement of the problems of the post-war world can be achieved only by working within the framework of existing national sovereignties and not thru the medium of a super-state modeled somewhat on the lines of our own federal union, Sen. Guy M. Gillette [D., Ia.] asserted tonight.

Sen. Gillette.

The super-state and world-wide police force advocated by the proponents of "union now" for the maintenace of a permanent peace, he said, are not feasible, not practicable and maybe not even possible.

Sen. Gillette's statements were made during his appearance on the American forum of the air, a discussion program broadcast from Washington on Sunday nights over W-G-N and Mutual. Appearing with him was Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts.

Clarence K. Streit, president of Federal Union, Inc., and author of the book, "Union Now," and Rep. Bartel J. Jonkman [R., Mich.] joined in the round-table discussion, which was on the question "Can We Organize Peace on Federal Union Lines?"

Cites Diversity of Creeds.

Sen. Gillette, who is a member of the senate foreign relations committee, said that the world has two billion people with a huge diversity of languages, cultures, colors, ideologies, and creeds but with a common right and a common ambition for peace and happiness. He added:

"The people of the world are now organized into more than 70 national political entities and separate sovereignties. Most of these nations have a heritage of pride in race, nationality, or tradition that is a potent and strong influence and often based on inherited rivalries and hostilities."

Sen. Gillette went on to say that all governments in the American concept represent a surrender of basic individual rights inherent in the people, with the hope of winning better security for other rights. All voluntary federations, he pointed out, are based on this essential concept.

Union Long Way Off.

"The creation of an organization of international authority thru any other process than this voluntary agreement is unthinkable," the senator declared. "It does not seem possible that the heterogenous elements which I have just described will be ready for such a super-state within any reasonable time."

Justice Roberts said that 150 years ago the citizens of 13 independent and sovereign states found it feasible to unite and confer on one central agency the power thought needful for their common defense and general welfare. Now the American people must decide, he said, whether they will take the lead in forming a similar world union or revert once again to the "dismal game of international intrigue."

Streit, answering a question by Jonkman, said that he advocates a union of the democracies of the world.

Flash Flood Near Peoria Routs a Dozen Families

Peoria, Ill., June 13 (AP).—More than a dozen homes were flooded, several hundred feet of tracks of the Rock Island railroad were washed out, and highway traffic on route 29 was halted today by a flash flood following a heavy rain at Sparland, 28 miles northeast of here. The Lacon fire department carried several families to safety in boats. The water subsided quickly.

OBITUARIES

J. David Dickinson.

Funeral services for J. David Dickinson, Chicago patent attorney with offices at 133 South La Salle street, who died Saturday afternoon while in an ambulance on his way to the hospital, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the Kelly mortuary in Highland Park. Dickinson, who resided at 2455 North Deer Park drive, Highland Park, was born in La Crosse, Wis., June 17, 1899. He had been active for many years in garden club activities and in Boy Scout work. He was a member of the American Bar association, Chicago and American Patent Lawyers association and of the Wine and Food society.

Ruth Kahmann.

New Haven, Conn., June 13 [Special].—Ruth Kahmann, 25 years old, a Chicago girl who became a ballerina at 17 and starred with Leon Wolzikovsky's Russian ballet in Paris and London, died here last night after a few days' illness. She was known professionally as Ruth Chanova and had been studying dramatics here. Miss Kahmann, a niece of James L. Buchanan, a vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, was training to be leading ballerina at the Metropolitan Opera house.

Mrs. Mary E. Sullivan.

Mrs. Mary E. Sullivan, widow of Eugene Sullivan, youngest brother of the late Roger C. Sullivan, Chicago Democratic party leader, died late Saturday night in Joliet, where she resided. A brother, William Fanning of Joliet, survives. Services will be held at 10 a. m. Wednesday at Our Lady of Mount Carmel church, with interment in Mount Carmel cemetery.

Isabel Storer Conover.

Funeral services for Mrs. Isabel Storer Conover, who died June 10, will be held at 2:30 p. m. today in Forest Hill cemetery, Madison, Wis. She was the widow of Lawrence P. Conover, who was for many years village attorney for Hinsdale. Mrs. Conover is survived by her daughter, Mrs. A. S. Frank, and three sons.

John J. O'Connell.

Services for John J. O'Connell, formerly of Chicago, who died June 11 in New York City where he had practiced law for 40 years, will be held from the chapel at 103 North Laramie avenue to St. Thomas Aquinas church for solemn requiem mass at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow.

OAT SHORTAGE SLOWS RIDERS ON TRIP WEST

Rose Kurek, 26 years old, and Minnie Sperla, 27, who quit making Aircobras in Buffalo last month to ride horseback to California, will get back in their saddles tomorrow to resume their jaunt from Chicago. They expect to reach Los Angeles, 2,128 miles away, in late September.

The young women started the 541 mile trip from Buffalo to Chicago on May 16, loaded with 20 pounds of clothes, two blankets, a pup tent, and lunches, and reined in here Saturday. They made 35 miles, their best yet, that day.

Miss Kurek, who is riding Black Boy, 6 years old, is making the trip for her health. She bought the horse, she said yesterday, when she found she could not get railroad accommodations to the west, or gas for her car. Miss Sperla, up on King, also a 6 year old, is going along for the ride. The horses eat three gallons of oats each day, and the riders said the oats shortage is the chief problem.

Army Sergeant Cashes In on Pal's Suspended Draft

Rockford, Ill., June 13 [Special].—Sergt. Edgar Volk of Camp Grant is cashing in on a pact he made a year and a half ago with Herman Jander of Columbus, O. They had agreed that the last one in the army would send the other a dollar every Saturday. Sergt. Volk collected his seventy-fifth dollar yesterday. Jander has an occupational deferment, which Sergt. Volk is hoping will be continued.

Address Book Can't Keep Up Wartime Pace

BY JUDITH CASS.

IT USED to be that address books required corrections once a year at most, but now it is a year around chore. For three year old Judy Sherman and her cousin, Nanny Lynde, who is two, changing addresses this spring meant finding a playmate.

Since April their mothers, Mrs. Roger Sherman [Butter Wilson] and Mrs. Samuel A. Lynde II. [Teenie Wilson], have been sharing a house at 615 Lincoln street, Winnetka. For the time being Lt. [j. g.] Lynde is with them, as he is stationed at Great Lakes. Lt. Sherman, however, is in Cambridge, Mass. at the communications school at Harvard university. He and his family returned from New Orleans, La., in March. Mrs. Sherman plans to go east to visit him early in September.

Capt. F. B. Johnston Jr. and Wife Enjoying Visit.

Enjoying a brief little whirl in Chicago are Capt. and Mrs. Frank B. Johnston Jr., who have been staying with Mrs. Johnston's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Otis. The Johnstons will leave tomorrow to return to Yellow Springs, O., where their infant daughter will be waiting to welcome them.

Mrs. Edward Day has returned to Hubbard Woods to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth F. Burgess, while Lt. [j. g.] Day is at sea. He and his wife had been living in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Graham Fairbank is spending a few days in Philadelphia with Ensign Fairbank, who expects to see active duty shortly with the navy.

Mrs. Lefens Porter has gone west to be with Lt. [j. g.] Porter in San Francisco. Their little daughter, Linda, and her grandmother, Mrs. Frank S. Porter, are in Pasadena with Mrs. Porter's sister, Miss Katherine Lefens, where young Mrs. Porter will join them after Lt. Porter sails.

Ann Kittermaster Plans Honeymoon in Canada.

A two room log cabin with no running water or other modern conveniences at Mossbank, Saskatchewan, will be the first home of Miss Ann Kittermaster and Pilot Officer Harold William Walpole Bucke of the royal Canadian air force, who are to be married in Saskatchewan about June 23. Plans for a wedding in Highland Park's Trinity church at the end of the month were given up by Miss Kittermaster when she and her fiancé decided to make the most of his 14 day leave by being married in the west and having a longer time to spend at idyllic Banff, in the Canadian Rockies.

The bride-to-be and her father and brother, Douglas A. Kittermaster and young Jim Kittermaster, a student at Lake Forest academy, will go west on June 20. Miss Mary McSweeney and Miss Ann Speed, who were to have been bridesmaids,

Chicago Woman's Aid Gives Annual Picnic for Blind Tomorrow

The 20th annual picnic for Chicago's blind, sponsored by the Chicago Woman's Aid, will be given at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow in Douglas park near the refectory. The Douglas park site was chosen because of its nearness to the Industrial Home for the Blind. Altho bus transportation is not being provided for all guests this year, any blind person unable to reach the park may obtain transportation by calling Mrs. E. A. Feldmann, chairman of arrangements, at Superior 8500, or the Aid office at Central 9565.

Cynthia Stair Dalrymple Engaged to Chicagoan

Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart Dalrymple of Minneapolis, Minn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Cynthia Stair, to Edward Johnson Phelps Zimmerman, son of William Zimmerman Jr., assistant commissioner of Indian affairs, of Chicago and Washington, D. C. Miss Dalrymple was graduated from Miss Hall's school and attended Smith college. She now is studying law at the University of Virginia. She made her debut in Minneapolis in 1940.

Mr. Zimmerman was graduated from Harvard in 1941, a member of Hasty Pudding—Institute 1770, the Lampoon, and Signet. He also is studying at the University of Virginia law school.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Welti of Lexington, Mass., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred, to Lt. David A. Hoadley of the marines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Hoadley of Dorchester avenue. The wedding will take place next month. Miss Welti, a graduate of the Principia Junior college, attended the Yale Drama school. Lt. Hoadley also was graduated from the Principia and attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Maj. and Mrs. Barton F. Walker of the Oak Crest, Evanston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Mead, to Corp. George Edward Dake Jr., of the army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dake of Parkersburg, W. Va., formerly of Muskegon, Mich. Miss Walker was graduated from Sullins college academy at Bristol, Va. Corp. Dake attended the Michigan college of mining and technology and now is at the University of Kentucky studying army engineering.

At tea in their Glencoe home last Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Kingsbury announced the engagement of their daughter, Lolita, to Pvt. Kenneth W. Seyffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Seyffer of Boston, Mass., formerly of Cleveland, O. Miss Kingsbury just has completed her freshman year at Bradford college. Her fiancé was graduated from Colgate university and now is stationed with the army at Fort Meade, Maryland.

The engagement of Miss Patricia Woley Lange to Donald Hugh Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Spicer Burns of Chicago, was announced at a dinner party on Saturday night in the Pump room of the Ambassador East hotel. Miss Lange, daughter of Mrs. G. Woley Lange of Evanston and of Liston T. Lange of Skokie, and her fiancé are seniors at Culver-Stockton college in Missouri. Mr. Burns, a member of the marine reserve corps, expects to enter the service shortly.

Mrs. Frank J. Hennessy of South Troy street announces the engagement of her daughter, Eileen Rita, to Sergt. Joseph E. Halm, United States army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Halm of South Spaulding street. Sergt. Halm is stationed at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin. The wedding will take place on July 3 in St. Rita's church and will be followed by a reception and supper at the Bismarck hotel.

Helen Taylor Symons Weds Aviation Cadet

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Symons of South Hoyne avenue announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen Taylor, to Aviation Cadet Frederick O. Paige III., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paige Jr. of Philadelphia, formerly of Hammond, Ind. Mrs. Symons went west for the wedding, which took place on June 5 in Phoenix, Ariz. Mr. Paige, who is in training at Thunderbird field, Arizona, and his bride are living in Phoenix. Both were graduated from DePauw university.

The marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Florence of Slaton, Tex., to Flight Officer Adam H. Putz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Putz of St. Charles, took place on June 1 in the chapel at Bowman field, Kentucky, where Mr. Putz is stationed with the army glider corps. Mr. Putz and his bride spent a few days in St. Charles with his parents before returning to Louisville, Ky., to live.

Announcement is made of the marriage on June 5 of Miss Shirley Sackett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Brown Sackett of Morris, Ill., to Wilford Edward Railing of Penn's Grove, N. J., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Franklin Railing of Baltimore, Md. The wedding took place in the Morris Federated church and was followed by a reception at the Morris Country club. Mr. Railing and his bride will be at home in Carney's Point, N. J. The bride attended Ferry Hall, Mount Vernon seminary and Connecticut college. Mr. Railing attended Johns Hopkins university and received his master's degree there.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ryder of La Grange announce the marriage on May 31 in San Marcos, Tex., of their daughter, Adabelle, to Aviation Cadet Donald Sherwin Knief, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Knief of Oak Park. The bride attended La Grange Junior college. Cadet Knief, a graduate of Armour Institute of Technology, is attending the army air force navigation school at San Marcos and will receive his wings the end of this month. He and his bride are living in New Braunfels, Tex.

Thru the Looking Glass

Before you start on that vacation or on your series of summer weekends we'd like to remind you again that over exposure to sun can do your hair an awful lot of harm.

When you get right down to it, the supply of natural oil is just about the best asset your hair can have. It's what gives it the most highly desirable of all qualities, the sheen that is even more important than shade.

Too much sun actually will sunburn your hair and will sap it of all the oil it needs. What's more, it will affect the color. When you bake your hair in the sun you're just asking for brittle strands and a lack of luster—and you'll get it.

During the sunny months brush your hair more than ever, and massage your scalp more faithfully than ever, so that the oil supply is well up to par. When you sun bathe wear a scarf or a cap of some kind. If that's out of the question be sure, before you go into the sun, to apply a dressing or a protective.

Treat your hair even more tenderly than you do your skin. Hair doesn't recover from sunburn nearly as quickly as skin does. If you are so indiscreet as to burn your hair to a crisp this summer you'll be even more regretful next fall, when you want a permanent, than you'll be a day after the tragedy.

Shield your locks from intense sun, and keep them nicely oiled all summer long if you want your hair to be beautiful next fall and winter.

Quick Fiction.

Remember the composition classes in grammar school where the students were shown a picture and told to write a story about it? And do it in 15 minutes? At a Chicago night school the instructor of a fiction class last week posed a similar problem to his pupils. They were to write a brief story about the person who wrote or answered the following advertisment:

WANTED: An unattractive woman who can quote famous sayings extemporaneously. Send photograph, give age, and state if willing to travel.

The winning story was:

"Joe stood at the long counter, a sheet of paper in his hand. He cocked his head critically and reread his words: [Ad quoted.]

"He turned the paper over to the clerk. '$3 for one insertion,' the man said calmly.

"Joe blinked his weary blue eyes, from a pocket stiff with dirt withdrew three peanuts and spread them on the counter.

"That morning, for the first time in 20 years, Joe had been able to pick the lock on the infirmary gate."

Metropolitan Mosaic.

A sunny day at last and the reflection of clouds lying in the blue of the lake like flat white ships . . . Joe, the dancing monkey, back on Ohio street for his fourth summer, this time with a pipe in his mouth. . . . The upper Michigan avenue exercycle girl pedaling north again and as hefty as ever. . . . The bewildering grocery advertisement: "Peacock's bulldog sardines." Fish, flesh, or fowl? . . . The adjacent signs on a millinery shop seen by Maurice Lazare: "Air conditioned . . . salesladies wanted."

This Changing World.

A Chicago woman, wife of an army colonel at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., visited the camp recently and parked her car near the administration building. While she was sitting in it, a group of soldiers approached and emitted shrill whistles of pleasure. The woman brightened visibly and peeped into her rear view mirror. "Hmmm," she said happily to herself. "I can't be doing so badly after all." With that she surreptitiously touched a lipstick to her lips and rearranged her hair. By this time the soldiers were within two feet of the car, and their voices floated clearly in to her. "See?" the leader was saying. "What did I tell you? Four new tires!"

More on Morale.

From Blair Walliser, formerly with W-G-N and now a lieutenant in the coast guard, comes a tale of a coast guard transport which was fairly bursting with soldiers on a recent trip. So crowded was the ship that some of the officers were assigned to sleep in troop quarters for morale purposes. One night an ingenious G. I. asked a lieutenant why the officers were sleeping there. "For morale purposes," the lieutenant replied. "O," anxiously, "is there something wrong with the officers' morale?"

Required Reading.

A Hammond school child was tardy the other day and brought the following penciled excuse to Rhea Frank, her teacher:

"She had a turble hed ake an I keep home. Her throgh was sore. I had to carrie he with me to get her alonce from her dada."

Adeline Zach's Singing Shows Improvement

Adeline Zach, young mezzo soprano who appeared in Kimball hall recital Sunday afternoon, apparently has been working hard since she sang at the same concert hall earlier in the season. Her voice retains its warmth and luster, but it is steadier, with a more dependable singing line, and she uses it with greater lightness and flexibility. Supported by the competent accompaniments of Robert Macdonald, she proved that she has taken a firm stride in the right direction.

This was particularly marked in songs of the classic style, such as Torelli's "Tu Lo Sai" and Gluck's "O Del Mio Dolce Ardor," which understood the value of the reenforced line in a climactic phrase, and it also improved a group of Russian songs, which had vivacity and a growing hint of the storyteller's instinctive effort to reach an audience.

Less successful were songs of Chausson, Trunk, and Marx, which demand concentration of mood and a flair for romantic style. Miss Zach sang them from the outside, which is fatal. Nor was this group in English as attractive as it should have been because of faulty enunciation.

Judging by her improvement in a few months' time, Miss Zach is serious about singing. It will help her to be more careful about enunciation, more fastidious about accent, and to conquer that tendency to go sharp in the top voice. She has too much to offer to be content with partial success.

"I WALKED WITH A ZOMBIE."

Directed by Jacques Tourneur.
Presented at the Grand.

THE CAST.

Betsy Connell	Frances Dee
Wesley Rand	James Ellison
Paul Holland	Tom Conway
Mrs. Rand	Edith Barrett
Dr. Maxwell	James Bell
Jessica	Christine Gordon
Alma	Teresa Harris

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Trained nurses are accustomed to finding themselves in peculiar situations. Certainly none could top the case assigned to Nurse Betsy Connell, the girl who "walked with a zombie."

This latest horror picture is plenty skeery, but it's mostly notable for the fact that it brings Frances Dee back to us, looking as young and delectable as she did before she deserted the screen to become the wife of Joel McCrea. She hasn't forgotten how to act, either. She is natural, sincere, and likable as always. . . . You never feel that Frances is acting. She just—IS.

The story background is a sugar plantation on an island in the West Indies. Hither Miss Connell has come to care for the wife of the owner. Mrs. Holland is a beautiful woman who, as the result of a consuming attack of fever, has lost will power and the ability to speak. She goes thru life like a sleep walker. . . . You learn that she had transferred her affections to her husband's half brother, Wesley Rand, before sickness struck her down. . . . He is employed by Paul Holland on the plantation. . . . Here also the boys' quiet mother labors among the blacks. . . . Little would you suspect to what lengths so gentle a creature would go for the purpose of saving her sons.

When Betsy discovers suddenly that she is in love with her employer she decides to make him happy by curing his Jessica. . . . She doesn't know that his feeling for Mrs. Holland has gone as flat as yesterday's pancake.

Betsy resorts to voodoo with weird results.

Miss Dee's two leading men are smart and handsome. Other players give excellent accounts of themselves. . . . The film is creepily gotten up and the director had a nice sense of shivers.

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood

—By Hedda Hopper—

Hollywood, Cal., June 13.—Went to see Roz Russell and her baby. He's the spitting image of his old man. Roz showed me his presents—enough to take care of 10, which is the size family she wants. Boys from 6th army division of Camp Cook sent him a locket and gold identification tag. Crippled children at Children's hospital named a crib for him. A wire from Ethel Merman read, "Eight pounds of sugar ain't bad these days." Joan Blondell's telegram ran, "You're tellin' me." Roz's brother is fighting overseas, and young sister Mary Jane, who scorned a screen test, is now married and working for the OWI in Washington. I asked Roz if she'd play Shirley Temple's mother. She said, "I'd love to if I can fit it in with my schedule." I told her several of our glamor gals were a little hurt that even their names were suggested for it, and she said, "O, shucks! It's the part that's important. Why, at 25 I made my first hit playing 'Craig's Wife'—a woman of 45. Did that do me any harm?" I'll say it didn't.

Luck Both Ways.

Lou Costello is champing at the bit to get back to work, but when he returns, after a nine months' illness, he's going to be about $50,000 ahead of the game. Just two months before he came down sick, he took out a Lloyd's policy which pays him $1,250 a week. It's tax free.

Beatrice Kay doesn't know why George Jessel should be so proud of his new book, but every time he attends an opening night and audience shouts "Author!" Jessel takes a bow. Incidentally, Joe Schenck had never read his book.

Allan Jones' next will be "You're a Lucky Fellow, Mr. Smith," written around a song used in "Buck Privates."

Madame Ouspenskaya closed her dramatic school here until war's ended. She's returning east to do a couple of plays in the Bucks county, Pennsylvania, theater. Will sign any minute for Rose Franken's new play, which is slightly reminiscent of "Claudia," but with a much more serious tone.

I'm Asking, Too.

Arthur Horman, Warner writer, said he was driving home to Malibu and picked up a couple of 20 year old sailors who wore overseas ribbons. They asked, "What's all this zoot suit stuff, and why do they pick on sailors? We're back after seven months at sea, got 72 hours, headed for Los Angeles. On arrival, about 20 of these birds came along and said, 'Get out of town quick—we don't allow sailors here.' Well, my pal here said, 'What's the matter with us?' Just then they started picking on us. Before we got very far, a couple of coast guardsmen came along in a station wagon and took us back to San Pedro and told us not to come back to Los Angeles or Hollywood. We don't know why. Now we're on our way to Ventura. Do you think we can find any fun up in Ventura?"

What a Picture.

What lucky studio will buy the rights to "Roughly Speaking," by Louise Randall Pierson? It's one of the most fascinating books I've ever read. As American as Boston baked beans. Characters sturdy as Plymouth rock. Mrs. Pierson, American mother, could, if she had the stuff to do it with, lick Hitler singlehanded. She's licked wealth, poverty, brought up five children. There's a woman I'd fly thousands of miles to meet. It's called "The Biography of an Uninhibited Soul." She is. Only wish we had more like her.

Brian Donlevy is doing narration on documentary film "The City That Stopped Hitler—Heroic Stalingrad," by request of soviet government. They liked him in "Wake Island." Laurence Olivier narrated it for the British public.

Eleanor Powell, since her seven years at Metro, will sit for a spell and make no plans whatever. She was in "I Dood It" nine whole months.

Jane Withers, bicycling thru Beverly Hills, lost her handbag. In it was a gold key to her house which her mother gave her on her 17th birthday. She's offered a big reward.

Copy Cat.

Betty Hutton was engaged to Perc Westmore—didn't marry him. Now she's going to give him some competition by opening her own beauty shop—or so she says.

Bide Dudley, dean of dramatic critics, is spending his first vacation in years here with his grandson, Butch Jenkins.

Ann Corio and Nancy Kelly, who used to room together, didn't recognize each other on the sunny sands of Palm Springs.

While being interviewed on a radio station in Mexico City last week the Andrews sisters began giving out with some swing jargon. The confused interpreter interrupted with, "Please—only in English!"

Mrs. Cugat [Xavier's wife] is being urged to take out a rumba band of her own. She used to be Dolores Del Rio's stand-in.

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

It is only natural that a defender should try to protect as many suits as possible, but he will find from bitter experience that it is fatal to disperse his forces too widely. Consider this case:

North, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ A K J 5
♦ J 2
♣ 10 4 2

WEST	EAST
♠ Q 8	♠ J 10 9 5
♥ 9 7 6	♥ Q 10 8 4
♦ 10 9 8 6 3	♦ 7 5
♣ Q 8 5	♣ A K 3

SOUTH
♠ 7 6 4
♦ A K Q 4
♣ J 9 7 6

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 spade	Pass	2 diamonds	Pass
2 hearts	Pass	2 no trump	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

Despite the diamond bid on his right, West could see no better opening than the diamond 10. This was taken by the jack, and declarer then cashed his three remaining diamonds, discarding two clubs from dummy. Immediately, East found himself in difficulties. On the third diamond lead, he could not reconcile himself to a spade or a heart discard, hence, let go a club. On the fourth diamond he scarcely could let go the ace or king of clubs and sorrowfully parted with a heart. Apparently he was determined to guard the spade suit at all costs.

Now declarer took the heart finesse to the jack. East won and cashed the club king. It was no doubt interesting but scarcely material at this point that West signaled a frantic "come on" with the eight spot. East shifted to the jack of spades. Dummy won and cashed the ace and king of hearts, dropping East's ten and eight, and establishing the heart five for the fulfilling trick. In simple fairness, it must be admitted that this was a difficult hand to defend. Nevertheless, East should have acquitted himself more favorably. When declarer cashed his second and third diamond tricks it should have been quite apparent to East that there would be no chance to defeat the contract if declarer had the spade queen. This would give him three spade tricks and at least three diamonds. If East threw away a club he would merely put himself in the position where this expert declarer would be sure to throw him on lead in clubs or spades and, if necessary, force him to return a heart to dummy's tenace. Thus East's entire defense should have been conducted on the supposition that declarer did not have either the spade queen or the club queen. On that basis East's first discard should have been either a spade or a heart, and his second discard [if declarer cashed his fourth diamond trick] should have been from the other major. In no case could East afford to let go a club and thereby inevitably block communications between his hand and partner's. The correct method of discarding would have killed declarers' chances.

Bean Sprouts Potent Source of Vitamin C

Graham Cracker Ice Cream.
[Serves six.]

½ cup brown sugar
¼ cup milk
1 egg, beaten
½ cup graham crackers, rolled fine
1 cup top milk or coffee cream
1 teaspoon vanilla

Dissolve brown sugar in milk and add beaten eggs, then crushed graham crackers. Fold in the day old top milk or coffee cream which has been well chilled and whipped stiff, add vanilla. Turn into freezing tray of mechanical refrigerator. Stir two or three times while freezing. DOROTHY M. MAHN, Orleans, Neb.

There's a new popular interest in bean sprouts since food rationing. Bean sprouts, a potent source of vitamin C, have long been known as a necessary ingredient in many a Chinese dish. Mung beans, imported from China, have been cultivated in the Chinese sections of all of our large cities. Only lately have some of the rest of us become interested in sprouting beans.

Mung beans are now virtually unobtainable, but soy beans may be sprouted, and there's considerable research being done at present on the growing of soy bean sprouts from many of the common field varieties of soyas.

The sprout of the Mung bean is all sprout and no bean, but when you eat soy bean sprouts the bean is still there. It takes soy beans twice as long to sprout as Mung beans, but they are easily sprouted, nonetheless.

C. M. McCay of Cornell university's school of nutrition, gives these instructions for sprouting soy beans:

Whether a pound or a ton of beans is to be sprouted, two items should be purchased, [1] soy beans that will grow [he suggests Chief, Richland, Dunfield, Illinois, and Mount Carmel as most satisfactory of midwestern varieties] and [2] a can of chlorinated lime. After this one needs a container for the sprouting beans. This should have a wide mouth and a hole in the bottom for drainage. A flower pot will do for a few sprouts, a 20 gallon galvanized can with open top and a hole cut in the bottom will serve for one who wants to grow sprouts for feeding a hundred.

Inspect the beans to be sprouted, first of all, McCay suggests. Wash them several times and soak overnight in lukewarm water. A pound of beans will need about 3 pints water. Add a pinch of chlorinated lime to the water. [For 20 pounds of beans, a paste of 3 teaspoons chlorinated lime and a pint of water stirred into the 30 quarts of water that cover the beans.] Next morning pour off water and put beans into sprouting vessel, remembering that they will double in volume as they sprout.

Cover beans with a damp cloth, then with a piece of damp cardboard to exclude the light. Water several times a day. If the beans are in a flower pot, tip the pot slightly so that water will drain away. Each evening sprinkle with a solution of a teaspoon chlorinated lime in 3 gallons water. This solution can be made up in a large container and measured into a sprinkling can.

For 20 pounds of beans, spray every two or three hours, using the chlorinated lime solution every evening as with the smaller amount.

The lime prevents growth of molds and bacteria. After the second day, the sprouting process makes the beans warm and they should be sprinkled with cool water. They are ready to eat on the third to fifth day.

Sprouted beans are perishable. Use them promptly in salads, vegetable dishes, chop sueys. They need only a few minutes of cooking. Remember to use the bean as well as the sprout growing from it.

Add softened gelatin and 1 tablespoon lemon juice, stirring until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until mixture begins to thicken, then add 2 stiffly beaten egg whites and ⅓ cup evaporated milk which has been whipped. Pour into molds and chill until firm.

Women in War Work

1ST OFFICER EPPERSON.

Metropolitan Chicago already has supplied the WAAC, the trail blazer of the women's military units, with more than 2,500 recruits, but there's room—and need—for as many more as can possibly join, 1st Officer [Capt.] Doris E. Epperson emphasized yesterday.

She described the average WAAC recruit as a young woman who, if she had the choice, would use the airplane and the long distance telephone rather that the train and ordinary mails. The average WAAC recruit is 28, extremely healthy, with a physique that fits nicely into a size 16, and she's keen, alert, quick witted, and polite. She's imbued with a sense of patriotism and inevitably she has a brother, father, or husband in service. She can make decisions quickly and is equal to any occasion. Her occupational background has been teaching or one of the professions, or she may have been a "white collar" girl.

The story of the WAAC enlistee who took her officers' training at Fort Des Moines, Ia., and operated from there, her business in Washington, D. C., is well known in the corps. The enlistee joined for patriotic reasons, and each evening, when her time became her own, she'd telephone long distance to her office, settle the day's problems and make the decisions that her coworkers were unable to make.

The history of the corps is rich in stories of young women who have gone in as auxiliaries and achieved ratings and commissions. Like, for instance, Miss Barbara Rode, 738 Judson avenue, Evanston. She was sworn into the corps early in March, took her basic training at Daytona Beach, Fla., and was selected to take officer's training at Fort Des Moines, Ia. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Rode, she spent her childhood in many of the countries since ravished by the Nazis. A third officer now, she is assigned to public relations.

Another girl whose progress was similar is Miss Millicent Anderson, for many years in publicity and advertising work in Chicago. She, too is now a third officer, the WAAC equivalent to second lieutenant. All of the women realize that they're just not serving with the WAAC, but they're helping the army, and that's the reason most of them joined.

They are doing all sorts of interesting work. Some are in motor transport, others in meteorology, and still others in the many other specialized tasks that the WAAC is doing to help win the war.

Nationally, there are now 60,000 members of the WAAC. They are either serving at army posts here or overseas, or training at any one of the schools established to fit them to fill 142 different types of specialist jobs, each requiring expert training in courses that read like a college curriculum. Too, each job provides valuable educational preparation for jobs after the war. The women in training are between the ages of 21 and 44. None has dependents, as regulations prohibit the enlistment of women with young children, and all have had at least two years of high school education. Women from the Chicago area may enlist at 166 West Van Buren street.

Joining the WAAC doesn't mean the end of the life the women knew as "civilian." During their off duty hours they can revert to their civilian clothes, altho it's surprising how few do. They are agreed that the WAAC uniform is as smart and flattering as the clothes they left behind.

Furloughs come regularly, and frequently they coincide with events in which the women have special interest. Mrs. Beatrice Martell, an auxiliary in Virginia, receives a routine furlough at the end of the month, coincidental with the playing of the Women's Western Open golf championship. Mrs. Martell will spend her leave as a competitor in the contest, and is to date, the only woman in uniform who will participate. The championship will be played beginning June 28 in Glen Ellyn. Mrs. Martell is better known in golfing circles as Bea Gottlieb, the young woman who played a golf match with the former prince of Wales, Edward Windsor, now governor of the Bahamas.

Miss Jerry Simon Is Named Head of B'nai B'rith Unit

A war service pageant and election of officers were the closing events yesterday of the two day conference of 6th district, B'nai B'rith Young Women, in the Morrison hotel. A Chicagoan, Miss Jerry Simon of Lawndale auxiliary, was chosen as president of the district, which includes 23 organizations in eight states and two provinces of Canada.

Vice presidents are: Sibyl Goldstein, North Shore group; Rivian Raff, Lawndale, and Myrtle Pinkowitz, Albany Park. Other officers include: Frances Berger, Ramah group, corresponding secretary; Selma Schnoll, Milwaukee [Gilead group], recording secretary; Rhea Bressler, North Shore, financial secretary; Ruth Raff, Lawndale, treasurer; Lillian Lash, Detroit [Pisgah], sentinel, and Barbara Wechter, Elgin, historian.

State Garden Club Luncheon to Open New Season Today

The summer season for the Garden Club of Illinois will be opened with a luncheon meeting today at the Hinsdale Golf club. Every member of every garden club may attend, each bringing a box lunch, which is to be eaten in picnic fashion near the lake or inside the clubhouse, depending upon the weather. Each member also is to bring a choice bloom from her garden in a suitable container.

Your Stars ★ Today ★

Monday, June 14.

Opportunity today to make constructive changes that will improve personal service and increase earning power. But the enemy is the urge to self-forgiving on the emotional sector. Evening brings openings for adjustment with other sex.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead from birthday today may hold back personal initiative until past is faced; more responsibility. Splendid year for mind development, training. Seek local opportunities. Danger: Sept. 20-Nov. 2; Feb. 19-March 13.

Tomorrow.

Pick way carefully; opportunity present, but means may be obscure.

Cool and Comfortable

It's cool comfort that makes the greatest impression in summer clothes, and both these designs offer just that. The lines are "easy" and styled for sheer materials. Furthermore, these are patterns designed for all figures.

Style No. 3574 is designed for sizes 16 to 50. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY

Letter to the Boss.

"Dear Boss: Now that vacations are here, please could you give some thought to the problems of the Temporary Girl?

"First of all, she must grasp everything in a minimum of time. She can't learn by her mistakes, like the rest of the office force, because she won't be there long enough. She must be content to appear a trifle dumb to the old timers who forget, so easily, how long it took them to catch on.

"She must take hold immediately—the little 'Temporary.' She must know, instantly, all about office routine . . . what style of letter . . . how many copies . . . to whom they go . . . what to say on the telephone [is he in, or isn't he?]; she must understand rates . . . quotations . . . prices . . . long-standing customers; she must adjust herself, in a jiffy, to the habits of the boss . . . how he dictates . . . when he dictates . . . what hours he keeps . . . and all of his personal preferences. Little 'Temporary' has to be a first rate hustler, Boss, if she is to be of value during the brief period she fills in for the regular girl.

"Wouldn't some of the 'regulars' be somewhat nervous under the same circumstances? If they picture themselves transferred to a strange office, wouldn't it take them a little time to get their bearings? Can't they, then, afford to be kind?"—One of the Temporary Girls.

He's Hiding.

We are ready
To pin a posey
On the one who can answer:
Where is Nosey?
The We Want Nosey Gals.

It Sticks in the Mind.

The summing up, from Jean Epley's assistant: "So many persons confuse activity with efficiency."

The sailor who wandered into the Art Institute in search of a double feature and stayed for hours looking at the old masters.

The comment of Elizabeth Eckert's Polish cleaning woman anent the rainy spring: "It always rains in war time; it's the mothers' tears."

What's the Answer?

In an office there are five white collar girls seated at five desks in a row, each at her own desk. They are somewhat temperamental and, to keep peace, it was necessary to seat the five girls in the following order:

"Ruth and Yolanda are rivals in love and they should be seated as far apart as other conditions will permit.

"Yolanda must not be seated to the left of Wilma, nor next to her.

"Irene chews gum and neither Wilma nor Ruth will sit next to her.

"Paula and Yolanda dislike Wilma and cannot work well when near her. Neither of them may be seated next to Wilma.

"Paula refuses to sit next to Ruth or Yolanda.

"Paula and Wilma must be seated as near to each other as possible under the other conditions.

"There is a clew to the answer in most white collar girls' offices, I think."—The Real Word Expert.

will remain behind. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Bucke of Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont.

Plans for the marriage today of Miss Roberta Bosworth to Lt. [j.g.] E. Gardner Counselman, were canceled when the bridegroom suddenly was given orders to report at once for active duty with the navy. Miss Bosworth is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert R. Bosworth of Highland Park.

Mrs. Patrick Valentine to Bid Friends Good-by.

Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine will say good-by for the summer to her closest friends at a luncheon today at the Women's Athletic Club. She will leave next Monday for her summer home at Southampton, N. Y., where she will be joined by her sister, Mrs. Vernon Booth of New York.

Members of the Winnetka board of the Arden Shore Camp will gather for tea from 3 to 5 p. m. today in the home of Mrs. Raymond E. Durham to examine the 150 or more garments made during the year for the use of the children who will accompany their mothers to the Arden Shore summer camp, beginning on July 1. Dresses of all sizes, pyjamas, sun suits and rompers have been stitched together by the board's skilled seamstresses.

Adding pleasure to the meeting will be the presence of Mrs. Durham's mother, Mrs. Robert Gregory, who was one of the founders of the camp and who is honorary chairman of the Arden Shore association. Members will bring gifts that are "white elephants" in their own homes, but which are attractive and unusual enough to serve as prizes for the camp mothers in the various competitions that are held there during the summer season. Mrs. Ivor Nelson is chairman of the Winnetka board, of which Mrs. Gerald Cleary is sewing chairman.

The Junior league of Evanston, which used to spend its summer outing on golf, tennis, swimming and bridge, will take up more serious business today. Their meeting will be held as usual in the Glen View club, where the arts and interest committee has arranged an exhibit of the work of members during the last year. Painting, sculpture, photography, needlework, table settings, and flower arrangements will be included in the exhibit, which Mrs. Dudley Young's committee planned.

"Our World and Our People," the provisional training course of the Chicago Junior league, will open today and continue thru June 25. The provisional members will remain after class this morning to have luncheon with the board of managers in the league headquarters in the Ambassador East.

English-Speaking Union to Honor Flyer Today.

Sixty per cent of the guests at the luncheon the English-Speaking Union is giving today for Wing Comdr. M. J. Baird-Smith will be men, a happy circumstance for the many feminine guests. The luncheon will be held in the Louis XVI. room of Hotel Sherman. Mrs. Frank Hecht, wife of the president of the union; Miss Naomi Donnelley and Mrs. William Sutherland are some of the 250 who have made reservations. Wing Comdr. Baird-Smith, who has been awarded the distinguished flying cross, is in America to speak before aviation cadets.

The luncheon and first annual meeting of the Junior auxiliary of the Illinois Opera guild will be held at 12:30 p. m. today in the Arts club. Miss Josephine Antoine of the Chicago and Metropolitan opera companies will be the special guest and will receive with Mrs. William E. Ragland, who will represent the guild's president, Mrs. James J. McMillan, who is in California; Mrs. William H. Spurgeon, senior advisor of the auxiliary, and its president, Miss Mary Jane Brummel.

Plan Family Welfare.

The third annual Institute of the Family Welfare Association of America will open tomorrow at the Lake Forest academy and continue thru Friday. Ralph C. Bennett is chairman.

Needed: A Bed for a Girl of 2; a Wheel Chair

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

Can some reader provide a bed for a 2 year old girl who is much in need of it? She is one of the many youngsters for whom it has been necessary to find a foster home. The foster mother does not possess a child's bed and has been unable to borrow one. The little girl has been sleeping in a large bed, but in spite of the best efforts to avoid such mishaps she has fallen out of bed a number of times.

If any reader can provide a 6 year old size bed, the assisting agency will arrange transportation.

Another agency has requested a small wheel chair for Mr. P., a frail invalid of 67, living on an old age pension of $40 a month. He has no relatives or friends who can help him and is badly crippled. He lives in a single room in a rooming house and sits in a chair by the window all day. He has been unable to leave that room for more than a year. A wheel chair would add greatly to his comfort and ability to care for his own needs, but he cannot afford to purchase or rent one. We will be glad to provide further details on request.

Big Black Hat Will Enhance Your Summer

BY REA SEEGER.

One big black hat, a cartwheel of shadowy sheer or crisp straw, will help provide its owner with a most successful summer. Without one of these gargantuan discs, a wardrobe of the smartest clothes seldom clicks. Such an eye-shadowing hat will dramatize a linen coat dress, a gay summer silk print, your favorite black lace or organdy, or your snappiest white piques or ginghams.

Preferably the widest you dare put over your curls, these hats should be severely simple and unadorned, except for a band and bow of grosgrain ribbon or velvet. The newest models are made of transparent horsehair braid, which is surprisingly long wearing, capable of surviving a sudden thunder shower without showing any signs of the ordeal, and equal to day after day service under the sun's rays without turning pale, tan, or streaked. It's one of the smoothest performers in millinery history.

Romantic black big hats combine this filmy horse hair braid with smooth or rough straws, as, for example, a hat of straw with a down curving outside brim edge of the braid. This braid, an inch wide and used in three strand braided or interlaced banding, is a good four inches deep. Entire hats of horse hair braid are cool and flattering. They are perfection aloft with all manner of sheer afternoon and floral printed silk dresses, and the only topper for organdies, nets, and laces on a sweltering day.

If the all-black hats aren't exactly what you need for just the right contrast, try the sepia and deep brown beauties of the same flattering horse hair braid.

St. Luke's Hospital Trustees to Fete Nursing Educators

In observance of the golden anniversary of the National League of Nursing Education, the board of trustees of the St. Luke's hospital is giving a tea tomorrow in the new Schweppe Memorial building of the St. Luke's school of nursing. The event is in conjunction with the 50th national convention of the league scheduled at the Drake hotel tomorrow thru Thursday. Co-hostesses at the tea will include members of St. Luke's nursing faculty, alumnae, the women's board, and the women's auxiliary.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

FORREST CADY, the old Red Sox catcher, always had the answer ready when colleagues asked him the best way to pitch to Joe Jackson. . . . "Low and outside," he would snap back, "and if you follow this system Joe'll hit only .360." . . . Herman Frickey, Minnesota half back, who ran 80 yards to score the winning touchdown against Northwestern last fall, has been assigned to the naval unit at Northwestern and probably will play with the Wildcats next season. . . . According to Ray Kneip, concession manager at Wrigley field for 19 years, the peanut sales during the Chicago-Brooklyn double header June 6 were the largest in the history of the park. . . . The crowd of 31,000 was by no means a record, but 11,580 bags of peanuts were sold. . . . It was a big hot dog day, too. . . . More than 2,500 dozen were disposed of. . . . Lt. Milt Gantenbein, former University of Wisconsin and Green Bay Packer football star, has been transferred from the physical training department of the naval air station, Jacksonville, Fla., to the naval air station at Norman, Okla. . . . Fans who accept ticket sales for the Chicago All-Star game as a barometer of the coming football season will be interested to know that the demand for this year's contest between the Washington Redskins and college headliners at Dyche stadium, Evanston, Aug. 25, has broken all records for the event. . . . Of the first 53 home runs in the American league this season, 17 were in Yankee stadium. . . . The lowest productive home run park was Washington where only two had been made in that span. . . . Bob Lewis, traveling secretary of the Cubs, says there is nothing that relaxes him so much as to realize he has fallen into a rut. . . . And to get into a rut, he says, he simply has to listen to the philosophy of Dr. Andrew Lotshaw, Cub trainer.

Included on the Illinois high school coaches' clinic in Champaign, Aug. 18-21, will be a forward passing demonstration by Cecil Isbel and Don Hutson of the Green Bay Packers and a dissertation on "Quarter Backing the Bears' Offense" by Sid Luckman. . . . Add "What's in a Name" note: Jim Runner of San Francisco's Abe Lincoln High school is a high hurdler. . . . It is said that the heads of a few National league teams are leveling against three umpires who have shown exceptional lack of poise in recent weeks. . . . The list does not include George Barr, who was shaken by his Adam's apple by Pitcher John Allen. . . . Allen was fined $200 and suspended 30 days, but the action is said to have brought no widespread criticism of Barr by any one, with the possible exception of Allen. . . . Carl Hubbell doesn't know what to call the new pitch he has perfected, which recently held the Pirates to one hit—a slider, glider, sailer, or sinker.

I Should Know.

When first we met your countenance was fair
And you had on a dress of tawny brown,
The wind had tangled up your ebon hair
And ruffled the soft smoothness of your gown;
But in your eyes there was a flame of blue
That richest amethyst has never known,
The simple sweetness of your spirit shone.

Perhaps your hair has silvered with the years
And time has hollowed furrows in your brow
And all youth's roses have been bleached in tears,
But I could not mistake you even now;
For tho age robes you in its quaint disguise
I think that I should know you by your eyes.

Valedictory.

This is the day to which we all looked forward,
This is the time for which we planned and dreamed,
Come is the hour when we have reached the crossroads,
So far it was, 'twould never come, it seemed;
Yet here it is, and I, you think, am absent,
You grieve a little that I am not there,
I know the things you think, what you are feeling,
Quite plainly there I see that vacant chair.

But I am not away, you're nearer to me
Than any of you ever were before,
I heard it when the speaker said "Our hero,"
It came quite clearly thru the open door;
I heard it when he said that I have given
My life to serve my country's glorious cause,
I plainly saw the glistening of the teardrops,
And in his voice I caught that little pause.

The one for whom you draped that empty chair,
I'd like to give you just one little message,
I am not gone, I'm with you, sitting there;
Take up where I left off is all I ask you,
It's up to us that there shall be no night,
So, proudly I hand on to you, my classmates,
The torch of truth with its eternal light!

BEATS REDS, 4-1; PASSEAU FAILS IN 10-6 OPENER

Cavarretta Slams Home Run.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Bill Lee, who contributed to Cub pennants in happier days, led the Chicagoans out of a grievous stupor when he presided at a 4 to 1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the second game of a double header yesterday before 28,557 paid in Wrigley field. It was more than just Lee's second victory of the season, for it helped the loyal fans to forget the baseball travesty the Cubs put on as they lost the first game of the double engagement, 10 to 6.

Lee performed as he did in the years when the north siders laid claims to being major league ball players. He didn't walk a batsman and yielded only two hits in the first six innings. In the seventh, with Chicago leading, 2 to 0, Frank McCormick and Steve Mesner put together a double and a single for the only Cincy run.

Big Bill immediately braced, and when Phil Cavarretta knocked a homer in the home seventh to give Chicago a 3 to 1 margin, it was apparent Lee was on the victory road for sure. To clinch things, however, Bill singled to drive home the fourth Chicago run in the eighth.

Lee Gets an Early Lead.

Lee didn't walk a man and otherwise showed excellent poise for one who has been associating with the depressed tail enders—tail enders who yesterday celebrated a month of dungeon tenancy without coming up for air a single day. Bill also had the good fortune of being spotted to an early lead. In the third inning his mates made two runs on singles by Eddie Stanky and Cavarretta, a double by Stan Hack, and a long fly by Lou Novikoff.

In the first game the Chicago fellows reached new heights of befuddlement time after time. And in addition, the pitching of the once great Claude Passeau was very much on the sour side, with more of the same to be said of some of the relief casting. The Reds made 20 hits, if that will give you any idea.

Frey Scores First Run.

Much of the inadequate Cub scoring was due to the wildness of Elmer Riddle, who walked nine in the 5 2-3 innings he lasted. When the Cubs did hit they didn't know what to do on the base lines. Manager Jim Wilson, who coached at third in the first game, didn't come out of the cave in the second encounter.

There was no indication in the first inning that Passeau was in one of his reeling moods, even tho Frey opened the game with a double over Hack's head. Lonnie got home on two infield outs.

The Cubs tied the score in the first inning because Riddle couldn't find the plate. Stanky opened with a single and Cavarretta walked. Hack sacrificed and Bill Nicholson was gven an intentional pass. Lou Novikoff walked, forcing Stanky across the plate, but Peanuts Lowrey bounced into a double play.

Passeau Goes Away.

The third inning might still be going on but for the kind offices of Ray [Home Run] Mueller, who accounted for all the Reds' outs. Ray flied to Lowrey to get the third under way. Then the bottle of smelling salts came out of Trainer Andy Lotshaw's kit when Passeau walked Riddle on four pitches. Frey singled to right and when Nicholson kicked the ball around, Riddle went on to third and Frey to second. Marshall was given an intentional pass, loading the bases.

Gee Walker drove a single to left, scoring Riddle and Frey. Frank McCormick followed with a double to left, Marshall scoring. When Mesner singled to right scoring Walker, Passeau gently was led away and Bithorn went in. Tipton singled to right, scoring McCormick, and Miller beat out an infield hit, loading the bases. Mueller then grounded into a double play.

The Cubs made a run in their third, thanks to three walks, an infield fly, and an error. Stanky and Cavarretta walked and advanced on Hack's tap to Mesner. Nicholson again was given an intentional pass

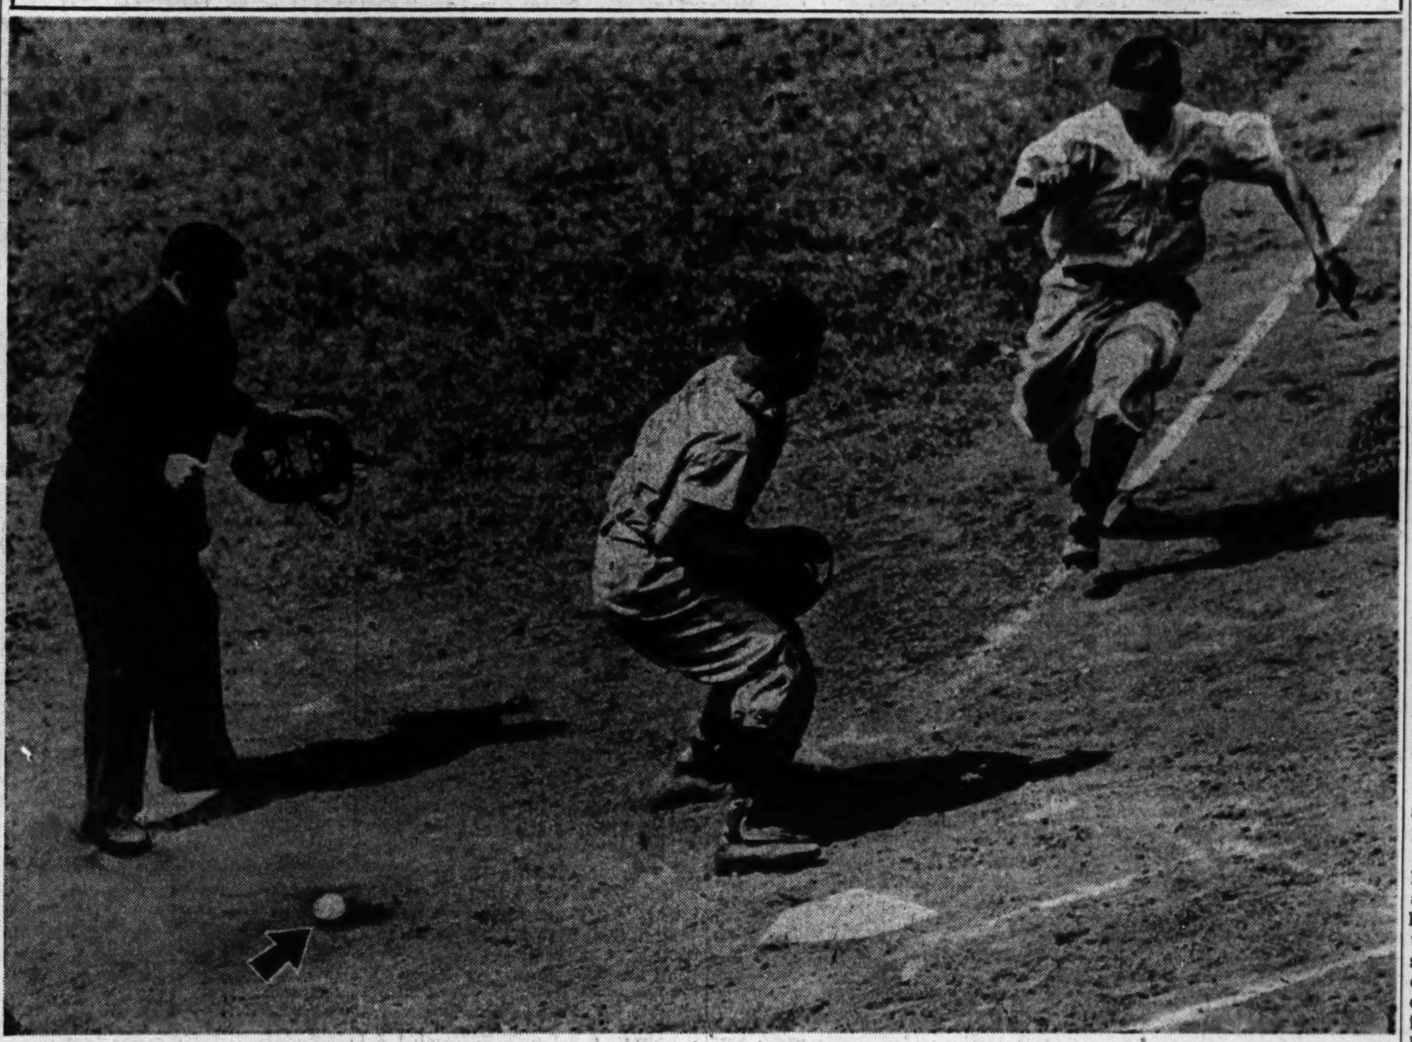
THE REDS PRESENT CUBS A RUN



Eddie Stanky of the Cubs scoring on a freakish play in the third inning of yesterday's first game with the Reds in Wrigley field. With the bases filled, Lou Novikoff hit an infield fly which Second Baseman Lonnie Frey made no attempt to catch. Lou was out automatically on the infield fly, but the other Cubs started running. Stanky was safe only because Frey's throw (arrow shows ball) was wild to Catcher Ray Mueller. The umpire is Bill Stewart. Cincinnati won, 10 to 6, but lost the second, 4 to 1.

E. M. BROWN GETS DARTMOUTH JOB

Former Notre Dame Star to Coach Two Sports.

Hanover, N. H., June 13 [Special]. —Dartmouth's new head coach for the 1943 season will be Earl M. Brown, Harvard end coach, William H. McCarter, director of athletics at Dartmouth, announced today. The Big Green's new gridiron leader also will take over the vacant post of varsity basketball coach.

Selection of Brown fills the football vacancy created when Coach Tuss McLaughry enlisted in the marine corps with the rank of major and assumed charge of physical training at the Parris Island base. It also fills the basketball vacancy left by Coach Ossie Cowles, who became a lieutenant in the navy this spring.

Coach Brown first came into the gridiron limelight at Notre Dame, where he starred in both football and basketball for three seasons before being graduated in 1939. He played end with the All-Star team in Chicago in 1939 and in that year began the three year job of end coach at Brown, the first two seasons under McLaughry, whom he succeeds at Dartmouth. At Brown he also handled freshman basketball and supervised tennis. For two years, from 1939 to 1941, he played professional basketball. Last year he moved to Harvard as football end coach and head coach of basketball.

Coach Brown is a native of Benton Harbor, Mich., and was a four sport athlete at the high school there. In 1939 he married Dorothy Jane Bernard of Benton Harbor, and has a small daughter and a son born just a few weeks ago.

The Big Green's 1943 schedule at present includes Holy Cross, Pennsylvania, Yale, Cornell, Columbia, and Princeton, cancellations having been received from Harvard, Amherst, and Hampden-Sydney.

Pittsburgh Triumphs, 4-1, in U. S. Soccer Final

Baltimore, Md., June 13 (AP).—The Morgan Strasser Soccer club of Pittsburgh, Pa., won the United States Amateur soccer championship today by defeating Baltimore's Santa Maria Knights of Columbus team, 4 to 1. The Baltimore goal, which came in the last two minutes of play, was the first scored on Morgan Strasser during the amateur cup series.

Football on Coast Faces Big Revision

San Francisco, Cal., June 13 (AP).—Faced with the most serious emergency in its 28 year life, representatives of the Pacific Coast conference will meet tomorrow in an effort to adjust the 1943 college football schedule to war tempo.

That revisions, possibly drastic, are necessary to carry the fall sport of millions thru to a successful conclusion was an accepted fact. Whether the 10 member circuit, sprawled over the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and Montana, will open the season intact was considered problematical.

In advance of the meeting, expected to run two, possibly three days, there was doubt whether the universities of Montana and Idaho would have football teams next September.

Lack of Players.

Washington State college is plagued with similar difficulty in the matter of lack of player man power. Stanford, aristocratic member of the southern division, likewise admits a dearth of experienced talent.

To lesser degrees, every school in the conference has been hard hit by inductions and calls of athletes into service. Those members, however, which have been designated as navy training centers, appear to be more fortunately situated than their rivals.

These include the universities of Washington and Southern California. California, at Berkeley and at Los Angeles, also have navy programs.

Two Divisions Proposed.

On the agenda of the vitally important meeting will be the proposal of the graduate managers of the southern divisions, California, Southern California, Stanford and U. C. L. A., that the conference be split—north and south.

CAMP GRANT IS 15 TO 0 VICTOR OVER CLINTON

Rockford, Ill., June 13 [Special]. —Camp Grant scored its second consecutive shutout, its ninth straight victory, and its 17th of the season today by beating Clinton [Ia.] Bridgeworks, 15 to 0.

George Lake and Joe Skurski hurled for the victors allowing the Bridgeworks only seven hits while the Warriors were amassing 11. Gene Hasson hit a home run for Camp Grant. Score:

PREPS TO DECIDE FINALISTS TODAY

Lane Battles Steinmetz; Bowen vs. Harrison.

Three battering rams and a lightning fencer form the group of semifinalists in the City High School league's annual baseball play-off series this afternoon. One of the battering rams, Lane Tech, meets Steinmetz, the fencer, in Wrigley field at 3 o'clock. The other two, Bowen and Harrison, play in Comiskey park at 2:30. Admission for each game is 28 cents.

The final round will be played Saturday afternoon, probably in Wrigley field.

Each Is Sectional Champ.

Each of the four contestants is sectional champion and each has had previous experience in the play-offs. Harrison is the defending champion with Bowen the runner-up last year. Steinmetz won the league title in 1939 and 1941 and Lane was the 1940 champion which marked the 12th City league title in 21 years under Coach Percy S. Moore.

Powerful Lane, representing the north section, is undefeated in 26 straight games this year of which 19 were won in league competition. Lane is in its accustomed spot as the heavy favorite.

Bowen, Harrison Balanced.

The Bowen-Harrison encounter promises to be an even battle. Each is loaded with sluggers and Bowen appears to have a slight edge in the pitching department.

Coach Jimmy Smilgoff of Harrison has reorganized his championship team of last year and has mustered a group of sluggers who averaged nearly .320 as a unit this season.

To counteract this central section threat, Coach Joe McGinnis of Bowen has knitted together a group of strong south side hitters in Gene Thomas, Capt. Charles Koney, Art Fayta, Casimer Lewandowski, Joe Baker, and Dan de Janovich. Lewandowski with a .400 average leads the team which has a combined average of .305.

FALCON CROSSES LINE FIRST IN YACHT CLUB RACE

BLUEJACKETS TO PLAY ST. LOUIS BROWNS TODAY

With a season record of 14 victories in 15 starts, the Great Lakes Bluejackets will go after No. 15 and their fourth against major league competition today when they meet the St. Louis Browns at Great Lakes.

The sailors gained their 14th triumph yesterday afternoon at Oakton park in Skokie by defeating the Skokie Indians, 11 to 1. Henry Perry started for Great Lakes and was relieved by Frankie Biscan in the seventh.

Joe Grace, former St. Louis Browns outfielder, had a perfect day at bat for the Bluejackets with four hits, including two doubles, and scored five of the 11 runs.

Oak Park Cricket Team Beats Hyde Park, 71 to 41

Oak Park defeated Hyde Park, 71 to 41, in an Illinois Cricket league match in Oak Park yesterday. Another league match, in Washington park, was stopped by weather and declared a draw after Chicago had scored 123 runs in its inning and South Park had made 10 for the loss of four wickets.

28,197 WATCH AS TIGERS WIN, 6 TO 4, 3 TO 2

Dietrich and Smith Losing Pitchers.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., June 13. — The White Sox' ambition to go home as a bunch of conquerors was dealt a devastating punch this afternoon by the Tigers, who apparently recovered rapidly from the wounds inflicted by Chicago's big game hunters in the first two of the five game series. The Tigers figuratively pulled the sox off the James Dykes gang in both ends of a double header, thereby throwing the latter out of a comfortable third place tie into the second division. The scores, as witnessed by 28,197 paying patrons, were 6 to 4 and 3 to 2.

Mr. Dykes again discovered that his problem pitchers, Bill Dietrich and Eddie Smith, the little lefty, hadn't benefitted by rest periods of undue length. Dietrich, who in seven starts this year has completed only two, both of which were defeats, was taken away after four innings, which was long enough for him to stumble into a 5 to 4 deficit which became a bit more decisive under Jake Wade.

Five Hits Off Smith.

Smitty did a bit better in the way of endurance. He hung on for seven innings and, altho he gave up only five hits, three of them were doubles in the wake of passes, which explains why every run was scored.

In the first game the Sox succumbed to the pitching of Tommy Bridges, who at the start merely was staggering around in hopes of a rescue. In four innings, 10 batsmen reached base on hits and two errors. Five of the hits came without a break in the second to erase the three run damage done in the first round, when, among other incidents in Dietrich's turbulent mound life, there was a two run homer by Ned Harris. But in the last five innings there was only one hit off the 36 year old curvist. In the other affair the Sox pumped Virgil Trucks for three hits in the first inning, but didn't make their seventh until the ninth, whereupon Hal Newhouser was called in.

FIRST GAME

Part of Dietrich's distress in the opening of the first game was a leadoff single by Joe Hoover and a single with two out by Pinky Higgins which scored Hoover. The other part was the 315 foot homer plunked into the right field balcony by Harris. This three run handicap looked formidable to the Sox until, with two out in the second, Mike Tresh, Dietrich, Grant, Thurman Tucker, and Guy Curtright came thru with singles against Bridges for a 4 to 3 advantage.

Dietrich Knocked Out.

Harris came up for his second swing in the fourth and, in memory of the homer, Dietrich walked him with none out. After two were down, Paul Richards singled and Harris carried in the tying run. Dietrich passed Bridges and Hoover followed with a single on which Richards scored. Dietrich was dismissed summarily at the end of the inning, bringing Wade into action. The only run he surrendered was the outcome of passes to Don Ross and Bridges in the sixth. A subsequent single by Doc Cramer gave Ross a ride across the plate.

SECOND GAME

Altho the Sox scored off Trucks in the first inning of the second debate it wasn't much of an achievement if you consider that five batters reached base. Grant led with a pass and promptly died trying to steal. Tucker, Curtright, and Don Kolloway singled in succession, the outcome being the scoring of Tucker and the placing of the two others on the far bases with one out. But Wally Moses was purposely passed,

ATHLETICS HAND YANKEES DOUBLE DEFEAT, 5-3, 3-2

Squeeze Bunt Decides Opening Game.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 13 (AP).—The Athletics took a double header from the first place New York Yankees today before 32,117.

A squeeze bunt by Jojo White that caught the Yankee infield napping in the eighth inning with three on and two out gave the A's the opener, 5 to 3. Timely hitting by Jim Tyack, 30 year old outfielder, up from Little Rock of the Southern association, coupled with effective pitching by Roger Wolff, won the second game, 3 to 2.

to load the bases. Novikoff popped a high one to second base which Frey lost in the weather and let it plunk, knowing of the infield fly rule. The Cubs were not so familiar with the rule and everybody ran when the ball hit the ground. Fortunately for the Cubs, Frey made a bad throw to the plate, enabling Stanky to score. Lowrey then flied out.

Stanky Has a Lapse.

The first three men to face Bithorn in the fifth singled for a run, but there was no further damage in that half of the inning. But the Cub half of the fifth was really somethin'. Stanky opened with a single to deep short, paused on Cavarretta's out, and stopped at second on Hack's single to right. Nicholson lined a single to right which was labeled a hit from the minute it left Bill's bat. Stanky, however, lingered on second for reasons that probably never will be clear, until he was chased off by Hack. Stanky then ran to third and stopped until Hack caught up with him there. Then Stanky tried for home, where he should have been minutes before. But he was out, Marshall to Frey to Mueller. Hack was left on third when Novikoff sent a long fly to Walker.

The Cubs, again aided vitally by Riddle's wildness, made a run in the sixth. After Lowrey singled there were two outs followed by three passes, good for the run. Joe Beggs replaced Riddle and Hack lined to Miller. In the seventh the Cubs moved within two of a tie when they made two runs on a double by Nicholson, a single by Novikoff, and a double by Merullo.

Kewpie Barrett tried to carry on Fleming's relief work but was slapped around for two runs in the eighth and one in the ninth before Ray Prim rescued him. The run the Cubs made in the eighth was on Hack's double and an error by Crabtree.

GIANTS, PHILLIES SPLIT.

New York, June 13 (AP).—The New York Giants whipped the Philadelphia Phillies, 6 to 2, behind Carl Hubbell's seven hit hurling in the first game today, but lost the second, 6 to 3, as the Phillies rallied for four runs in the ninth inning.

The climax of this uprising was a double by Babe Dahlgren with the bases loaded and it need not have happened. Dahlgren first was hit by pitched ball, but the Giants argued that he had stepped into the pitch. Umpire Beans Reardon ordered him to bat again and this time he doubled. Scores:

Tigers Take 2 from Sox, 6-4 and 3-2

The Tigers didn't lose time changing a one run deficit into a 2 to 1 lead in the fourth. Dick Wakefield walked with one out and Higgins doubled him home. With two out, York also doubled, so Higgins traveled home. The third run off Smith was started on a pass to Ross in the seventh. York doubled again and Ross scored to make it 3 to 1. The importance of this run was indicated in the Sox eighth when Grant tripled and scored on a single by Curtright. The only other peep from the Sox was a single by Appling with one out in the ninth. The hit caused Trucks to be towed away and Newhouser had no trouble fooling either Kuhel or Turner. The latter, in four attempts, fanned once, grounded into a double play, and popped out twice.

FIREMEN HAND GLEN ELLYN NINE FIRST DEFEAT, 8-3

The Chicago Firemen defeated the Glen Ellyn Reds yesterday, 8 to 3, in a Midwest league game played in Glen Ellyn. It was the first defeat for the Reds in six starts this season and gave the Firemen their third triumph in five games. Gordon O'Shaughnessy was the winning pitcher.

The Fernwood All-Stars won their 11th victory in 12 contests by beating the University of Chicago Naval Radio School nine, 2 to 1, at Fernwood field in which Ray Kwoka bested Bill Nagel in a mound duel.

The Benda Coals won their seventh success in eight starts by blanking the Ace Fasteners, 5 to 0, at Berwyn field.

Glenview Naval Air Base Beats Naval Air Tech, 10-1

The Glenview Naval Air base defeated Naval Air Tech, 10 to 1, in a Service Men's league baseball game in Roosevelt park in Glenview yesterday.

CAMERONS BEAT FURRIERS, 13-12, IN MET LEAGUE

The sixth hit of the afternoon for George Noverini, Cameron A. C. pitcher-outfielder, drove in the ninth inning run by which his team beat the Rozinsky Furriers, 13 to 12, in a junior division game in the Metropolitan Amateur Baseball league yesterday. Noverini had a homer, triple, and four singles in six times at bat.

The Marzano Boosters won two games in the Gage park-Suburban bracket, beating last year's champion, Assumption, 8 to 0, in the second, after trouncing the South Side Flat Janitors, 23 to 2. Fourteen league games were played.

GLIDER AVENGES EARLIER DEFEAT IN STAR RACE

Chuck Floyd, skippering Glider, yesterday reversed a previous defeat by finishing first in the star class race of the Sheridan Shore Yacht club race, Wilmette. The Glider came in ahead of Dolphin, piloted by Emerson Raymond, which had won when they met earlier in the season. Nine yachts sailed a triangular 12 mile course. Glider's time was 2 hours, 30 minutes and 55 seconds. Dolphin reached the finish line in 2:32.20. Carol, skippered by Harold Elliot, was third.

DICK TRACY—PIECE WORK

BASKETBALL COACHES NAME ALL-STAR FIVES

Gatewood Ranked No. 1; Game on Aug. 21.

All-Star Lineups

NORTH.		SOUTH.
F. De Meyer, Mol.	F	R. Gatewood, Salem
J. Malecek, Morton	F	D. Humerh'se, Paris
H. Judson, Hebron	C	L. Harris, Wood Riv.
Bill Hall, Moline	G	Dick Foley, Paris
D. Kilburn, Elgin	G	M. Morris, W.Fr'kf't

Coaches—Roger Potter, Moline [North] and Ernest Eveland, Paris [South].

Officials—Edward Murphy, Peoria, and Greg Shoaff, Springfield.

To Roy [The Great] Gatewood, the tow-headed Salem basket shooter who was good enough to force the fabulous Dwight Eddleman's state tournament scoring records into discard last March, goes the honor of being the Illinois coaches' choice as the No. 1 high school player of the year. It's all down in black and white now, for when the last returns were in and votes of more than 300 tutors counted, he was a unanimous nominee for the all-star squads which will meet in George Huff gymnasium of the University of Illinois on the night of Aug. 21.

Potter North's Coach.

However, the name of Gatewood at the top of the list is merely a forerunner for what's to follow on the starting lineups of both the North and South quintets, which will meet in the climax to a four day coaching clinic in Champaign.

The North, to be coached by Roger Potter of Moline, will have such performers as Frank De Meyer and Bill Hall of Moline, Joe Malecek of Morton High of Cicero, Howard Judson of tiny Hebron, and Dave Kilburn of Elgin.

Representing the South will be a team with a personnel hardly less impressive. Playing for Coach Ernest Eveland of Paris will be Dick Foley and Dave Humerickhouse of his state champions and Luther Harris of Wood River and Max Morris of West Frankfort in addition to Gatewood.

Balance of Squads.

The balance of the 10 man squads, as selected by popular vote of the coaches, read: North, Gordon Gillespie of Chicago Kelvyn Park, Phil Miler of Kewanee, Bob Morton of Elgin, John McCruddin of Rockford West, and Don Anderson of Normal; South, Eddie Root of Decatur, James Seyler of Centralia, John Rubiffoni of Pekin, Charles Shostrum of West Frankfort, and Chalmers Elliott of Bloomington.

Brown, Flynn Top Tonight's Marigold Card

Irish Johnny Flynn, Rochester, N. Y., heavyweight, will appear in a 10 round bout against Clarence Brown, 1937 Catholic Youth organization champion, in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street, tonight. Chicago fans will be seeing Elynn in action for the first time.

An eight round semi-windup will bring together Elbert Adams, former city Golden Gloves featherweight champion, and Alvin Gomez, local lightweight. Six round events will be between Andy [K. O.] Morgan, Detroit 126 pounder, and Georgie Adams, and Robert Simmons, Indianapolis welterweight, and Jimmy Hunt. Mel Workman, South Bend middleweight, will oppose Bruce Henman in a four round opener.

Rudy Kay, north side heavyweight wrestler, is paired with King Cole on the mat card in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue, this evening.

RHEINGOLD NINE DEFEATS BENDA COAL CO-EDS, 9-2

The Rheingolds retained their hold on first place in the Metropolitan Girls Major Softball league last night with a 9 to 2 victory over the Benda Coal Co-eds in Rheingold stadium. In other league games, the Gold Crowns defeated the Tungsten Sparks, 3 to 0, in Shewbridge field, and the Rock-Ola Music Maids beat the Parichy Bloomer Girls, 1 to 0, in Parichy stadium. Mary Skorich pitched a two hit game for the Gold Crowns and struck out 13. Tonight's schedule:

Rock-Ola Music Maids vs. Gold Crowns on Shewbridge field; Rheingolds vs. Tungsten Sparks in Rock-Ola stadium, and Benda Coal Co-eds vs. Parichy Bloomer Girls in Parichy stadium.

Falks' Soccer Team Defeats Vikings, 3 to 2

BY OFFSIDE.

The Falk corporation team of Milwaukee, scoring two goals in the last five minutes of play, defeated the Vikings of Chicago, 3 to 2, in Winnemac park stadium yesterday before a crowd of 2,000 in the final match of the Midwestern round robin soccer series.

In the preliminary match, the Schwabens defeated the Hansa, 3 to 2, to clinch second place in the major league race.

Vikings Tie Score.

The Falks, who missed a chance to score in the first five minutes when John Stier, with an open goal shot past the post, finally counted 20 minutes later. Harold Anderson struck the crossbar with a hard shot and Stier breasted it across the line. The Vikings struck back four minutes later to tie the score when Jimmy McDermott counted from a penalty kick shot. With the score all even, the Falks were balked in their attempt to forge ahead by the sturdy defense of Joe Kader, the Vikings' goalkeeper from Great Lakes.

The Vikings started off in the second half with the same style of play that won the league championship for them and took the lead after nine minutes of play when Nels Brostrom scored with a lucky goal. The Viking goal set the stage for one of the most exciting finishes of the season. Anderson, with a long solo run of 50 yards, tallied by beating Kader with an angular shot from 15 yards. With the score tied again, the Falks waited until the last minute of play to win, the decisive goal coming during a scrimmage in front of the goal when John Petek got the ball into the nets.

Win Hap Marre Trophy.

WHEAT MAY BE PILED IN FIELD, SAYS RAILROAD

Warns Crop Can't Be Transported.

Much of America's half billion bushel 1943 wheat crop may have to be piled on the ground during the harvest rush because of a grain car shortage, the Santa Fe railway said yesterday.

Surplus equipment formerly allotted wheat shipments "simply does not exist this year and the 1943 crop must remain in local storage until its movement to terminals or mills becomes a war time necessity," the report stated.

Virtually all available cars suitable for grain handling are being used now in daily shipments, and the motive power problem is equally as pressing, explained J. J. Mahoney, general superintendent of Santa Fe transportation.

Harvest to Start Soon.

"With harvest but a matter of days away and no cars accumulated to handle the crop, it is highly probable that wheat will have to be stored on the ground temporarily."

Santa Fe loadings of old wheat are running 135 per cent larger than last year and virtually all available cars suitable for grain handling are required by shippers daily.

Altho estimates on the wheat yield in the southwest have been reduced 25 to 30 per cent under last year's bumper crop, Mahoney said, the present outlook is for a better than average crop. Seventy per cent of the acreage to be harvested this year is adjacent to Santa Fe tracks, he added.

Fewer Cars Available.

"We anticipate a movement of 40,000 cars of wheat this year from western Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and Colorado, the majority of which is threshed with combine harvester, requiring a large number of cars stored in advance of the harvest to meet the demand," Mahoney explained.

"We have approximately 6,000 more Santa Fe grain cars off our line than a year ago, leaving us only 40 per cent of our own good cars on home rails. Last year we had a large number of foreign line box cars [cars owned by other railroads] stored in the wheat belt awaiting harvest, which has not been possible this year. Slow return of our good cars and the task of selecting and fitting foreign cars for grain loading makes an ordinarily difficult problem even more so."

Strike in Texas Refinery Ended After Two Days

Houston, Tex., June 13 (AP).—Employés of the Shell Oil company refinery at Deer Park went back to work today after company and union officials agreed to arbitrate a dispute over discharge of a worker. The big plant, manufacturing aviation gasoline and other war products, had been idle two days.

East Blamed for Shortage in Beef Stocks

pounds of beef in the last year compared with about 1 billion 700 million pounds of pork and pork products, its biggest requirement.

The packers say they consider it their first duty to supply beef for the fighting men in the army and navy, and that they are unable to do it with supplies at the present volume.

Many Out of Business.

Moreover, not a single Chicago retail meat dealer is getting "anywhere near the beef he could sell, even under point rationing," and approximately 25 per cent of the butcher shops have gone out of business since point rationing and the meat crisis arrived simultaneously, John A. Kotal, executive secretary of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, said last night.

The exceedingly high shipments to the east ostensibly are going to fresh-kill trade in New York and Philadelphia, meat industry men say.

The OPA some time ago interviewed stockyards traders and others, asking whether the beef purchased for shipment out of Chicago could be traced. They were told that every carcass could be traced thru stockyard company records to the individual buyer, who could be asked to describe its disposition. Whether this job has been undertaken has not been disclosed.

Despite the hue and cry of the OPA that black markets have been suppressed in New York it has been estimated by some authorities that about 20 per cent of the meat being shipped to the eastern seaboard is going into black markets.

Cite High Prices Paid.

The Chicago packers wonder how eastern meat buyers remain in business if they pay more for an animal than they can carve out of the carcass under office of price administration price ceilings.

A packer processing cattle for army consumption would lose $15 to $30 per animal if he bought the beef away from the eastern bidders, altho "some of them are taking that loss now," packers' representatives say.

Another factor indicating black market operations is the huge increase in the number of "country hides" reported and the corresponding decrease in packers' hides. The country hides are those sold by small town and country slaughterers, and the increase indicates possible black market operations are growing in the smaller communities.

Meanwhile, one meat industry representative disclosed that in Texas, while army camps are seeking beef, 100 carloads of cattle a month are moving from the western sections of the state to Louisiana, most of them to New Orleans, where there is no federally inspected packing industry.

This beef is denied to soldiers and sailors in the south because the army and navy demand that all meat products they buy must be federally inspected.

Face Man Power Problem.

To add to the confusion, Chicago packers are facing a man power crisis, with the prospect that by fall there may be thousands of animals waiting to be slaughtered with not sufficient men on the killing and cutting floors to handle them. The industry possibly could meet this problem by bringing women in on the killing and cutting floors as it has done in the canning jobs.

Kotal said that retail butchers are trying to "hang on" and stay in business despite hours of overtime, the multiplicity of New Deal regulations and the difficulties of ration banking. Chain store operators estimate that point rationing of meat is costing 16 million man hours per year in stores.

"I never have been in favor of a subsidy plan for reducing prices of meats, but our dealers are looking to the forthcoming subsidies to pay them something for the overtime they are putting in on ration coupons and reports," Kotal said.

MEAT BOARD TO SPLIT LAST WEEK'S OUTPUT AMONG FOUR GROUPS

MANY CANNING PLANTS SHUT IN WAGE MUDDLE

Corn Refining Periled

The corn refining industry, producer of starches, sirups, and sugars widely used in industry and for food purposes, is in imminent danger of having to shut down its dozen large plants in the middle west, the Corn Industries Research Foundation warned yesterday. The situation, according to the Foundation, is the result of almost complete stoppage of corn shipments to terminal markets so that refiners are unable to buy the necessary raw material for their operations.

New York, June 13 [Special].—The American Institute of Food Distribution today advised its 3,000 members that canners expect little relief from the new wage subsidy and are closing their plants thruout the country.

The institute told members, who include large canning and other food manufacturing organizations, chain store groups, banks, and food publications, that canneries have closed in Maryland, Texas, Indiana, and New York.

It added that canners in Washington and Oregon have told representatives in congress they cannot operate their plants unless Washington evolves some solution of their problems.

Labor Quits Plants.

"Labor is walking out of processing plants to get higher wages elsewhere," the institute said. "Maturing crops are being diverted to the fresh markets and to freezers and briners. Spinach is being dumped in some areas.

"Canners can expect little relief from the order that the Commodity Credit corporation subsidy to canners allow for increased wages. The subsidy is to apply to four major vegetable packs—corn, snap beans, tomatoes, and peas."

After advising its members that the subsidy order, issued by the office of economic stabilization, applies only to the part of the pack that will be sold to the government, the institute said wage increases will be permitted only after approval by the war labor board. If the increases are approved the subsidy may be paid at once.

Delay in Action Cited.

"The subsidy will be paid at the end of the year on an individual hardship appeal basis," the institute said. "This will be done after the canner's profits have been examined by the office of price administration, which at present says those profits cannot be higher than the 1936-'39 average.

"There can be serious delay in this procedure. It takes considerable time to clear one case, and almost 200 cases are awaiting WLB approval.

"Canners have no way of holding their labor while they await approval on higher wages. Much canning labor feels no resentment against the canner, but realizes that Washington delay and red tape are responsible for the situation."

The institute said there is no way of knowing what the subsidy will be, inasmuch as the OPA has not issued ceilings on the minor vegetables or on fruits.

STEEL EXPORTS MOUNTING, SAYS TRADE JOURNAL

Present indications are that third quarter exports of semi-finished steel items will be the heaviest in more than a year, "in sharp contrast with last fall when tonnage accumulated at ports was offered for sale and orders on mill books were canceled," the trade publication Steel said yesterday.

"Since then the quantity moved under lend-lease has been small, until late February when it started to increase. This resurgence of exports reflects the easier shipping situation as more vessels are clearing American ports and arriving safely."

PARACHUTES.

Has National Automotive Fibres, Inc., succeeded in getting war contracts to replace the business lost when automobile production was curtailed?—A.H.

Answer: National Automotive Fibres has obtained substantial orders for blankets, tarpaulins and other products requiring the fabrication of cloth. The company also has received large orders for parachutes, and this item now represents the major current activity. Since little of the company's equipment was suited to parachute manufacture, there was some delay in getting under way on this product, but National Automotive is now rated one of the large suppliers of parachutes.

Peacetime products of the company consist of textile specialties including seat cushions and backs, door panels, and upholstery materials for automobiles, carpets for home and automobile use, pads and batting for the upholstery trade, comforters, and cotton and rayon strainers for the dairy industry.

Earnings recovered sharply in the first quarter of 1943 to $337,574, equal to 60 cents a share on the common stock after allowing for preferred dividend requirements, against net of $25,606, equal to a deficit of 1 cent per common share, for the first three months of 1942.

	Net sales.	Net inc.	*Per com. sh.
1942	$18,646,408	$522,089	$ .78
1941	13,057,230	774,686	1.28
1940	8,986,531	802,408	1.33
1939	6,216,030	571,203	1.13
1938	4,021,730	135,773	.27

*After preferred dividend requirements.

Dividend payments to holders of the common amounted to 15 cents a share in 1942, comparing with 60 cents in 1941 and 70 cents in 1940. An initial dividend was paid on the common in November, 1937, but no further distribution was made until 1940.

Waive Credit Curb in Flood Stricken Area

Flood areas along the Wabash and Mississippi rivers in the 7th [Chicago] federal reserve district have been declared disaster areas by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago and exempted from the credit restrictions of regulation W. The regulation, a war time measure, greatly restricted terms of consumer credit, reducing the time a small loan could run and requiring larger down payments on instalment purchases than had prevailed.

Under the emergency action, inhabitants of the flood areas who require loans to repair or replace real or personal property damaged or lost as a result of the floods of last month are permitted to arrange such credit on any terms they can make with sellers or lenders.

Ask Written Statement.

Altho no regulation W requirements will be imposed, the bank urged that lenders retain in their files written evidence or a statement from the borrower showing that the loan or instalment sale was made to finance the repair or replacement of flood damaged or destroyed property.

The bank, in announcing the emergency action, did not set any time limit within which the affected borrowers must replace or repair their property to get exemption.

St. Louis Bank Also Acts.

Instead, it will put on the lenders and sellers the responsibility of determining whether the loan or credit is for the purposes covered in the exemption order. It will be necessary only for the borrower to convince the lender or seller that the transaction is of the kind justifying exemption.

Acting at the same time as the Chicago bank, the reserve banks of Kansas City and St. Louis ordered similar lifting of restrictions on credit in the flood areas of states in their districts.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., TRANSIT STRIKE HITS STEEL JOBS

Johnstown, Pa., June 13 (AP).—A strike of 275 street car operators and bus drivers in protest against a war labor board wage decision today threatened to tie up transportation of thousands of war workers to steel plants.

The men are members of the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street Railway and Motor Coach Employés. They voted to strike after their local president, Roy Williams, disclosed the WLB had decided on a minimum wage award of 72 cents an hour, eight cents less than that recommended by an arbitration panel.

Meanwhile, 22 bus drivers and mechanics of the Ohio River Motor Coach company at Pittsburgh who walked out Saturday were told by their union business agent to return to work tomorrow or face ouster from the union.

Utility System to File Plan to Reduce Debts

New York, June 13 (AP).—Trustees for Associated Gas & Electric company and Associated Gas & Electric corporation said today a joint plan of reorganization would be filed Monday with the securities and exchange commission.

Under the plan, the trustees said, the basic purpose is to substitute securities in a solvent reorganized company for claims against the two concerns. During reconstruction, they added, the reorganized company "should be able in the meantime to pay some income currently to its security holders."

Plans Debt of 11 Millions.

The plan proposes a new senior debt issue of about 11 million dollars to provide cash for the reorganization and for a series of steps in connection with the major subsidiary, NY PA NJ Utilities company.

Holders of present outstanding bond issues of the two top companies other than the corporation 8s of '40, would receive common stock. Holders of the 8s would receive either new debentures or securities of some present subsidiary company of the Associated system.

Assumes Tax Settlement.

The trustees, in offering the plan, said they were assuming the United States treasury would settle its tax claims for 1934-39 at a proposed figure of $750,000.

Total assets of the surviving company, after reserves, would amount to $104,822,000, the statement said.

EXPECT UNIONS TO ASK VETO OF NO-STRIKE BILL

President May Get Measure Today.

Washington, D. C., June 13 (AP).—Organized labor is expected to make direct demands to President Roosevelt that he veto the bill to outlaw strikes in government operated war factories and curb walkouts in privately controled industries.

The bill received final congressional approval last night, and it is expected to be signed by House Speaker Sam Rayburn and Vice President Henry Wallace tomorrow and put on Mr. Roosevelt's desk.

Generally, speculation at the capitol was that the bill would become law, either by the President's signature or by allowing it to become law without his signature after the 10 day interim provided for in the Constitution.

Statement Expected.

There was a definite probability that whatever course he chooses, Mr. Roosevelt would have something to say about it. Even should he allow it to become an act without his signature it was believed likely he would make a statement. He took that course several weeks ago when he registered a protest against a rider to the debt limit increase bill which cancelled his salary limitation order.

If the bill is to become law before the current truce in the soft coal dispute expires at midnight next Saturday, the President will have to sign it.

Officials of the Congress of Industrial Organizations and of the American Federation of Labor said they expected their organizations to write the President immediately urging him to veto the measure.

Lewis Has No Comment.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, had no immediate comment on the passage of the bill. In the senate debate yesterday, Sen. Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] said congress never would have considered the legislation had it not been for the "offense of John L. Lewis in defying the constituted authority of this country in war time."

One of the provisions of the measure gives to the war labor board the power of subpena. Any person convicted of instigating or encouraging a strike in a government operated plant would be subject to criminal penalties up to $5,000 fine and a year in jail. In the case of violation of the section covering privately operated plants, the offender would be subject to civil damage suit.

DAY BY DAY ON THE FARM

The FARM by Ben Markland

June 13, 1943.

A PAIR of mules are giving the men on the Wheaton farm an abundance of trouble and plenty of laughs. These educated animals, Kate and Jenny, have learned such tricks as turning on the lights in the barn, opening their stall doors, and unfastening latched doors. On several occasions they have turned on the water faucet.

All season, the flockmaster has been devising new methods of outwitting Kate and Jenny. The entrances to their stalls inside the sheep barn have sliding doors, and the two mules learned to nudge the doors with their noses until the doors slid far enough for them to escape. Then, to get out of the barn, Kate would get her nose under the door latch and lift it out of the hook. On several occasions, the flockmaster looked out of his bedroom window on moonlight nights and saw the two mules romping delightedly around the yard.

Mulish Mischief.

Nudging of various gadgets inside the barn has become quite a game with the mules. The water connection that feeds the troughs inside the sheep barn is operated with a large two handled faucet. Kate and Jenny have nuzzled the faucet several times, starting the water, which overflowed the trough and flooded a corner of the barn.

The pipe that holds the light switch against a barn rafter is out of commission and almost ready to fall to the floor because of the mules' habit of constantly rubbing their noses against the switch. Before they ruined the connection, the flockmaster walked into the barn several mornings to find that Kate and Jenny had done him the favor of turning on the lights.

Peacock Alarm.

Now, in order to keep the mules under control, the flockmaster latches their stall doors with wire and takes other precautions such as putting a milk pail over the water faucet. Kate and Jenny probably resent these deterrents as infringements on their freedom, but the flockmaster has been sleeping better because he has installed "mule proof" devices.

Thus the mules were restrained, but as yet no one has devised a system for keeping the farm peacock from sounding off in the middle of the night. One of the men was telling us the other day that this handsome bird isn't particular about his crowing hours.

When all the farm residents, including the poultry and live stock, have retired for the night, the peacock may get the inspiration to do a little of his particular brand of singing. One family living more than a quarter of a mile from the peacock's barnyard headquarters heard him exercising his vocal chords about 3 o'clock one morning last week.

★ The GARDEN ★

THE COOL, damp weather of this spring has been favorable for the development of cabbage maggots. These tiny white grubs ruined a short row of radishes in the small garden two weeks ago, and now are attacking the roots of the cauliflower plants in the large garden.

The cabbage maggot may attack radishes or any member of the cabbage family. They are easily identified since they are small and white and burrow ridges in the roots. If cabbage or cauliflower plants in the garden are stunted or wilted, the gardener should pull a few plants to see if cabbage maggots are working on the roots.

The only treatment for cabbage maggots is corrosive sublimate [mercuric chloride] mixed in proportion of one ounce to 10 gallons of water. The stem of each affected plant, as well as the soil around it, should be thoroly moistened with this solution. If the weather remains cool and damp, a second dose may be necessary.

Caution should be exercised in the use of corrosive sublimate, since is it a virulent poison. Unless the stand of radishes is large, it should not be used on this vegetable.

ACCOUNTANTS
A national firm of public accountants has several positions offering exceptional opportunities to accountants who have had extensive experience in public accounting work in either commercial or utility audits.

The initial compensation will be attractive to high caliber men who are qualified to supervise the work of assistants, write reports, etc. Appropriate advancement will reward proven ability.

We also would like to interview college graduates [accounting majors] who are draft exempt and who wish to enter the accounting profession.

Application letters should contain information as to age, education, draft status, etc., and reasonably complete details as to accounting and other qualifications.

No inquiries will be made of present employers or references until after a personal interview, which will be held with all applicants whose replies indicate that they meet our requirements.
ADDRESS D B 452, TRIBUNE.

So you want training in Personal Work

Then you want to become part of our PERSONNEL DEPT. Why do our workers take pride in their jobs? Why have we won the Army-Navy "E" award? Why, even in this tight labor market, do workers prefer to come to us and what's more important, stay with us? One reason is this, we have an outstanding Personnel Staff having the ability and techniques for carrying out the policies of a democratic management.

As an assistant in this dept. you'll learn methods that are proving their worth today and will be basic in industry after the war.

INCOME TAXES
DUE JUNE 15
Higher living costs and larger pay roll deductions may make it difficult for you to pay the 2d installment of your Federal Income Taxes on June 15th. If so, get the cash you need from Commonwealth. Our monthly rate is only 3% on balances of $150 or less, and 2½% on that part of the unpaid balance over $150, which makes the cost quite moderate for short term loans. Repay us in convenient installments . . . it is decidedly more convenient and far less burdensome than making a large lump sum payment, and, besides, you can rid yourself of other troublesome bills at the same time. Get any amount, $20 to $300.

First Photos of Pantelleria Show Bomb Wreckage—White Cross Indicates Island's Surrender to Allies
